Fire-stops made of incombustible materials shall be placed at every floor, between the studding or furring of all external walls, and in all main and stair-case partitions, and around all chimneys, to prevent the passage of fire from one story to another.

SECTION VII.—GUARDS TO PIPES FOR SMOKE, HOT AIR, ETC., AND PROTECTION OF WOOD-WORK ABOUT SAME.

No smoke pipes shall pass through a stud or wooden partition of any kind, whether the same be plastered or not, without being guarded either by a double collar of metal, with at least four inches of air space and holes for ventilation, or by a soapstone ring or casing of brick not less than three inches in thickness, and extending through the partition. No wood-work shall be placed at a less distance than one inch from any tin or other metal flue or pipe used, or intended to be used, to convey heated air, unless such flue or pipe be cased with metal, leaving a free circulation of air all around the same.

SMOKE PIPES OF ALL FURNACES.

The smoke pipes of any hot-air, steam, hot-water or other furnace passing beneath wooden beams or ceilings, shall be kept at least eighteen inches therefrom, or the wood-work shall be protected by a tin shield suspended at least two inches below said beams or ceiling, in which case the pipe may be placed within eight inches of the beam or ceiling.

The floors of rooms containing stationary boilers shall be made of incombustible material for at least five feet in front, and for such distance on the sides and rear as may be required by the inspector of buildings. Wooden floors under portable boilers shall have close protection of incombustible material.

The provisions of this whole section shall apply to buildings already erected, if found necessary, and ordered after examination of the premises, by the inspector of buildings.

SECTION VIII.—INSPECTION AND SURVEY OF BUILDINGS.

The Selectmen shall annually, in April, appoint an inspector of buildings for the term of one year from the first day of May following, or until another is appointed in his stead. His salary or compensation shall be such as the town from time to time may vote. He shall be a man who is not employed or engaged in any other business, or be interested in any contract for building or for furnishing materials. He shall keep a record of the business of said department; submit to the Selectmen a yearly report of such business; ascertain all facts and make all returns which shall be required by law relative to steam boilers or other matters connected with his department, and enter upon the premises wherein any fire has occurred, if necessary, in order to investigate the origin of the fire. He shall grant permits for the erection or alteration of buildings, but no such permit shall be issued until the inspector has carefully examined the plans and specifications of the proposed building or alteration, and ascertained that the building has sufficient strength, and that the means of ingress and egress are sufficient. A copy of the plans and specifications of every public building shall be deposited in the office of the inspector.

INSPECTOR TO EXAMINE BUILDINGS BEING ERECTED, REPAIRED, ETC.

The inspector of buildings shall examine all buildings in the course of erection, alteration or repair, as often as practicable, and for that purpose shall have the right of entry thereto, and shall make a record of all violations of this By-Law, together with the location of the building where such violations are found, the name of the owner, lessee, occupants, architect and master mechanic, and all other matters relative thereto.

INSPECTOR TO EXAMINE ALL BUILDINGS REPORTED DANGEROUS, ETC.

The said inspector shall examine all buildings reported dangerous, or damaged by accident or fire, and make a record of such examinations, including the nature and amount of such damage, with the location of the building, the name of the owner and lessee, and for what purpose occupied, and report the facts to the Board of Selectmen.

INSPECTOR SHALL EXAMINE BUILDINGS TO BE RAISED, ETC.

He shall examine all buildings under applications to raise, enlarge, alter or build upon, and make a record of the same. These records shall always be open to the inspection of the engineers of the fire department or any officer of the town.

SECTION IX.—WHAT ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS ARE SUBJECT TO THIS BY-LAW.

Any alteration or addition to any building already erected, or hereafter to be built, except necessary repairs not affecting the construction of the external or party walls, chimneys or stairways, shall, to the extent of such work, be subject to the regulations of this By-Law.

No building already erected, or hereafter built, shall be raised or built up in such manner that, were such building wholly built or constructed after the passage of this By-Law it would be in violation of any provision thereof.

NOTICE TO BE FILED OF INTENDED ALTERATIONS.

Every person intending to build or make any alterations in the external or party walls of any building, shall, before commencing the same, file an application for a building permit with the inspector of buildings, giving a description of the intended building or alterations. No permit issued by such inspector, whether for a new building or for alterations, shall be in force for a longer time than one year.

SECTION X.—PENALTY FOR VIOLATION.

Whoever violates any of the provisions of the preceding sections of this By-Law, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars for each offence.

SECTION XI.—APPLICATIONS FOR LINES AND GRADE.

No person shall proceed to erect or make alterations in the location or grade of any fence, wall, or building, which is to abut upon any public street, lane, square or alley, without first applying to the Selectmen for the lines and grade of the street, lane, square or alley, upon which he intends to build. Such application shall be made in writing, at least seven days before the work is begun, and the Selectmen shall, within said time, furnish the required lines and grades, without charge, if in their power so to do.

In default of such application, such persons shall be held to have waived all claim to damages resulting from such default. All buildings abutting upon the line of any public street or way, shall be kept provided with suitable water-tight metallic or wooden leaders, for conducting the water from the roof to the ground, and all water shall be conducted from such buildings to the street gutter, or sewer, in such manner as not to flow upon the sidewalk.

SECTION XII.—ENCROACHMENTS UPON STREET LIMITS.

Whenever the Selectmen ascertain that any structure, placed in violation of the preceding section, encroaches upon the limits of the street, lane, square, or alley upon which said structure abuts, they shall forthwith issue an order to the party offending, directing that the structure be removed within the time therein specified, and in case of non-compliance, the Selectmen shall cause the incumbrance to be removed at the expense of the delinquent.

SECTION XIII.—PENALTY FOR VIOLATION.

Whoever violates the provisions of either of the two preceding sections shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

By-Law in Relation to Plumbing.

SECTION 1. No person shall do or carry on the business of plumbing in this town unless he shall first have registered his name and place of business in the office of the Board of Health, and have been duly licensed so to do; and notice of any change in the place of business of a registered plumber shall be immediately given to said board.

SECT. 2. Every plumber, before doing any work in a building shall, except in the case of the repair of leaks, file at the office of the said Board of Health, upon blanks to be provided for the purpose, a notice of the work to be performed; and no such work shall be done in any building except in accordance with plans which shall be approved by the Board of Health, or by the inspector of buildings, or by such other officer as said board shall designate.

SECT. 3. Every building shall be separately and independently connected with the public sewer, when such sewer is provided; and if such sewer is not provided, with a cesspool constructed of such material and capacity as shall be approved by said Board of Health, or by the inspector of buildings, or by such other officer as said board shall designate.

SECT. 4. Drains and soil pipes through which sewerage is carried shall be of iron when within a building, and for a distance of not less than three feet outside of the foundation walls thereof. They shall be sound, free from holes and other defects, of a uniform thickness of not less than one-eighth of an inch for a diameter of four inches or less, or five thirty-seconds of an inch for a diameter of five or six inches, with a proportional increase of thickness for greater diameter. They shall be securely ironed to timbers by strong iron hangers, or laid in trenches beneath the basement or cellar floor, as the Board of Health, or the inspector of buildings, or such other officer as said board shall designate, may direct. They shall be supplied with a trap, placed with an accessible clean-out either outside or inside the foundation wall of the building. There must be a fresh-air inlet pipe entering the drain on the house-side of the main trap, as near said trap as possible. They shall have a proper fall towards the drain or sewer, and the soil pipe shall be carried out through the roof, open and undiminished in size, to such height as may be directed by the said Board, but no soil pipe shall be carried to a height less than two feet above the roof, except where such pipe passes through the ridge. Changes in direction shall be made with curved pipes, and connections with horizontal pipes shall be made with Y branches. From a point three feet outside the building to the sewer or cesspool, the drain may be of extra heavy iron soil pipe or best quality vitrified drain pipe.

SECT. 5. Rain-water leaders when connected with soil or drain pipes shall be suitably trapped, and the traps kept full of water at all times.

SECT. 6. Sewer, soil-pipe, or waste-pipe ventilators shall not be constructed of brick, sheet metal, or earthenware; and chimney flues shall not be used as such ventilators.

SECT. 7. Iron pipes, before being put in place, shall be first tested by the water or kerosene test, and then coated inside and out with coal-tar pitch, applied hot, or with paint, or with some equivalent substance; but no factory-tarred pipe or fittings shall be used unless the same have been examined and approved by the inspector of plumbing. Joints shall be run with molten lead and thoroughly caulked and made tight. Connections of lead pipes with iron pipes shall be made with brass ferrules, properly soldered and caulked to the iron.

SECT. 8. Every sink, basin, bath tub, slop hopper, and each set of wash trays, and every fixture having a waste pipe shall be furnished with a trap, which shall be placed as near as practicable to the fixture that it serves. Traps shall be protected from siphonage or air pressure by special air pipes of a size not less than the waste pipe; but air pipes for water closet traps shall be of not less than two-inch bore for thirty feet or less, and of not less than three-inch bore for more than thirty feet. But such special air pipes shall not be required where the trap is situated on the top floor and connected with a vertical soil pipe extending through the roof of full size to the open air, unless the branch connecting the trap with the main shaft is more than three feet in length. Air pipes shall be run as direct as practicable, and shall be of not less than four-inch bore where they pass through the roof, and shall not be covered by a cowl or cap. Two or more air pipes may be connected together or with a soil pipe, but in every case of connection with soil pipe such connection shall be above the upper fixture of the building. If such air pipes from separate traps connect with a main air pipe, or upper part of main soil pipe, or with another branch air pipe, such connection shall always be above the level of the outlet of the fixture to which such trap is attached.

The above section shall not be enforced to require the application of separate air pipes to each trap in buildings constructed prior to the passage of this By-Law, when old fixtures are replaced by new ones, in case of traps attached to bath tubs, lavatory basins, sinks and wash trays, provided some style of trap be used more secure against siphonage than ordinary S traps, and provided the branch wastes into which such traps deliver are not over three feet in length between such traps and the main soil pipe or drain, and provided also that such main soil pipe extends to the open air through the roof of full size.

SECT. 9.—Drip or overflow pipes from safes under water closets and other fixtures, or from tanks or cisterns shall be run to some place in open sight; and in no case shall any such pipe be connected directly with a drain, waste pipe, or soil pipe.

SECT. 10. Waste pipes from refrigerators or other receptacles in which provisions are stored shall not be connected with a drain, soil pipe or other waste pipes, unless such waste pipes are provided with traps, suitably ventilated, and in every case there shall be an open tray between the trap and the refrigerator.

SECT. 11. Every water closet or line of water closets, on the same floor, shall be supplied with water from a tank or cistern, and the flushing pipe shall not be less than one inch in diameter; but this requirement shall not apply to water closets substituted for vaults where the same are located outside of the building proper, and water closets may be arranged so as to receive their supply directly from the main, with such fixtures as shall be approved by the Water Board and the Board of Health.

SECT. 12. Drain and waste pipes and other fixtures shall not be covered or concealed from view until after the work has been examined by the said Board of Health, or by the inspector of buildings, or by such other officer as said board shall designate, and he shall be notified by the plumber when the work is sufficiently advanced for inspection, and all covering shall be removable for repairs or inspection.

SECT. 13. Plumbing work shall not be used unless the same has first been tested by the said board, or by the inspector of buildings, or by such other officer as said board shall designate, with peppermint, ether, or water test, and by him or them found satisfactory.

SECT. 14. No steam exhaust shall be connected with any soil or waste pipe, or drain which communicates with a public sewer.

SECT. 15. Vaults or privies shall not be allowed in premises that are accessible to the sewer, without a special permit from the Board of Health.

SECT. 16. Water Closets. Every building must be provided with a suitable water closet or privy. Every dwelling house must have at least one water closet or privy for every two families, and in no case will more than two families be allowed to use one and the same water closet or privy.

SECT. 17. Whoever violates any of the provisions of this By-Law shall be punished by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars for each offence.

Voted, To adopt the foregoing By-Laws.

Voted, That the Moderator and Town Clerk prepare and present the foregoing By-Laws to the Superior Court for approval.

ording to law upon all such parties by a constable of this town at least seven days before the day appointed for the hearing, and having also given notice to them and all other parties (if any) who may be interested in the subject-matter of said street whose names are not known to us or who have no place of abode in the town, or who have no tenant or authorized agent known to us, by posting up a copy of the printed and written notices in three public places in the town at least seven days before the day appointed for the hearing :

Pursuant to such notice we met at the time and place appointed for the hearing, and after hearing the parties and their remarks and objections, and the route of the street having been viewed and examined by us, do adjudge that it is necessary for the public convenience that a street leading from Washington Street to Kent Street should be laid out, under the provisions of law authorizing the assessment of betterments, and maintained by the town, as hereinafter described, viz: Commencing at the intersection of the easterly line of Washington Street and the northerly line of Station Yard as now located, and running easterly by the northerly line of said Station Yard about 459 feet to land of James A. APRIL 22, 1889.

WARRANT.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

NORFOLK, SS.

To either of the Constables of the Town of Brookline, Greeting:—

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, you are required to notify and warn the inhabitants of the town of Brookline, qualified to vote in elections, to meet at the Town Hall in said town, on Monday, the twenty-second day of April, current, as required by Chapter 41 of the Acts of 1889, at one o'clock in the afternoon, at which time the polls will be opened and kept open until six o'clock, then and there to give in their votes by ballot for or against the Article of Amendment of the Constitution forbidding the manufacture and sale of Intoxicating Liquors to be used as a beverage.

The ballots to be used have been furnished by the State in accordance with the Act.

Hereof fail not, and make due return of this warrant with your doings thereon, to the Selectmen, four days at least before the day of said meeting.

Given under our hands at Brookline aforesaid, this fifteenth day of April, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and eighty-nine.

ALBERT L. LINCOLN, JR.,

WATTS H. BOWKER,

TUCKER DALAND,

WALSTEIN R. CHESTER.

HORACE JAMES,

Selectmen of the Town of Brookline.

NORFOLK, SS.

BROOKLINE, April 22, 1889.

In pursuance of the within warrant, I have notified and warned the inhabitants of the town of Brookline, qualified to vote in elections, to meet at the time and place, and for the purposes named, by causing an attested copy of the same to be left at their last and usual place of abode; and also, by posting attested copies of the same in three or more public places in said Brookline, all of which was done four days at least before the day of said meeting.

W. Y. Gross, Constable.

In pursuance of the foregoing warrant, the inhabitants of the town of Brookline, qualified to vote in elections, met in the Town Hall in said town, on Monday, the twenty-second day of April, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and eighty-nine, and were called to order by Albert L. Lincoln, Jr., chairman of the Selectmen, at one of the clock in the afternoon. The Town Clerk then read the warrant calling said meeting, and the return thereon of the officer who served the same upon the inhabitants.

In pursuance of the provisions of chapter 41, of the laws of 1889, the Selectmen appointed Thomas S. Brown and Thomas J. Cusick, to act as tellers, one of whom was publicly known to be in favor, and the other opposed to the proposed amendment; and they were sworn by the Town Clerk.

In pursuance of the laws of this Commonwealth, the ballot box to be used at elections was then opened in public meeting, and shown to be empty, and was examined by the Selectmen and Town Clerk, and found to be empty.

The register of the box was then set at zero (0) and locked, and the key of the lower part was delivered to Mr. Willard Y. Gross, the constable in charge of the meeting, and the key of the upper part to Mr. Albert L. Lincoln, Jr., chairman of the Selectmen.

The polls were then declared open for the reception of votes, and were kept open until six of the clock in the afternoon, when, after due notice, they were declared closed.

During the voting the ballot box and list of voters were in charge of the Selectmen and Town Clerk. The Selectmen and Town Clerk, assisted by the tellers above named, had charge of the meeting, and during the time of voting the ballot box was, by unanimous consent, opened several times for the purpose of making room in the box and counting the votes, and again at the close of the polls, when the register stood at one thousand and seventeen (1017). During the voting the box failed to take in the ticket by reason of its crumpled condition, seven times. The names on the list of voters which had been checked were then counted, and the whole number was one thousand and ten, which was found to agree with the register on the box, after deducting the seven times which the box failed to take in, but registered the number of the same.

The Selectmen and Town Clerk then proceeded to assist in canvassing the votes given in, and the whole number was one thousand and ten, which were sorted, counted, and recorded, and declaration thereof made in open town meeting as required by law, and were as follows, to wit: Amendment to the Constitution—Yes, three hundred and fourteen; Amendment to the Constitution—No, six hundred and ninety-six.

In voting, the check-list was used, and no person was allowed to deposit his vote until his name had been found on the list, and checked.

The business of the meeting having been accomplished, the returns were filled up, signed by the Selectmen, countersigned by the Town Clerk, and sealed up in open town meeting, as required by law, and delivered to the Town Clerk to forward to its place of destination.

The votes cast, and the list of voters used at the polls, were then sealed up, endorsed by the Selectmen, and delivered into the custody of the Town Clerk, in conformity with the law in such cases made and provided.

The meeting was then declared dissolved, by Albert L. Lincoln, Jr., Esq., chairman of the Board of Selectmen.

Dissolved.

Pursuant to such notice, we met at the time and place appointed for the hearing, and after hearing the parties and their remarks and objections, and the route of the proposed street having been viewed and examined by us, after fully considering the subject, adjudged that it was necessary for the public convenience that a street should be laid out and maintained by the town, as hereinafter described by its centre line.

Commencing at a point situated on the easterly side of High Street 44.96 feet northerly from the stone monument marking the angle near the boundary line between the lands of the Brookline Land Company and heirs of W. S. Wilson, and running south $65^{\circ} 5'$ east for a distance of 151.28 feet. Thence curving to the right with a radius of 95.93 feet and running 110.22 feet. Thence running south $0^{\circ} 45'$ west for a distance of 501.40 feet. Thence curving to the left with a radius of 1,000 feet and running 137.35 feet. Thence running south $7^{\circ} 9'$ east for a distance of 226.07 feet, to the northwesterly line of Pond Avenue, and taking a parallel width of 20 feet on each side of the centre line.

The intersection of the side lines with High Street are curved with a radius of 20 feet.

The northeasterly corner of Jamaica Road and Pond Avenue is curved with a radius of 20 feet, and the northwesterly corner of said road and said avenue is curved with a radius of 56 feet,—and taking land as follows: From the Brookline Land Company about 45,550 square feet.

The location of said Jamaica and Highland roads is in accordance with a plan and profile of the same made by Alexis H. French, C. E., dated June 27th, 1889, approved by us, and such plan and profile are adopted by us as a part of this record.

No awards are made; the owners of the land abutting upon said street or way and of the fee of the land over which said street or way is laid out, in consideration of the laying out of the same and its acceptance by the town, agree to waive all claims to land or grade damages. The said street having been constructed by the abutters may be entered upon at once for use and travel.

And said street or way so laid out, located and described, is hereby reported to the town for acceptance, and when so accepted, allowed and recorded, is to be known as a townway.

The said plan and profile, with this record and the releases herein referred to, have this day been filed in the office of the Town Clerk.

Thirteenth Article taken up,—“To hear and act upon the reports of town officers and committees.”

The committee to whom was referred the thirteenth article in the warrant for the last annual town meeting, March 27th, 1889, to wit:—“To see if the town will accept an Act passed by the Legislature of the Commonwealth in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, entitled: An Act authorizing towns and cities to lay out public parks within their limits,”—reported that upon examination they found that the provisions of the Act referred to required that notice of the town’s action thereon must be given seven days prior to such action, and that in case the meeting should fail “through illegality or irregularity in the proceedings,” no other meeting could be had for the purpose of voting on the subject within twelve months; that the last annual meeting was called under the town’s by-laws, which require only four days’ notice, so that the town could not have legally accepted said Act, and that it was doubtful if the town could accept the Act before twelve months from the annual town meeting of March, 1889, and that in view of the great importance of the town’s action in this matter, and the grave consequences which might result from any false steps taken therein, the committee recommend that no action be taken by the town at present or until the lapse of twelve months from the annual meeting of March 27th, 1889.

Voted, To accept the report, and that the committee be discharged.

The Board of Trustees of the Public Library, to whom were referred the by-laws in relation to the Public Library, reported the following regulations, to wit:

ARTICLE I.—THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

SECTION 1. There shall be a board of twelve trustees, four of whom shall be elected by ballot annually, at the annual town meeting, to hold office for three years thereafter, or until their successors shall be chosen.

SECT. 2. The officers of the board of trustees shall consist of a chairman, a secretary and a treasurer.

SECT. 3. The trustees shall hold regular meetings on the third Tuesday of every month except August.

SECT. 4. The chairman shall call a special meeting of the board at the written request of any two members, provided the request shall state the object of the meeting, and he may at any time call a special meeting at his own discretion. All meetings shall be seasonably notified by the secretary, in writing.

SECT. 5. The standing committees of the board shall consist of a library committee of four members, of whom the chairman of the board shall be one; and of a committee on accounts, of three members. These committees shall at all times be under the control and direction of the board. It shall be the duty of the committee on the library to recommend to the board from time to time such books as it may be desirable to purchase or exchange; to make such purchases and exchanges of books as the board may authorize; to direct in regard to the binding and covering of books and their preparation for circulation; to determine, subject to the sanction of the board, what books shall be used only for reference, and to impose such other restrictions on the use of the books as in their judgment may be expedient, subject to the sanction aforesaid; to see that the regulations relative to the library are complied with; to see that proper books and forms are prepared for the use of the librarian; to superintend the printing of such catalogues and books for the library as the board may direct, and to have the general charge and direction of the library and library building. It shall be the duty of the committee on accounts to examine all bills against the library, and if correct to approve the same.

SECT. 6. At the first regular meeting in April, the officers and the standing committees of the board shall be chosen by vote, and they shall, respectively, continue to hold office until their successors are appointed. If any vacancy shall occur during the year, it may be filled at any regular meeting.

SECT. 7. A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business; and any number may adjourn a meeting when a quorum is not present.

SECT. 8. No book, pamphlet, work of art, or other property whatsoever, offered by any person to the library, shall be accepted and placed therein except by express vote of the board; a notice of acceptance shall then be sent to the giver, with suitable acknowledgment.

SECT. 9. All duplicate books, pamphlets and articles belonging to the library may be exchanged at any time, at the discretion of the trustees.

ARTICLE II.—THE LIBRARY.

SECTION 1. Any inhabitant of the town of Brookline who shall sign an obligation to observe the regulations of the library, shall have the right to take books therefrom so long as he or she shall comply with the regulations.

SECT. 2. No person, except by vote of the trustees, shall be allowed to take from the library at any one time more than one volume; provided, however, that two volumes of any work consisting of more than one volume may be taken out at one time. No book may be kept out of the library more than fourteen days, except by the permission of the trustees, and the trustees may limit the time, during which any book may be kept out, to seven days. Any book may be renewed once to the same person, but not more than once, until it shall have remained in the library one full library day. A fine shall be imposed for the retention of any volume beyond the time specified, of two cents for every day that it is so retained.

SECT. 3. Any book retained one week beyond the time prescribed by these regulations shall be sent for by the librarian, and the expense incurred in obtaining it shall be paid by the person retaining it.

SECT. 4. All injuries to books, beyond a reasonable wear, and all losses, shall be made good by the person liable, to the satisfaction of the committee on the library; and any book not returned within one week after demand made by the librarian, shall be regarded as lost. If any book is lost, the person by whom it was taken out shall pay such sum as the committee on the library shall determine, or replace the book; or if it be one of a set, he shall pay the price of the set and take the remaining volumes, if the committee on the library shall so determine.

SECT. 5. All books may be required to be returned to the library fourteen days before any examination, under penalty of a fine of one dollar; but reasonable notice of the time should be given by the librarian.

SECT. 6. No person having a book from the library shall lend it to a person not of the same household. No person owing a fine shall receive books from the library until the same is paid.

SECT. 7. Every person desiring to take books from the library for home use, shall receive from the librarian a library card, also a printed slip on which the book asked for shall be designated, and the number of the shelf upon which it stands, in blanks left for the purpose; and this slip, which must be presented to the librarian as the only mode of obtaining any book which may be asked for, will be retained until the book is returned by the borrower.

SECT. 8. Books of reference, and those deemed by the board unsuitable for general circulation, shall not be taken out of the library except by an order signed by at least two trustees.

SECT. 9. All persons visiting the library building will be required to conduct themselves quietly, and to avoid all unnecessary conversation. Any person abusing the privilege of the library by improper or offensive conduct may be denied admission to the building for such period as the trustees may determine.

SECT. 10. The library building shall be open every day in the year except Sundays and legal holidays, and such other days as the board shall determine; and during such hours as the trustees shall from time to time fix by vote.

ARTICLE III.—THE LIBRARIAN.

The librarian, under the direction of the committee on the library, shall have the charge and superintendence of the library and library building, and shall be responsible for the care and keeping of the books and other public property therein. He shall note in a record to be kept for the purpose, the time when each book was received, its cost (if purchased), the name of its giver (if a gift), and any other facts relating to it which the trustees may direct, which record shall be called the "Catalogue of Acces-

He shall cause a book-plate to be attached to each volume belonging to the library, noting on it the date of the receipt of the book; if a gift, the name of the giver, and the number it bears on the catalogue of accessions. He shall permit no book to be used until it shall have been entered in the catalogue of accessions. He shall, when required to do so by the trustees, call in all books that are out and make an examination of all the books and other property of the library. He shall on the first day of February in each year present to the trustees a detailed report of its condition and of its circulation, together with such other facts, and such suggestions, as he may deem of importance. ALBERT L. LINCOLN, JR.,

WATTS H. BOWKER,

TUCKER DALAND,

W. R. CHESTER,

HORACE JAMES,

Selectmen of the Town of Brookline.

NORFOLK, SS.

BROOKLINE, Nov. 1st, 1889.

In pursuance of the within warrant I have notified the inhabitants of Brookline, qualified to vote in elections, to meet at the time and place, and for the purposes herein named, by causing a printed copy of the same to be left at their last and usual place of abode; and also by posting printed copies of the same in three or more public places in said Brookline, all of which was done four days at least before the day of said meeting.

W. Y. GROSS, Constable.

In pursuance of the foregoing warrant the inhabitants of the town of Brookline, qualified to vote in elections, met in the Town Hall in said town, on Tuesday, the fifth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, it being the Tuesday next after the first Monday in said month, and were called to order at seven of the clock in the forenoon, by Mr. Albert L. Lincoln, Jr., chairman of the Board of Selectmen. The Town Clerk then read the warrant calling said meeting, and the return thereon of the officer who served the same upon the inhabitants.

In pursuance of, and in conformity with the laws of this Commonwealth in relation to elections, the Town Hall had been fitted up as a polling place, a space railed off and thirty shelves or compartments provided for the use and convenience of the voters to examine and mark their ballots, and each compartment was supplied with suitable supplies and conveniences for marking the ballots.

The ballot clerks, Messrs. Edward W. Baker and William H. White, who had been duly sworn to the faithful discharge of their duty, were then stationed at the entrance to the polling place and were furnished with a list of the registered voters of the town. One package of the ballots supplied by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, marked, "First set, three thousand seven hundred ballots, Town of Brookline," was then delivered to the chairman of the Selectmen who presided at the election, by the Town Clerk, who took his receipt therefor. He then publicly broke the seal, opened the package, and delivered them to the ballot clerks. The tickets of instructions were then posted in each compartment, for the use and information of the voters; the cards of instructions and specimen ballots were also posted in three different parts of the room outside of the railing. The ballot box to be used at elections was then opened in public meeting and shown to be empty, and was examined by the Selectmen and Town Clerk and found to be empty.

The register of the box was then set at zero (0) and locked; the key of the lower part was then delivered to Mr.

Willard Y. Gross, the constable in charge of the meeting, and the key of the upper part to Mr. Albert L. Lincoln, Jr., chairman of the Board of Selectmen.

The chairman of the Selectmen appointed as tellers to assist the Selectmen in sorting and counting the votes, Messrs. Edwin P. Bowker, John J. McNamara, Charles S. Spaulding, and D. Blakely Hoar, and they were sworn to the faithful discharge of their duty by the Town Clerk.

The polls were then declared open for the reception of votes, and were kept open until thirty minutes past four of the clock in the afternoon, when, after due notice, they were declared closed.

During the voting the ballot box and check list were in charge of the Selectmen and Town Clerk. The Selectmen and Town Clerk had charge of the election, and during the time of voting the ballot box, by unanimous consent, was opened three times for the purpose of making room in the box and counting the votes, and again at the close of the polls, when the register stood at one thousand two hundred and eighty (1,280). During the voting the box had failed to take in the ticket six (6) times by reason of its crumpled condition, but registered the numbers. The names of those on the list of voters which had been checked were then counted, and the whole number was one thousand two hundred and seventy-four, which was found to agree with the register on the ballot box, after deducting the six which the box had failed to take in, but registered the numbers of the same.

The list used by the ballot clerks at the entrance to the voting place was then compared with the one kept by the Town Clerk at the ballot box, and they were found to agree.

The Selectmen, Town Clerk and tellers then proceeded to canvass the votes given in, and the whole number was one thousand two hundred and seventy-four, which were sorted, counted and recorded, and declaration thereof made in open town meeting as required by law, and were for the following state, county and district officers, viz :

I wish, however, the retaining wall to be made as low as possible and support the bank.

The undersigned, Selectmen of Brookline, having given printed and written notices to the City of Boston, Goddard Land Co, and Andrew C. Wheelwright, being all the parties known to us to be interested in the subject-matter of the street to be laid out, that we intend to lay out a street fifty feet in width from Sumner Road to Boylston Street, over the location of the Boston Aqueduct through land of the Goddard Land Co., such notice requiring such parties to appear before us in our room at the Town Hall, on Tuesday, the eighteenth day of June, 1889, at one-half past 5 o'clock in the afternoon; and having caused such notices to be actually served according to law upon all such parties by a constable of this town at least seven days before the day so appointed for the hearing, and having also given notice to them and all other persons (if any) who may be interested in the subject-matter of said street whose names are not known to us or who have no place of abode in the town, or who have no tenant or authorized agent known to us, by posting up copies of the printed and written notice in three public places in the town at least seven days before the day so appointed for the hearing:

Pursuant to such notice we met at the time and place appointed for the hearing, and having heard the parties and their remarks and objections and the route of the proposed street having been viewed and examined by us, after fully considering the subject adjudged that it was necessary for the public convenience that a street should be laid out and maintained by the town, as hereinafter described by its side line.

Beginning at a point on the northerly side line of Boylston Street, distant 304.67 feet easterly from a stone bound marking the southerly tangent point of the curve forming the northeast corner of Sumner Road and said Boylston Street. Thence running by a curve to the left with a radius of 20 feet, 31.50 feet; thence northwesterly by a tangent 85.02 feet; thence by a curve to the left with a radius of 390.50 feet, 156.17 feet; thence by a curve to the left with a radius of 170.43 feet, 120.79 feet; thence by a curve to the left with a radius of 50.30 feet, 47.26 feet; thence by a curve to the left with a radius of 71.20 feet, 25.16 feet to a stone bound on the easterly side line of Sumner Road. Thence running northerly on said side line of Sumner Road by a curve to the right with a radius of 285.50 feet, 101.79 feet; thence continuing on said side line by a tangent 31.98 feet; thence by same side line by a curve to the left with a radius of 413.74 feet, 95.41 feet to a stone bound on said side line of Sumner Road. Thence running southerly by a curve to the left with a radius of 102.21 feet, 138.99 feet, to a stone bound on the easterly side line of the Boston Water Works location; thence running southeasterly on said side line of the Boston Water Works location by a tangent, 21.26 feet, to a stone bound. Thence continuing on aforesaid said line by a curve to the right with the radius of 440.50 feet, 107.63 feet. Thence departing from said side line by a tangent 42.64 feet; thence by a curve to the left with a radius of 26.30 feet, 50.63 feet to a point on the westerly side line of a proposed street; thence easterly at right-angles with said side line 40 feet; thence at right-angles southerly 20.94 feet; thence by a curve to the left with a radius of 75 feet, 109.46 feet; thence by a curve to the left with a radius of 25.25 feet, 27.24 feet to a point on the northerly side line of Boylston Street; thence southwest-erly by said side line of Boylston Street, 110.94 feet to the point of beginning, taking all the land included within the previously described lines.

From the city of Boston a parcel 40 feet in width extending from Boylston Street to Sumner Road and containing about 16,800 square feet.

From the Goddard Land Co. three separate parcels located between the previously mentioned land of the Boston Water Works and the lines herein described, containing in the aggregate about 12,400 square feet.

The location of the above-described portion of Clinton Road is in accordance with a plan and profile of the same made by Alexis H. French, dated January 3, 1890, approved by us, and such plan and profile are adopted by us as a part of this record.

The Selectmen take the right to protect and support said road or way by sloping the bank where needful on either side thereof on the adjoining land; but this is not intended to affect or impair at all the right of any owner of such adjoining land to use such slope for building or any other purpose whatsoever incident to the ownership of the fee in said slope that will not affect the security of the roadbed.

In said location of said road there is hereby reserved to the city of Boston and its assigns all the rights which said city now has to lay and maintain pipes beneath the surface of said way as so laid out, for the conducting of water to said city, and also all other rights and easements in the soil beneath the surface of said way as so laid out which are now enjoyed by said city under the statutes of the Commonwealth and especially under the provisions of Chapter 131 of the Acts of 1865.

We have estimated the damages sustained by the owners of land and interests by laying out and constructing said road as aforesaid, whether by taking property or by injuring property in any manner whatsoever, and do estimate and determine the amount to be paid as follows, viz:

To the city of Boston the sum of five hundred dollars to compensate it for the cost of altering the construction of the gate-chamber and man-holes of its aqueduct within its location and within the line of said road.

No other awards are made; all the other parties in interest and the owners of the fee outside the aqueduct location as above described over which said road or way is laid out, in consideration of the laying out by the Selectmen and of its acceptance by the town, agree to waive all claim to land or grade damages.

And said road as so laid out, located and described is hereby reported to the town for acceptance, and when so accepted, allowed and recorded is to be known as a townway.

The said plan, profile and this record with the release herein referred to have this day been filed by us in the office of the Town Clerk.

Release and Agreement.—Clinton Road.

Whereas, we, the undersigned, are desirous that a public way to be called Clinton Road should be laid out by the Selectmen of Brookline, and accepted and allowed by said town, to lead from Boylston Street to Sumner Road with a minimum width of fifty feet, and following substantially the location of the aqueduct of the city of Boston, and particularly as shown on a plan by Alexis H. French, C. E., dated January 3d, 1890 :

Now, therefore, know all men by these presents that we, the undersigned, in consideration of the premises, and of one dollar to us paid, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, and for other good and valuable considerations, do hereby approve and authorize the laying out of said Clinton Road as a townway, and its acceptance by the town; and we do hereby remise, release and forever quitclaim to the said town of Brookline and its assigns, all claims or right to damages or compensation of any kind whatsoever, on account of the said laying out by the Selectmen and said acceptance by the town as aforesaid, or on account of any grading, or constructing, or of supporting by slopes or otherwise the road-bed of said Clinton Road on our adjoining land, which right of supporting said road-bed by sloping on our adjoining land is hereby released to said town. But this release is not intended to affect or impair at all the right of any owner of abutting land to use such slopes or supports for building or for any other purpose or use incident to the ownership of the fee in such slopes or supports that will not impair the security of the road-bed.

And, for the consideration aforesaid, we do further agree that we will pay to said town the cost of the construction of said road, it being understood and agreed that the work of said construction shall be done by said town; that we will pay or save the town harmless from the cost of altering the construction of the gate-chambers and manholes of the aqueduct of the city of Boston within its location and within the line of said road, made necessary in order properly to protect the pipes of said city in said location; and we further agree to pay any counsel fees incurred by said town in any suit which may be brought by the city of Boston against the town of Brookline, in relation thereto, to test the respective rights of the parties therein to the use of the land included in said location, but not intending hereby that the undersigned shall agree or be bound to pay any damages to the easement of the city of Boston which may be claimed to arise from the inconsistency of said road with said easement, but only the damages in the nature of the necessary cost of alteration of said gate-chambers and manholes, whether said cost is expended in the first instance by said town or is expended in the first instance by the city of Boston and reimbursed to it by said town.

This release and agreement is given upon the understanding that said street is not to be laid out under the betterment law, so-called.

In witness whereof we have hereto set our hands and seals this third day of January A. D. 1890.

REPORT OF THE SELECTMEN.

The selectmen have the honor to submit the following report for the year ending February 1, 1890 : —

Finances.

The financial condition of the town has distinctly improved during the past year, as the following figures show :

Gross debt, Jan. 31, 1889	$1,660,600
Borrowed during the year for Beacon street	70,000
	<hr/> $1,730,600
Debt paid from sinking fund	44,200
	<hr/> $1,686,400
Debt paid from taxes and receipts	92,200
	<hr/> $1,594,200
Gross debt Feb. 1, 1890

The debt paid by the sinking fund was all created in 1874 and bore interest at $6\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. \$25,000 was borrowed for the construction of Washington street; \$4,200 for the construction of Gorham avenue and Second (now Williams) street; and the balance for the payment of Marion street and other claims.

The debt paid by taxes and receipts was as follows : —

High-service water scrip	borrowed Feb. 1, 1885	$10,000
Reconstruction of White place	July 21, 1885	2,400
Washington street bridge improvement	July 13, 1886	4,800
Sumner road bridge	Aug. 1, 1886	4,000
Boylston street grammar-school . . .	Aug. 17, 1886	5,000
Boylston street grammar-school . . .	June 1, 1888	1,000
Primary school-house, Brookline avenue	Feb. 9, 1887	3,000
Public lands, Tappan street	Feb. 1, 1888	3,000
Pond avenue sewer	Feb. 1, 1888	4,000
Harrison place extension	Feb. 1, 1888	4,000
Beacon street widening	July 1, 1887	20,000
“ “ “	May 1, 1888	10,000
“ “ “	Jan. 1, 1889	10,000
Primary school-house, Marion street .	Feb. 1, 1888	4,000
Brookline avenue playground	June 1, 1888	4,000
Public library building	June 1, 1888	3,000

The annual interest charge on the debt paid was $6,485.50, on the amount borrowed is $2,800,—a saving in interest of $3,685.50.

With ordinary prudence the debt should not for many years exceed its present amount, which, with the exception of $66,000, is all payable in the next eight years. The amount payable from taxes and receipts, i. e., from resources other than the sinking fund, is not so large for any year to come as in the past.

Our expenditures during the past year, exclusive of payments made of money borrowed in anticipation of taxes, were $748,112.75 as against $931,012.59 the previous year, a reduction of $182,899.84. The payments for interest, of debt due, and the annual payment to the sinking fund make up the large sum of $240,256.15, of the total expenditure, or about 47 per cent of the total tax levy, or $5.64 of the $12.00 rate.

We furthermore end this year with a general cash balance in the treasury of $23,970.52 as against no general balance at the end of last year—largely owing to a gratifying increase in the amount of corporation taxes received from the state.

Our valuation has continued to increase and last year was $42,533,300, against $41,246,900 in 1888. But in spite of this increase in valuation the tax-rate also had to be increased to meet the requirements of the year; an increase which we believe, however, will prove exceptional with proper care and economy in our appropriations for current expenses and with the exercise of judgment in borrowing such sums as must be borrowed for the Riverdale park, for the Cypress street and Aspinwall avenue bridges, and other improvements to which the town is committed, and especially by “making haste slowly” in taking up schemes of doubtful utility which are sure to be proposed in a town when property is rapidly advancing.

We cannot do better than to quote here the opinion of the selectmen in 1885:

"Nothing is more essential for the town's success than a low rate of taxation. It is cheaper and better to defer improvements and keep the rate of taxation down, than to drive people away by improvements and a high rate. Improvements to a reasonable extent each year can be made consistently with a low rate of taxation. So-called 'improvements' on too great a scale will hurt the town, and prevent the very growth they are designed to advance. Brookline now has a system of water works and a system of sewers, both of which can and should be judiciously extended as needs require. Beyond these, our improvements should be in moderation. Being a wealthy town is the very reason why its taxpayers should enjoy a low rate of taxation, and not, as some claim, carry a great debt and pay heavily for it. This problem can only be solved by the earnest co-operation of taxpayers and town officers, in scrutinizing every appropriation made.

"The situation of Brookline, its reputation, and its unrivalled attractions give the town an immense advantage. No municipality in the state has such an opportunity. The key to the town's future success lies in the good sense with which its finances may be managed."

Appropriations.

The following tables give the amount of the appropriations of the past year, the expenditures, and the amounts recommended for the ensuing year; also, the amounts already appropriated to be paid from the tax levy the coming year, with the debt payable from the sinking fund and taxes. The selectmen have drawn 1,390 orders during the year, amounting to $495,932.42.

Street Lights.

The contract made with the Brookline Gas Light Company, May 1st, 1888, has been continued in force, with this exception, that the price of gas lights has been reduced one cent per night. This makes the price paid for electric lights, fifty cents per night; for gas lights, nine and one-half cents per night; and for oil lights, seven cents per night. One incandescent electric light has been discontinued, and twenty-six gas lights and two oil lights have been added, making total number in use four hundred and eighty-eight, viz:—

Electric arc lights	120
Electric incandescent lights	3
Gas lights	264
Oil or naphtha lamps	101

The usual table, giving location and kind of light, is hereto annexed:—

* Of this amount $3,000 was payable Feb. 1, 1890, but not presented.

At present prices these lights will cost $33,908.50 per annum, and an additional allowance must be made for new lights. At a town meeting held Dec. 4th, 1889, it was — Voted, That a committee of five be appointed by the moderator to consider the subject of street lights, and report thereon at the next town meeting.

The following-named persons were appointed to serve on that committee: Messrs. Jerome Jones, W. W. Potter, Wm. H. White, George E. Cabot, and Albert W. Bliss. It is hoped they may be able to report the result of their investigations to the town at the annual meeting, and to solve the problem of getting more light without increasing the cost.

Police Department.

The police force of Brookline consists of twenty-four men, with the necessary auxiliary of horses, patrol-wagon, ambulance and police-telegraph. By changes made during the past month we have a much improved system of telegraph lines. We have now one of the best equipped forces, and the largest in proportion to our population, of any in the country; in fact, we spend more on our police department than any town or city with a population under twenty-five thousand, and the town demands a corresponding efficiency. We have over forty miles of streets to patrol, and it is an impossibility to cover them so as to be satisfactory to all. There is less disorder in our town, probably, than in any other that supports a police force. The proximity of Boston liquor stores causes us more trouble than all else within our own lines. We believe that open bars and kitchen bar-rooms are practically stamped out, but less efficiency in our police would soon bring them to life.

We have given lodgings to 2,463 persons during the past year, as follows: American born, 1,094; Irish, 949; English, 193; all other countries, 227; not one of whom was from China or Japan. The majority of these men are strong, able-bodied, fairly dressed, fairly intelligent; representing 1,371 laborers, and 1,092 of some special trade or calling. We think that a portion of these men would be glad to work, even at low wages. What shall be done with this large and increasing body of unemployed men promises to be a grave question in the near future.

In 1880 we had fifteen men on the force, with none of the modern police machinery. We think that our present force and system, even with the increased population, far stronger than ten years ago. We have reason to thank the chief and his officers and patrolmen for the good work done during the year and for the general efficiency of the department.

Fire Department.

A general improvement has been made in the fire department during the past year. An exchange has been made of one of the pair of horses used on the chemical engine, for a pair of young horses, at a cost of $450.00. The engineers propose to use the remaining horse by changing the one-horse hose-wagon located in the village, for a two-horse wagon. The ladders and truck have been repainted and repaired at a cost of about $300.00.

Marked improvements have been made in the interior of the chemical and steamer houses. At the chemical house a bath-room has been fitted up, closets built in the engine room, and several of the rooms have been repainted and papered. At the steamer house general repairs have been made, such as painting and whitening. Some much-needed repairs should be made in the interior of the hook and ladder house the coming year.

At the town meeting, held on Dec. 4, 1889, an appropriation was made for the purpose of buying land on Boylston street for a new engine house, and an appropriation will be asked for at the coming annual town meeting for building a house thereon. Sketches for the building have been prepared, and the plan proposed is for a building suitable for hose wagon No. 3, which is now located on Heath street, and the steamer, which it is proposed to move from its present quarters. Sufficient room will remain on the lot for the erection of a hook and ladder building when required. The engineers recommend an increase in the appropriation for the coming year, for the purpose of supplying another permanent man for the chemical engine, and for fitting up sleeping accommodations in the other houses; and we recommend the appropriation, believing the efficiency of this department requires the changes suggested. The large number of calls (72) and the small loss by fire denotes that the department has been prompt to respond, and has been managed with skill. Great credit is also due to the members of this department for the promptness and the valuable service rendered at the fire in Boston, Nov. 28, and should tend to increase confidence in the fire department of Brookline.

Fire and Police Alarm.

This department has been in a very satisfactory condition during the greater part of the past year. Some lines of wires were hastily put up at the time of the last addition to the number of boxes and one of the first duties of the present superintendent was to straighten out and rearrange (as recommended by the last superintendent) a large part of the system. Breaks occur occasionally during storms, however, owing to the erosion by the trees on the bare copper wire, so that it would seem desirable to gradually renew the system with galvanized-iron wire, as in Boston, or with covered copper wire, as recommended in the report of the superintendent. The former is obviously the cheaper and more durable method. The system has been under the care of a regular salaried superintendent, for the first time, during the past year, and his services have been in constant demand and of permanent value. By referring to the reports of the chief of police and of the superintendent it will be seen that additions and changes are asked for in both the fire and police systems, and it seems desirable to establish additional boxes to the greater effectiveness of both of these important departments.

At the town meeting, held Dec. 4, 1889, an appropriation was made for the purpose of substituting a new striker on the steamer house for the steam whistle which was discontinued, partly on account of the expense and partly because of complaint of the disturbance caused to the many people within hearing, and it is hoped that the striker substituted will be found sufficiently effective.

The attention of citizens is respectfully directed to the keys of police boxes which are kept in accessible places, indicated on or near each box, and enable citizens in case of emergency, as well as the police force, to use these boxes.

Sewers.

The total length of sewers and surface-water drains constructed in 1889, and charged to the sewer extension account, is 13,493.6 feet, costing $30,389.77. The amount of assessments levied is $26,894.70. Of the above assessment, $7,933.23 is on account of sewers in the westerly end of Beacon street, laid in 1888, but which were not assessable at that time, they having no outlet until after the completion of the Dean and Clark roads sewers, so called. A sewer has been laid in Norfolk road, from Boylston street to Middlesex road, at a cost of $1,306.15. This it seemed desirable to do at the time Norfolk road was being constructed; first, because it could be done cheaper then than at any other time, and second, to prevent digging up and destroying the roadbed at some time in the future; and although for want of an outlet this sewer cannot be used at present, the day is not far distant when one will have to be provided for this section of the town.

At the adjourned special town meeting, held Nov. 14, 1888, it was—Voted, That the selectmen are hereby authorized to petition the general court for leave to construct and maintain that part of the sewer for the drainage of the Chestnut Hill district, so called, which must necessarily pass through a part of the city of Boston or the city of Newton, or both.

Application was therefore made to the general court, and an act passed, being chapter 151 of the acts and resolves of the year 1889, authorizing the selectmen of the town of Brookline to lay and maintain said sewer. This act was approved March 22, 1889.

But one petition for sewers is now before us, namely, that of W. I. Bowditch, Esq., for a sewer in a part of Tappan street. We are informed, however, that others will be asked for. Surface-water drains are required in several streets, particularly in parts of Boylston street, Buckminster road and Tappan street, and also in Winchester and Williams streets.

The usual list of sewers constructed for the past year, giving location, size, length, cost, etc., is hereto appended.

Of these streets, Centre street, Station street and Freeman street were laid out under the betterment law, and their construction was postponed until this year; the figures given as the expense of these streets are estimates only.

Norfolk and Middlesex roads were laid out by the county commissioners, Dec. 21, 1888, and have been constructed during the past year at an expense of $4,805.85. The roads are forty feet wide, and together form a continuous road about 1,077 feet long, from Boylston street to Middlesex road in Newton. They were laid out upon the petition of Henry Lee and others, and against the objection of the selectmen, who considered the expense of construction more than the town should bear for roads which seemed to them more for private benefit than for public necessity.

Clinton road has not yet been constructed, but it is not expected that the town will have to bear any of the expense.

Widening Streets.

HARVARD STREET. — May 22, 1889, the selectmen petitioned the county commissioners for a re-location of Harvard street. The necessity of this was due to the fact that when widened in 1870, and again in 1871, no bounds were set, and it was found impossible by engineers to ascertain the true lines. The first hearing was given by the commissioners in the Town Hall, Sept. 13th, last, and a second hearing was held at Dedham, Feb. 11th, but the decree has not yet been made. The plan approved by the selectmen makes the street a minimum width throughout of fifty-five feet, which it was supposed was the width established in 1870, but the selectmen, in their report in 1872, say :

“After the great cost to the public and sacrifice to private persons caused by this great improvement, it has been seriously mortifying to us to discover that Harvard street, which it was commonly believed had been widened everywhere to a width of not less than fifty-five feet, is in fact less than fifty feet wide in a portion of the street, which, owing to its curvature, needed widening as much as any part of the street. We are at a loss to discover the cause of this oversight, as the county commissioners assert that it was their intention to widen the street to a minimum width of fifty-five feet. We recommend an application to the county commissioners for the purpose of repairing this error, while as yet the cost will not be greatly beyond the benefit.”

We believe no action has been taken on this recommendation until this year.

WALNUT STREET. — The selectmen undertook to widen Walnut street, a county way, by the purchase of land, as it has been widened in three former instances at least, but objection being made at the town meeting of July 8th, 1889, to the method, while it was at the same time admitted that there was a necessity that the widening should be made, a majority of the selectmen with other citizens petitioned the county commissioners, Nov. 29th, last, to widen the highway from High street to Cypress street to a minimum width of forty feet. A hearing was given on this petition in the Town Hall, Jan. 30th, at which the necessity for some widening was admitted, but it was claimed by Mr. Wm. Aspinwall and Mr. Chester of the selectmen, that the width should be fifty feet. Mr. Aspinwall further claimed that the town had had no opportunity to act in the matter, as was required by a vote passed in 1869, and the commissioners finally decided to postpone any further action till the question of the width of the street could be brought before the town. This will be done at the annual meeting.

BROOKLINE AVENUE. — Brookline avenue has been widened to seventy-five feet so as to take in the strip of land bought by the town for this purpose in 1872, between land of the Brookline Gas Light Company and Pearl street. The widening was accepted by the town, Dec. 4th, 1889. Nothing has yet been done towards its construction.

TAPPAN STREET. — At the town meeting of Dec. 4th, 1889, authority was given to the selectmen to construct Tappan street to its full width of forty feet, as petitioned for by Eugene R. Knapp, and $2,000 was appropriated towards the expense. The following offer of Mr. William I. Bowditch was also accepted at the same meeting:—

“I will allow the town to slope the bank of Tappan street on the south side, over my adjoining land, the town covering the slopes with loam as usual, if the town will agree to build a dry retaining wall to support my bank and hedge on the north side of the street, whenever the town shall deem it necessary to widen the street to its full width at that point. I wish, however, the retaining wall to be made as low as possible and support the bank.”

Mr. Bowditch has already notified the selectmen that a part of the wall will not be needed, as he has decided to build a house on a portion of his estate and to remove the bank in front of this portion. Leaving out the wall altogether the total expense of the widening, exclusive of any surface-water drain, is estimated at $9,000. A sewer has already been requested, and it will be prudent also to lay a surface-water drain when the street is at sub-grade. The estimated cost of the drain is $3,400; no estimate has yet been made of the cost of the sewer.

At the town meeting of July 8th, last, the following vote was unanimously passed:—

Voted, That the selectmen are instructed to petition on behalf of the town the general court of 1890, for the passage of a law authorizing the town and its officers to exercise the same jurisdiction over the highways that they have over the townways of the town.

At the meeting of Jan. 15, this additional vote on the same subject was passed unanimously:—

Voted, That the selectmen are instructed to apply to the general court for the passage of an act providing that the powers of the county commissioners, in relation to highways and bridges in Brookline, shall be vested in said town and the selectmen thereof, and that the county shall not be liable for any expenses incurred in relation to said highways or bridges, except in pending cases, and that said town shall not be liable for any similar expenses incurred in the other towns in Norfolk county, said act to go into effect only after being accepted by a majority of the voters of said town, present and voting by ballot, at a town meeting to be called for the purpose.

In pursuance of these votes a petition was presented to the general court and an act drawn to effect its objects. Several hearings have been had before the committee on towns, who have been given a view of our streets, and the hearings were closed Feb. 24th, the committee taking the matter under advisement. The selectmen employed as counsel Messrs. M. and C. A. Williams and Hon. William Aspinwall. Considerable opposition was made to the proposed act, by the county commissioners and by the selectmen of some of the other towns in the county,—Milton, Hyde Park, Franklin, Cohasset, and one or two others.

Public Grounds.

The public grounds of the town consist of the Cypress street and Brookline avenue playgrounds, the school yards, the spaces around the Public Library and buildings in the immediate vicinity, and what is known as the Dudley street triangle. Out of the $2,000 appropriated for public grounds, about $550.85 has been expended in clearing, grading and seeding the Dudley street triangle, which was formerly in an unsightly condition; $576.31 for new concrete about the Pierce primary school, made necessary by the enlargement of that building, and also at Longwood school; $183.75 for a gravelled foot-path running diagonally across the Brookline avenue playground, in the hope that travel from Aspinwall avenue bridge towards the school-house would be confined to it; and the rest for general cleaning and keeping in order.

Some citizens have requested to have a good deal done to the Cypress street playground; but the board considers this to be strictly a playground and not a park, and that the appropriation was not intended to cover more than was necessary for its general use as such, and in this view seats were provided here.

We think that a fence around a part of the Brookline avenue playground would be desirable, both for the general appearance of the grounds and their proper use as a playground for the residents of the vicinity; the estimated expense is $275, and is included in the appropriation recommended for public grounds. At the town meeting of Jan. 15, 1890, the following by-law was passed, and it is hoped that it will prove effective in preserving our public grounds and planting spaces from injury :—

BY-LAW IN RELATION TO PLAYGROUNDS AND GRASS BORDERS.

Whoever shall wilfully deface and injure any public ground, such as flower beds, grass borders, planting spaces or playgrounds, shall forfeit and pay for each offense not more than twenty dollars.

Beacon Street.

A separate appropriation was made for the care and watering of Beacon street, and out of the $7,500 appropriated $5,469.42 has been spent—greater care having been taken of this street than of any other in the town. It is perhaps too soon to determine what the average annual charge will be, but of course during the past year no large repairs were needed, as will be the case when the street has been subjected to a few years' travel.

The report of the counsel for the town, upon a subsequent page, shows the condition of the suits for damages and the reason why none of the claims have been settled the past year.

Additional sewer assessments, amounting to $7,993, have been assessed the past year upon property abutting on the street, making in all $26,845.78 assessed. There is still some land on the street at present too low to be drained, which will eventually be filled and then become assessable.

The land damages unpaid amount to $92,925.00, which we believe are all the expenses of the street remaining unpaid. The balance in the treasury, appropriated for the street, is $74,864.43.

The assessments of betterments are now being made by the selectmen and will probably be published before this report is in circulation.

The Brook in the Village.

The matter of this brook was very fully reported on in the last annual report.

On May 20th, last, a petition was presented to the selectmen, signed by Henry M. Whitney, Jacob W. Pierce and others, for the improvement of "that part of the brook which lies between the town boundary line near Chestnut Hill avenue and the estate of William I. Bowditch, and also that part of the brook which lies between Cypress street and Washington street," and on June 12th the selectmen gave a public hearing thereon in the lower Town Hall. It appeared at this hearing from the testimony of the engineer that while the contemplated improvements would not immediately bring the water down to the outlets east of Washington street in too great quantities to be safely carried off by them, as now constructed, yet, in the course of time, with the construction of new streets draining into the brook, the improvement of the estates forming its water-shed and by the building up of this territory, these outlets would not be adequate. It was admitted, however, that this period was probably pretty remote, and the selectmen therefore considered the matter very fully, being desirous of aiding the petitioners who were anxious to improve their lands, and to remove the danger of overflow upon the lands just west of Washington street, provided we were not imposing a further liability upon the town. We were not slow, however, in coming to the conclusion that we certainly should not improve the upper part of the brook first, and, on June 24th, passed the following vote :

Voted, That in the opinion of the selectmen the work of providing a suitable channel for the brook along the railroad should begin in the village. It is, therefore, in their judgment inexpedient to attempt to carry out the improvement by beginning at the upper end of the town, as proposed by the West End Land Company, and others.

The question of improving the lower end of the brook, between Washington street and Cypress street, was left open and has been considered at various times and very fully. It appears that it is proposed to carry this brook to the pond in the Riverdale park, south of Tremont street and east of Pond avenue, and in fact, that this brook will be relied upon as a principal source of water supply. Of course this means the abandonment of its present outlets east of Washington street and the construction of a new underground channel to Pond avenue; and the conclusion the selectmen have come to is, that no part of the brook west of Washington street should be improved, and a liability thereby imposed upon the town, until an outlet adequate for all time, either as proposed by the designers of Riverdale park or otherwise, is provided. We do not wish the town to have with this brook the disastrous experience of Boston with Stony brook.

In his opinion in the case of Boston Belting Co. vs. Boston, 149 Mass. 44-46, a case arising out of the overflow of Stony brook, Chief Justice Morton says: "A man of reasonable foresight and prudence would not begin such work by altering the upper part of the stream so as to enlarge the flow of the water beyond the capacity of its mouth, without first enlarging its outlet so as to be sufficient for the increased flow." It was on account of its negligence in not providing a sufficient outlet that the city of Boston was held liable in the Stony brook cases.

Bath-House.

The bath-house has been opened as usual for the four summer months, commencing June 1st, under the charge of Mr. Patrick Dillon, the superintendent for several years. Notwithstanding that it has been used by a very large number of bathers (7,193), there have been no complaints on account of disorder or noise. The house is used almost entirely by boys. Very few men ever use it, notwithstanding certain hours are set apart for their special use. The house is in fair condition. By another year there should be some repairs made and the whole place painted.

Inspection and Survey of Buildings.

At a meeting held Feb. 26, 1889, the town adopted by-laws in relation to the construction of buildings and plumbing, and at the adjourned annual meeting held April 10, 1889, made an appropriation of $2,500, to pay for fitting up an office and for paying the salary of the inspector of buildings. The selectmen were authorized to fix the salary of said inspector, at a price not exceeding $1,500 per annum. As provided in section 8 of the by-law in relation to the construction of buildings, the selectmen appointed Wm. K. Melcher, inspector of buildings and plumbing, and also inspector for the board of health, for the term of one year from the first day of May, 1889, or until another is appointed in his stead, at a salary of one thousand dollars per annum. It was originally intended to fit up a room in the basement of the Town Hall for this department. This has not been done, as we found we could for the present use a room on the third floor of the building. The office was opened for business May 15th, 1889. The expense to Feb. 1st, 1890, including inspector's salary for nine months, and cost of fitting office, is $981.06. Reference is made to the report of the inspector for the details of the business of this department.

Street Railways.

July 11, 1889, a petition was received from the West End Street Railway Company for consent and permission to establish and maintain the overhead single trolley electric system of motive power in the operation of its cars on the several streets in the town whereon its tracks are located. A fully notified hearing on this petition was given in the lower Town Hall on September 11th, at which the company appeared and also several citizens in favor of the petition; no one appeared in opposition. The selectmen have kept the matter under consideration, finding that the company did not immediately intend to adopt the system, and hoping that in time the many objections to the introduction of the single trolley system in the more thickly settled part of the town might be overcome. Up to the present time the objections, which are familiar to all, seem to have increased rather than diminished, and no further action has been taken.

Claims and Suits.

The suits to which the town is a party are fully reported upon in the report of Messrs. M. and C. A. Williams, hereinafter printed in full.

Guide-Boards.

Guide-boards have been maintained in all places where they are required by law. No new boards have been put up the past year, those numbering 1 to 72 inclusive, as reported in the last annual report, being all which in the opinion of the selectmen the town ought to erect and maintain.

Offenses, Crimes, etc.

With the exception of a few cases of burglary or house-breaking, there have been no serious crimes committed in the town the past year.

There have been sixty less arrests for the offense of drunkenness than last year. This may be accounted for in part from the fact that there has been no large public work going on in the town, as was the case last year.

Several prosecutions have been made for the illegal sale or keeping for sale of intoxicating liquors.

Fifty-one search warrants have been served, and four hundred and eighty-nine gallons of intoxicating liquors have been seized and disposed of according to law. I am pleased to be able to say that this class of offenders against the laws has been followed up with untiring energy and zeal by the inspector of police and his assistants. The obstacles they have met in the discharge of this very disagreeable duty are enough to deter most men from trying the same class of cases more than once; but they have thought differently, and have prosecuted and convicted the same persons time and time again. There are but few outside of the fraternity who know how difficult it is to convict a rumseller, either of selling or keeping for sale, and it sometimes seems to me that all the machinery of the law is used to protect this class of criminals and their stock in trade. I am more strongly impressed every year with the necessity for the government being represented by legal counsel in liquor cases to successfully cope with eminent and trained counsel often employed by the defendants.

I have frequently received anonymous letters calling my attention to alleged violations of this law; but unfortunately I am unable to avail myself of the testimony my informants desire me to possess, which would in many cases, connected with facts within my own knowledge, be valuable in the prosecution of such cases.

Any facts or information concerning this class of complaints will be thankfully received; but I would request as a favor that informers grant me a personal interview in order that I may have all the facts that are required in a court of law.

The Mounted Force.

The mounted force have made a good record the past year in the matter of stopping runaway teams and controlling and preventing fast and reckless driving, and in preventing lawlessness and trespassing in the outlying districts; also, in patrolling such parts of the town as cannot well be done by officers on foot.

The Patrol Signal System.

The patrol signal system continues to be an important factor in our police service. Most excellent results have been obtained from it the past year, and more especially has this been the case since Superintendent Cooper has had charge of the system. He has given it his best care and attention. I am fully of the opinion that we have, as now perfected, as good a working police signal system as there is in the country. There have been 57,450 duty calls sent in from the patrol boxes the past year. There have been 270 calls from signal boxes for patrol wagon, for arrests, fires, etc. The number miles run by the patrol wagon is estimated as 700.

The electric signal and telephone is one thing that thieves and evil-doers most dread, for it often circumvents all their skill and cunning.

The use of the patrol wagon in making arrests prevents many disagreeable scenes in our streets, as almost before it is known that an arrest has been made, the arrested persons are safely lodged in the station-house.

Discipline, Etc.

The discipline of the force will compare favorably with former years. The fact that many temptations assail a police officer should be no excuse for dereliction of duty, for a police officer accepts his position with a full knowledge that such may be the case, and should understand that mental and moral stamina are as important for the proper prosecution of his duties as are his physical abilities.

The special or detective work of the department has, as in years past, been done by the inspector of police, and his services in the pursuit and conviction of thieves and other criminals, and recovery of stolen goods, has been valuable.

There is an unwritten history connected with this part of our work that comprehends days and hours of patient investigation and perplexing dilemmas, that are little known to the community at large.

News-Boys.

The necessity of placing news-boys under some degree of surveillance, and requiring them to be licensed, has been brought to my attention many times the past year, and I respectfully suggest that a by-law may be provided, to the end that news-boys may be licensed.

Tramps, Lodgers, Etc.

Notice is called to the large increase in the number of lodgers or tramps — 450 more than last year. The tramp seems to be an unknown quantity. We have given all who apply such quarters as we have, as I think it safer for the public to have them where we know where they are than to have them wandering abroad.

I think some action might be taken — by the state, perhaps — to the end that this great army of the unemployed may be placed where, by some sort of labor, they may become self-supporting, for the winter months at least.

Police Signal Boxes.

I urgently recommend an increase of four in the number of our police signal boxes,—one near Cottage Farm station, one at corner of Warren and Cottage streets, one at corner of Clyde and Warren streets, and one on Chestnut Hill avenue, near Reservoir station.

I recommend for your consideration a new police route, —lying between *No. 5 and No. 6 police routes, and taking a portion of those routes,—bounded about as follows:—West by Beacon street, from Washington street to town line; north by Washington street, from Cypress street to town line; east by Cypress street, to Chestnut street; south by Chestnut and Walnut streets, part of Sumner road and a part of Buckminster road. The rapid and substantial growth of the territory embraced demands more police service than can be given as now constituted. This would require the addition of three patrolmen.

* Please see police routes, first and second pages of this report.

The officers have done a great deal of extra duty the past year, especially on Sundays, and have cheerfully responded to all calls for duty with a promptness worthy of special mention. We have (thanks to the police committee) a well equipped police department. We have four good horses,—three for mounted service and one for patrol wagon and ambulance,—all in good order.

With thanks to the judges and clerk of the police court for valuable aid and advice, and to the board of selectmen for strong support, I respectfully submit this my fourteenth annual report.

ALONZO BOWMAN,
Chief of Police.

REPORT OF THE FIRE ENGINEERS.

To the Board of Selectmen:—

GENTLEMEN,—In compliance with the by-laws of the town we herein submit the annual report of the fire department for the year ending January 31, 1890. The fire loss has been very light, although the department has answered more alarms than in any previous year.

Number of Bell Alarms.

The following classification explains the nature of the calls. The total number of alarms was seventy-two.

Unknown	9
Coal from blacksmith's forge	1
Sparks from chimney	3
Carelessness	8
Spontaneous combustion	2
Explosion of kerosene lamp	3
Gas meter	1
Chimney fire	5
Wood on furnace	1
Drying plaster	1
Grass and brush	14
Supposed incendiary	3
Fire crackers	1
Sparks from locomotive	16
Fat boiling over	1
Assistance to Boston	3
<hr/>
Total	72

The loss, insurance, and insurance paid, as near as can be ascertained, were—

Loss	$6,100 00
Insurance	174,300 00
Insurance paid	4,540 00
Loss to property holders	1,560 00

Organization.

The organization of the department remains the same as last year,—namely, one chief engineer, two assistant engineers, two hose companies of eleven men each, one hose company of six men, one hook and ladder company of thirteen men, one chemical engine company of three men, one engine-man and one assistant engineman of steamer, and seven drivers, all being call men except six drivers, who are employed permanently.

Apparatus.

The apparatus in service is as follows:—One steam fire engine, one hook and ladder, 310 feet of ladders, two hose wagons, one four-wheeled hose reel, one two-wheeled hose reel (spare), one chemical engine, three hose pungs, one fuel wagon, one buggy (spare). They are all in good condition except the fuel wagon. The hook and ladder truck has been thoroughly repaired and some improvements made on it. We now consider it as good as new. We have also added a Bangor extension ladder.

Buildings.

The houses of the department are all in good condition. The roof of the house in the village has been re-tinned and interior repairs made. There has also been a new furnace put in this house, the old one being too small to heat the house properly. There have also been some repairs made on the chemical house.

Horses.

There are at present ten horses in the department. We have exchanged one chemical-engine horse for a pair of lighter ones, better fitted for the service, and have retained the other horse for extra work.

Hose.

The total amount of hose in the department is 5,300 feet of cotton hose, 5,000 feet being in good condition and about 300 feet not reliable.

Hydrants.

There are at present 263 hydrants, which we have always found in good condition. There are 214 on the low service and 49 on the high service, with an average pressure of 85 lbs. to the square inch.

Fire Alarm Telegraph.

The efficiency of this branch of the service has been well maintained throughout the year. There has been quite a number of breaks in the wires, but the system, under the care of the superintendent, has been very satisfactory. We recommend the following changes and additions to the fire alarm boxes:—

- Box 6 — To be placed in Harvard square.
“ 7 — (New) Located on Hook and Ladder house.
“ 19 — (New) Located on Clyde and Newton streets.
“ 24 — (New) Chestnut Hill avenue and Buckminster road.
“ 25 — Removed from Englewood avenue to Tappan and Beacon streets.
“ 27 — Removed to Gardner road and Washington street.
“ 28 — (New) Beacon street and Summit avenue.
“ 39 — Removed to Mountfort and Prescott streets.
“ 45 — (New) Beacon and Carlton streets with auxiliary attachment to Chemical house.
“ 32 — Removed to Auburn and Park streets.

Recommendations.

The constant and steady growth of the town requires that this department should be efficiently managed in all its parts. Nothing in the way of improved apparatus should be neglected or overlooked. Perfect confidence should at all times be felt by property owners, that the department as maintained can meet any emergency.

We are of the opinion that a change in the hose wagons would be desirable. Hose wagon No. 2 which is much the larger, should be exchanged with hose wagon No. 1. Hose wagon No. 2 should then be fitted for two horses, which could be done at a slight expense and would not involve any increase in the present number of horses.

The expenses for the ensuing year would be increased by the keeping of one more horse. This change is required for the reason that a large number of the call men reside in or are employed in the village near the engine house, all of whom wish to ride, as it is important that they should arrive at the fire as soon as the apparatus. Oftentimes Hose 1 is much overloaded and considerably delayed.

We earnestly recommend that the horses on the hook and ladder truck be not required to work on the watering cart, as they have to answer all alarms, and it is necessary that this apparatus should be one of the first to respond. We also recommend that a furnace be put in the hook and ladder house, as it cannot be properly heated by stoves.

We desire to call your especial attention to the Longwood district. Owing to the rapid increase of valuable property in this section of the town and the importance of having the chemical engine respond to an alarm as quickly as possible, we recommend that another permanent man be appointed, also that the horses should not be used on the watering cart. The call men employed on this engine reside unavoidably some distance from the engine house and quite often the driver arrives at the fire alone. The great object of this apparatus is to prevent flooding the building with water, one gallon of the compound being as effective as forty gallons of water. It is therefore of the utmost importance that its work be commenced as soon after the breaking out of a fire as possible.

As the town is about to build an engine and hose house in the upper part of the town, situated on Boylston street, near the junction of Pound lane, we would recommend that the Hose 3 horse be not used on the watering cart, but the steamer horses can be used on the watering cart in that district of the town. We also recommend that the houses be fitted up for the purpose of allowing the call men to sleep there; also, that the house be heated with hot water or steam.

Appropriations.

The engineers would recommend the following amounts for the coming year:—

Current expenses of fire department	$16,300 00
For new hose	500 00
Total	<hr/> $16,800 00

We desire to extend our thanks to the selectmen for the interest taken in our department during the past year. To the committee on fire department our thanks are due for their cheerful support and valuable suggestions for the welfare and efficiency of the department. The chief of police and those in his command will accept our thanks for valuable assistance rendered us at fires. To the superintendent of the fire alarm we wish to extend our thanks for his valuable services, as this system is of great value to the department. Also, our thanks are due to the officers and members of the several companies in the department for the prompt and able manner in which they have performed their duties.

JOHN H. ALLEN,
E. F. PROCTOR,
JOHN C. BARTHELMES,
Board of Engineers.

Through the consent of the board of selectmen, kindly given, the superintendent has been enabled during the past year to make important improvements in the circuits, and consequently, in the service.

During the year ten cross-arms have been put on, and about 4000 feet of wire additional has been run; about fifty brackets have been attached to trees, a gong has been located in the chemical engine-house, and tappers have been placed in the residences of the board of engineers. Necessary repairs have been made from time to time, as the circumstances required.

The wire in use is the best quality of hard-drawn copper. It has been in use for several years, and as much of it passes through the trees, it is deteriorating, and causes some little trouble, on account of breakage, where it comes in contact with branches and limbs. The superintendent would therefore recommend that in future only covered wire be used, particularly as there are so many telephone, telegraph, electric-light and other wires now used in the town.

Early last fall complaints were made that the alarm given by the automatic whistle attachment was so loud as to arouse the citizens throughout the town, much to their annoyance. Its use, consequently, was discontinued by the order of the board of selectmen, and a tower striker was purchased and connected with the bell on the steamer-house instead. The whistle machine is still in possession of the town, and in perfect condition, its several years of service not having injured it in the least.

The town has been exceptionally fortunate thus far in regard to contact with wires carrying high-tension currents, but one accident of that character having occurred, when, by the breaking of the wire, contact was made with the trolley wire of the West End Railroad Company. On this occasion box 32, corner of Marion and Park streets, was burned out, and its use was discontinued for twenty-four hours, while necessary repairs were being made. With this exception no part of the system has been out of service. During the repairs to box 32 proper notice was placed at the location of the box, instructing citizens as to the location of the next nearest box.

The superintendent would recommend to your honorable board that additional boxes be placed for the better protection of life and property in the localities here mentioned :

Box 7 — Hook and ladder house, Washington street.

Box 19 — Corner Clyde and Newton streets.

Box 24 — Chestnut Hill and Buckminster road.

Box 28 — Beacon street and Summit avenue.

Box 45 — Beacon and Carlton streets.

It is also recommended that an auxiliary attachment be placed in chemical house No. 1, to be connected with box 45, in order that box 45 may be operated from that point. It is further recommended that the locations of several of the boxes now in use be changed, so as to be situated as follows :

Box 6 — To be located at Joyce's building, Harvard square.

Box 25 — To be located at Beacon and Tappan streets.

Box 27 — To be located at Washington street and Gardner road.

Box 32 — To be located at Park and Auburn streets.

To carry out these recommendations an appropriation of $1,000 will be needed.

In the opinion of the superintendent, the large amount of wire and apparatus, covering a great extent of territory, makes it advisable that he be allowed the use of the chief's wagon, and that a horse be furnished for same, whereby he would be able to reach distant points on the circuits quickly at all times ; furthermore, that the proposed team should be located at one of the engine-houses, and that the superintendent be furnished sleeping apartments in the same building. The advantages of this plan are obvious. It is important that the superintendent be present in the early stages of every fire, on account of possible destruction of a portion of the circuits ; also, for the removal of electric light and other high-tension wires, to facilitate the movements of the firemen.

Police Signal Service.

This branch of Brookline's electrical service consists of one central-office outfit of capacity for four circuits; one indicator and one gong at patrol-wagon house; one patrol-wagon; one ambulance; horses and harness; two complete metallic circuits; fifteen street signal-stations; galvanometers, batteries, switchboards and supplies. The signal stations are located as follows:

CIRCUIT No. 1.

- No. 13 — Corner Brookline avenue and Washington street.
- No. 14 — Corner High and Boylston streets.
- No. 15 — Corner High street and Cumberland avenue.
- No. 23 — Corner Cypress and Walnut streets.
- No. 24 — Corner of Cypress street and Davis avenue.
- No. 25 — Corner Warren and Boylston streets.
- No. 26 — Corner Boylston street and Chestnut Hill avenue.
- No. 33 — Gardner road, near Tappan street.
- No. 34 — Corner Washington and Beacon streets.

CIRCUIT No. 2.

- No. 45 — Corner Aspinwall avenue and Toxteth street.
- No. 35 — Corner Harvard and Beacon streets.
- No. 41 — Corner Longwood avenue and Kent street.
- No. 42 — Corner Sewall avenue and St. Paul street.
- No. 43 — Corner St. Paul and Freeman streets.
- No. 52 — Carlton street, near Beacon.

Citizens' keys are to be found at residences and places of business in the vicinity of each box.

The system has continued to work very satisfactorily. By gradual additions, however, the circuit had become so extended that it at length seemed dangerous to depend on one circuit alone. Hence, under the authority granted by your board, our single circuit was recently divided into two, and the single-circuit apparatus at the police station was replaced by a complete new plant with capacity for four circuits, thus making provision not only for the present, but for future increase as well. The new outfit, embracing the Gamewell company's latest and most approved machinery, is one of the handsomest displays of fine police telegraph and telephone apparatus to be found anywhere.

So much of my recommendation in relation to fire telegraph as refers to a horse and wagon for the superintendent applies with equal force here.

The superintendent desires to return his hearty thanks to the selectmen for their generous willingness to forward the interests of his department, and he wishes to embrace this opportunity to express his appreciation of the kindness and consideration shown him at all times by Chief Bowman and by the board of engineers and members of the fire department.

GEORGE W. COOPER,
Superintendent.

Total amount expended and charged to appropriation for support of highways	$31,735 17

On the morning of Feb. 1st, 1890, one of the youngest and most valuable horses in the stable, one of the pair bought last May, suddenly sickened, and on the following day he died. It will be necessary to replace him next month. The remaining twelve horses are in good condition.

A new stone-crusher and engine have been bought, and are being set up in the lot on Newton street, adjoining the high-service pumping station, where there is an abundance of stone. The crusher is from the Farrell foundry, Ansonia, Conn., 15" x 9", with steel cheek-plates; the boiler and engine are from the Ames Iron Works, Oswego, N. Y.; the boiler is rated at 20 horse-power, which is enough to not only run the crusher, but to supply power for a steam drill, which is needed to complete our equipment.

As soon as the lines of Harvard street are determined by the county commissioners, the tracks of the electric railroad should be moved to the middle of the street, so that the street may be macadamized. I regard this work as the most important now awaiting our attention.

A considerable sum must be spent in the coming year in replacing fences in the southerly part of the town, which are in a very dilapidated condition.

Street Crossings.

The usual work was done in keeping the street crossings in order, and new cross-walks of North river stone and small granite blocks were laid at the following places.

Across Mountfort street at Prescott street.

" Kent street at Aspinwall avenue.

" Brook street at Kent street.

" Cumberland avenue at High street.

" Kent street at Webster place.

" John street at Pleasant street.

" Sumner road at Tappan street.

" Sumner road at Clinton road.

" Harris street at the angle.

The walk on Boylston street in front of estates of J. Anson Guild and Philip Duffy was widened by the addition of another row of North river stone.

New Streets.

HARRIS STREET has had edgestones set on the northeasterly and westerly sides, a crossing of North river stone, and the street put in order, the cost being charged to highways.

STATION STREET, CENTRE STREET AND FREEMAN STREET were accepted as public ways, but, in accordance with a vote of the town, nothing has been done towards their construction.

JOHN STREET, WOODLAND ROAD, CHESTNUT HILL ROAD, JAMAICA ROAD AND HIGHLAND ROAD, accepted by the town as public ways, were built by private parties, and the town has paid nothing for them, except in the case of Chestnut Hill road, a short street connecting Heath and Boylston streets, for which an award of $400 was made to Mr. Gaffield.

CLINTON ROAD, from Boylston street to Sumner road, has been laid out as a public way, and the owners of the abutting land have agreed to pay all claims arising from its construction. Work on it has not yet begun.

NORFOLK AND MIDDLESEX ROADS, laid out as highways by the county commissioners in December, 1888, were thoroughly made of stone, under contract with M. J. O'Hearn. The gutters were paved; the cost, $4,808.85, was charged to the special appropriations.

Watering Streets.

After receiving proposals from several contractors for watering streets, in response to an advertisement, the compensation was fixed at $100.00 per month for each team for a season of five months from May 15th to October 15th, $5.00 per day for each team for each day before May 15th and after October 15th, and $6.00 for Sunday work. Under this arrangement eighteen teams were hired from contractors, in addition to the three double and one single team furnished by the fire department. Three and one-half teams have been required on Beacon street, with one-half the time of the chemical engine team, and have been paid for out of the appropriation for the care of Beacon street. The appropriation for watering streets was $10,000.00, and $9,052.29 was expended.

Care of Beacon Street.

On Saturday, October 19th, 1889, the city of Boston finished its work on the northerly road, and on the next day travel was allowed to go through the whole length of the street for the first time in more than two years. The southerly road, from the town line to Chestnut Hill avenue in Boston, is not yet finished, and no work has been done on it since the northerly road was finished. The planting spaces which were not finished when the road was accepted, were graded and seeded at Mr. Whitney's expense, early in the season. The work of maintenance for the past season has been mainly watering, minute and constant repairs of the surface, cutting the grass and removing weeds, etc.; keeping the roadway clean, and removing manure. This last is something which should be done on every newly macadamized or gravelled road, and kept up at least until the surface is thoroughly compacted. The worst places in the gutters were repaved early in the spring. Just how long the broken stone covering on the road will wear, can be determined by time only, but with the double roadway, any section can be closed to travel for the purpose of renewing the surface, without any inconvenience to the general public. By lowering the middle of the gutters in many places, the surface of the road can be made to wear gradually and evenly, without water standing on the surface, and thus the time for renewing the surface be postponed. There are some places east of St. Paul street which have settled so much that they must be raised to grade early in the spring. The appropriation for the care of Beacon street, including watering, was $7,500.00, and $5,469.42 was expended.

Sidewalks.

The amount appropriated for sidewalks was $12,000.00. The expenditure was $11,515.59, and the details are as follows:—

New plank walks	1,578 53
Edgestones, setting, etc.	4,135 83
New concrete walks	3,624 38
Repairing concrete walks	946 14
Brick and tile walks, etc.	198 10
Engineering and sundries	327 00
Total amount charged to sidewalks	$11,515 59

A considerable portion of the expense of furnishing and setting edgestones was paid out of the appropriation for support of highways, but all are mentioned under the head of sidewalks to show what has been done.

There seems to be no doubt that the plank walks made of spruce are very expensive, as well as the most prolific cause of accident, but there is considerable doubt as to what is the best thing with which to replace them. During the past year two pieces of new walk were laid on Corey Hill, one of spruce top with cypress bearings, the other of chestnut top and bearings. It will, of course, take time to ascertain the cost of maintenance and the duration of each kind. In 1882, when Vernon street was made a public way, a sidewalk was laid on the southerly side, from Harvard to Park street. The top was made of hard pine, and the bearings of chestnut lumber. All the lumber used was rigidly inspected by Mr. Lyford, then a selectman and surveyor of highways. The ends of the planks were bored to prevent splitting in driving the nails; the cost was something more than double that of the ordinary spruce walk, but the walk is in good condition today, and has not cost one cent for repairs.

More edgestones were reset the past year than ever before, yet much remains to be done in the same direction. There are hundreds of feet of edgestone which ought to be reset, but it must be remembered that for almost every foot of edgestone reset there is also from one to two square feet of concrete to be replaced, and three feet of gutter paving. Edgestones, if set in clay or loam, especially if the same material is behind them, will not remain in place. It was a common practice in years gone by to make the sidewalks largely of material deemed unfit for the roadway, and to this cause is due the fact that so many edgestones are out of place, and so much concrete has heaved and cracked.

Care of Sewers.

The usual work of cleaning and repairing catch-basins and drains was done, and the brook channels and culverts have been kept in good working condition. A twelve-inch drain-pipe was laid from two catch-basins near the entrance to Mr. Schlesinger's estate on Warren street, for a distance of four hundred and eighty-six feet, across the lawn, to the brook, in accordance with a promise made to Mr. Schlesinger at the time the catch-basins were built. A surface-water drain, eighteen inches in diameter, was laid from Beacon street into Englewood avenue, connecting with two catch-basins. New catch-basins were built on High street, opposite Cumberland avenue, Sewall street, Cypress street (two), Boylston street (two)—one near Sumner road and one in front of P. McCarthy's—Buckminster road, Fisher avenue, Englewood avenue (two), and Newton street.

The lateral sewers have been examined regularly, and, when necessary, have been cleaned and flushed. One serious stoppage has occurred on Chestnut Hill avenue, caused, I believe, by a broken pipe. It will be necessary to dig down to the sewer to replace the broken pipe, but as the sewer is nearly twenty-six feet below the surface in clayey soil, it was thought better to defer the digging until warmer and dryer weather.

The appropriation for care of sewers was $4,000.00, and $3,415.78 was expended, as follows:—

Catch-basins cleaned, repaired, etc.	$1,581 60
Lateral sewers: inspection, flushing, etc.	382 58
New drains, catch-basins, etc.	965 18
Brooks, culverts and drains	307 14
Railroad brook, village sewer and Muddy river	179 28
Total	<hr/> $3,415 78

Collecting Ashes.

The cost of collecting the ashes and dry dirt throughout the town was $3,051.28. Those collected in the lower part of the town are dumped on the Park lands, and those collected from other parts of the town are given to parties owning low lands near where the ashes are collected.

Public Grounds and Sundries.

The usual work on the public grounds and school-house lots was done. The lot on Dudley street, which served as a dumping ground for ashes, etc., for so many years, has been filled up with material from the Cowan lot. A path was made diagonally across the Brookline avenue playground from near the school-house to the bridge on Aspinwall avenue; the trees set out on this lot are doing well. The grounds around the Pierce Primary school-house and the rear of the Town Hall were concreted. The cost of what was done was $1,976.27.

The bath-house tank was cleaned at a cost of $74.98.

Sundry work in connection with the building of the catch-basins and sewers, in addition to that already mentioned under the head of Care of Sewers, was done by this department, and the cost, $1,300.95, was charged to the extension of sewers.

Sundry other work, amounting in the aggregate to $393.47, was done, and the cost was charged to the proper accounts.

The customary schedule of property belonging to the department is on file in this office.

Respectfully submitted,

MICHAEL DRISCOLL,
Superintendent of Streets and Sewers.

REPORT OF THE INSPECTOR OF BUILDINGS.

OFFICE OF THE INSPECTOR OF BUILDINGS,
BROOKLINE, MASS., January 31, 1890.

To the Selectmen:—

GENTLEMEN,—The inspector of buildings has the honor to submit his first report, comprising the work performed from May 15, 1889, to Jan. 31, 1890, inclusive.

The whole number of permits granted was 266. Of that number —

30 were for brick and stone buildings, costing	$516,000 00
58 for wood and frame buildings, costing	361,850 00
20 for additions and repairs, costing	15,750 00
158 for plumbing, costing	57,545 00
	<hr/>
	$951,145 00

Number of visits of inspection, 321.

If the department had been ready for business on the first of May, as intended, there would have been added to the above, thirty-eight buildings, at a cost of $467,500; which, added to the sum mentioned above, would bring the cost of buildings commenced since May 1, 1889, to $1,418,645.

Permits were granted for the plumbing in the thirty-eight houses above mentioned, which accounts in part for the larger number of permits for that purpose.

Acting as inspector for the board of health, the inspector has visited 116 houses and out-buildings, and, where needed, the premises have been put in good condition. On inspection, the plumbing has been entirely removed from four houses, one of them (which had been built but seven years) at a cost of more than five hundred dollars.

The inspector has paid particular attention to plumbing and drainage, and also to the manner in which heating apparatus has been placed in cellars and partitions, and has had occasion to require changes to be made in order that the work should conform to the building law, which some out-of-town mechanics seem to think they are not bound to obey. This goes to show that inspection did not come before it was needed.

The inspector would suggest that some arrangement should be made so that he could be furnished with a horse, as the territory to be covered is so large that he finds it impossible to answer all the calls upon him as promptly as should be done.

With this report the books of record will be placed before you for your inspection.

Respectfully submitted,

W. K. MELCHER,

Inspector.

REPORT ON SUITS TO WHICH THE TOWN IS A PARTY.

BROOKLINE, January 30, 1890.

ALBERT L. LINCOLN, JR., ESQ.,

Chairman Selectmen of Brookline:—

DEAR SIR,—We report as follows concerning the actions in which we have been of counsel for the town, to wit :

First.

The Beacon Street Cases.

We are unable to report any progress with these cases, for the reason that several important questions of law which were raised by our exceptions in the Benton case, and which must inevitably arise in all the other cases, have not yet been decided by the supreme court. These questions were argued before that court in January, 1889, but no decision has been rendered.

We regret very much indeed that the town should be subjected to this delay in the trial of these cases, but it is obviously of no use to put the town, or the parties, to the expense of trials which may be rendered nugatory, at any moment, by a decision upon the exceptions now before the court.

Second.

William Bigham v. Alfred D. Chandler et al.

It will be seen by our last report, that this was an action against the selectmen of 1884, in which the plaintiff alleged that the board agreed with him, that if he would waive his claim against the town, for any damages he might have, by reason of the raising of White place, which was then contemplated, they, the selectmen, would raise his house and land, on said place, so as to conform to the new grade of said way ; and that the defendants so negligently performed their said alleged agreement, that his house was greatly strained and weakened, and the plastering so cracked that it fell in many places.

The selectmen denied that they ever made any such agreement, and denied that the house was in fact injured.

The case came up for trial before Judge Aldrich, without a jury, in the superior court at Dedham, and, after a trial of about two days, the court found for the defendants.

The plaintiff alleged exceptions, but on going before the judge to settle the form of the bill of exceptions, the judge stated that he had found for the defendants upon the facts, and accordingly the exceptions were waived, and judgment was entered for the defendants.

Third.

Patrick Kelley vs. Francis W. Lawrence et al.

Johanna Conway vs. Same.

Two actions brought against the board of health of 1883, and a contractor employed by the board, for injuries alleged to have been done to the plaintiffs' premises by altering the drains therein.

These cases were tried together in the superior court at Dedham, and verdicts were returned in the sum of $72 in favor of Kelley, and $95 in favor of Conway.

At the trial we claimed that the defendants were not liable at all, and took exceptions.

Afterwards, although the amounts recovered were insignificant, the selectmen, upon consultation, were of opinion that the question, whether boards of health of this town were liable to be sued whenever they undertook to remedy a nuisance threatening the public health (as in this case), ought not to be left to the verdict of a jury, but ought to be presented to the supreme court for decision.

Accordingly, the exceptions were carried to that court, were argued there in this present month, and we are now awaiting a decision.

Fourth.Ludwig Hupprich vs. Town of Brookline.

Action of tort for injuries to plaintiff and his horse and wagon, alleged to have been caused by a defect in Boylston street, Brookline, nearly opposite the barn on the Wright estate in the upper part of the town. Finding, after a good deal of chaffering with the plaintiff's counsel, that the case could be settled for $325, net, we concluded (the board having referred the question to us) that it was, upon the whole, better to pay this sum than to put the town to the expense of a trial, which might possibly result in the recovery of a larger sum. It should be said that there was no doubt of the existence of a defect in the street, at or about the time of the accident, caused by a sudden caving of the road-bed near a culvert, owing, probably, to rain; and that the only question, besides that of damages, which we could have litigated, was whether the town had such notice of the defect as would render it liable.

Fifth.John Panter vs. Town of Brookline.Bridget McManus vs. Same.

Two petitions for grade damages caused by raising the grade of Pond avenue. The latter was brought after the making of our last report. These cases were tried in the superior court, at Dedham, in October last, and verdicts were returned in favor of Mr. Panter in the sum of $1,195.94, and in favor of Mrs. McManus in the sum of $200.25. There was more than the usual divergence of opinion among the witnesses in this case, as to the effect of the change of grade upon the petitioners' land. The grade was raised in front of the petitioners' land about four feet, on an average.

Mr. James W. Edgerly, a witness for the plaintiffs, testified that the injury to the land thereby occasioned amounted to fifteen cents a foot, which would have made the damages of both plaintiffs together amount to $10,500. Mr. Austin W. Benton testified for the plaintiffs that the injury amounted to fifteen or twenty cents a foot, i. e. from $10,500 to $14,000.

George H. Wheeler, for the plaintiffs, placed the damages at ten to fifteen cents a foot. The other witnesses for the plaintiffs were Hon. William Aspinwall, John Panter, Mrs. McManus, James Driscoll, Jr., Mr. O'Beirne and James B. Hand.

The defendants' testimony tended to show that the raising of the grade not only did not injure the land at all, but was, in fact, a positive benefit to it, rendering building easier, and giving the land sewage, which it did not have before. The defendants' witnesses were Roswell S. Burrows and Louis L. P. Atwood, two real estate brokers and experts, Messrs. Lincoln, James and Bowker of the board, and Mr. Alfred D. Chandler.

The petitioners, before the trial, refused to accept less than $3,500 for the two cases.

The verdicts rendered have been paid, and the proper entries made upon the docket of the court.

Sixth.

The Cypress Street Railroad Crossing.

This case came up for trial before a jury of the superior court, at Dedham, this month, to determine how the cost of doing the work made necessary by the bridging of Cypress street should be apportioned between the town, the county and the railroad.

Upon the impanelling of the jury, the usual questions were put by the presiding judge to all the jurors, with a view to determining whether any of the jurors were disqualified by interest, or relation of any sort, business or otherwise, with any of the parties to the suit. In the course of this inquiry the jurors were asked explicitly to state whether any of them were in the employ of the railroad company. This question was so distinctly put that it would seem as if no one could fail to understand it, and none of the jurors responded. The case was then, after two challenges of jurors by the railroad and one by the town, opened to the jury, and a view of the crossing was taken, and on the following day the trial proceeded.

On the sixth day of the trial the counsel for the town and the court learned through the attorney for the railroad, who stated that the matter had just been brought to his attention, that one of the jurors was employed by the railroad company to assist the station agent at Wellesley. Upon this fact being made known, the juror was directed by the court to leave the panel.

Thereupon, the counsel for the county and for the town offered and agreed in open court to go on with the trial before eleven jurors, feeling that, as much time had been spent, as the evidence was all in, and as nothing remained but the arguments, they would be justified in so doing, especially in view of the importance of getting an early decision of the case.

The case was postponed, in order to allow the counsel for the railroad company to consult with the president of the road, and later in the day we were informed that the railroad would not proceed with the case. As the railroad could not be compelled to go on with less than the full number of jurors, the whole trial was lost, and the same steps will have to be gone over again.

At the earliest practicable moment, we moved before Judge Hammond, who tried the case, to allow us another trial at the present sitting of the court, before a new jury; and he has not decided whether the other business of the court will permit him to do so or not, but has intimated his willingness to grant our request.

Seventh.

George A. Goddard vs. the County of Norfolk, the Boston & Albany R. R. Co., and the Town of Brookline.

Edward S. Ritchie vs. Same.

These are petitions for damages claimed by the petitioners by reason of the decree of the county commissioners of July 3, 1888, ordering the building of a bridge over the railroad at Cypress street crossing, and the raising of the grade by the construction of the necessary approaches to the bridge.

The petitions are brought against the town, the railroad and the county, but until it shall have been determined which of these parties is to be held responsible for the payment of the land and grade damages, it will probably not be desirable for plaintiffs or defendants to bring the cases to trial, and the trial of these cases will, therefore, probably be deferred until the Cypress street crossing case is determined.

If, for any reason, it should be found desirable to bring these cases to trial before final disposition of the crossing case, there is nothing in the disposition made of these cases to prevent that course being taken.

Yours very truly,

M. & C. A. WILLIAMS.

SURVEYORS OF HIGHWAYS.

ORGANIZATION, 1889-90.

REPORT OF THE SURVEYORS OF HIGHWAYS.

The surveyors of highways have the honor to submit the following report for the year ending January 31, 1890 :—

The selectmen were elected surveyors of highways, as usual, in 1889, but the act printed below would seem to render the further election of surveyors unnecessary, as it will be seen that all their powers and duties are given to the superintendent of streets.

[CHAP. 98.]

AN ACT TO PROVIDE FOR THE APPOINTMENT OF A SUPERINTENDENT OF STREETS IN TOWNS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows :—

SECT. 1. As soon after the annual town meeting as may be, the board of selectmen shall appoint some suitable person to be a superintendent of streets, who shall serve during the year and until his successor is appointed and qualified in his stead.

SECT. 2. Said superintendent of streets shall, under the direction of the selectmen, have full charge of all repairs and labor required of towns upon streets, ways, bridges and sidewalks, and the care and preservation of shade trees, and in relation thereto shall have all the powers and be subject to the duties, liabilities and penalties now or hereafter imposed upon surveyors of highways.

SECT. 3. In towns where no other provision is made, said superintendent of streets shall have full charge of all repairs required of towns upon sewers and drains, and in relation thereto shall have the same powers and be subject to the same duties, liabilities and penalties as are imposed upon said superintendent in section two of this act, in relation to the repairs of streets, ways, sidewalks and bridges.

SECT. 4. When, in the judgment of the selectmen, the best interests of the town so requires, said superintendent may be removed from his office by said board; and whenever a vacancy shall occur in the office of superintendent of streets, either by removal, resignation or otherwise, the board of selectmen shall appoint some suitable person to fill the vacancy, who shall hold his office until his successor is appointed and qualified in his stead.

SECT. 5. Said superintendent shall be sworn to the faithful discharge of his duties, and shall receive such compensation for his services as the board of selectmen or town may by vote determine.

SECT. 6. Any town which has accepted, or shall hereafter accept, the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-eight of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and seventy-one, or of sections seventy-five, seventy-six, seventy-seven and seventy-eight of chapter twenty-seven of the public statutes, shall be exempt from the provisions of this act, until such acceptance is revoked by such town.

SECT. 7. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

SECT. 8. This act shall take effect in the several towns of this commonwealth from and after the next annual meeting for the election of town officers, which may be held subsequent to its passage. [Approved March 11, 1889.]

So far as our town is concerned, the practical effect of the act is of little account, as we have had a superintendent of streets since May 1st, 1871, and the result is simply to shift certain statute responsibilities, as the selectmen will undoubtedly continue to exercise the same supervision over the streets of the town which they have heretofore exercised as surveyors of highways; while the money raised for the repairs of streets must continue to be spent under their direction.

The districts into which the town has heretofore been divided for the purpose of being assigned to the several surveyors, as formerly required by statute, have been maintained as usual this year, each selectman taking under his especial care each district, as follows:—

DISTRICT No. 1. MR. LINCOLN.

Beacon street from Boston line to Harvard street, Pleasant, Green, Freeman and Babcock streets, Longwood and Sewall avenues, Marshal and Charles streets, St. Paul street (north of Longwood avenue), Kent (north of Francis street), Colchester, Carlton, Ivy, Essex, Mountfort, Prescott, Monmouth and St. Mary's streets, and Monmouth court.

DISTRICT No. 2. MR. BOWKER.

Beacon street from Harvard to Washington street, Winchester, Centre, Park, Marion, Vernon, Harris, Harvard, School, Prospect, Pierce, Holden, Alton, St. Paul (south of Longwood avenue), Kent (south of Francis street), Francis, Toxteth, Perry, Brook and Station streets, and Summit, Harvard and Aspinwall avenues.

DISTRICT No. 3. MR. JAMES.

Washington street from Boylston street to Brighton line, White place, Gardner and Sullivan roads, Gardner path, Beacon street from Washington street to Brighton line, Cypress street from Boylston to Washington street, Buckminster, Clinton, Sumner and Clark roads, Boylston street from Cypress street to Newton line, Tappan, Elm, Waverly and Thayer streets, Thayer place, and Davis, Gorham, Fisher, Chestnut Hill and Englewood avenues.

DISTRICT NO. 4. MR. CHESTER.

Boylston street from Cypress to Washington street, Walnut street from Cypress to Washington street, Washington street from Boylston street to Boston line, High, Irving, Flora, Juniper, Pearl, Emerald and Allerton streets, Edgehill road, and Brookline, Pond, Morss and Walter avenues, and Boylston place.

DISTRICT NO. 5. MR. DALAND.

Walnut street from Cypress to Boylston street, Cypress street from Boylston to Chestnut street, Sewall, Chestnut, Warren, Dudley, Heath, Pound, Hammond, Grove, South, Newton, Clyde, Cottage, Lagrange, Rockwood and Avon streets, Goddard avenue and Allandale road.

The town now owns three stone crushers, one located at the Cowan gravel pit, one at Leonard's ledge in Brighton, and a new one, just purchased, at the ledge upon the almshouse lot just back of the high-service pumping station.

The experiences of this winter and the contrast of the effect of frost upon roads constructed with stone, as Beacon street was constructed, and upon our ordinary gravel roads, must convince any one that if we are to have good roads all the year round, they must be built and repaired more largely, if not entirely, with stone. This has been the recommendation of everyone who has considered the subject. In 1873, George Tyler, our first superintendent of streets, in his report "on system of repairs," says:—

"You are well aware that I have always advocated making our main streets of stone, either by the Telford method or the one adopted by the town for some of our streets in former years. . . . The Telford roadway is estimated by competent engineers to cost $12,000 per mile, and a gravelled road costs $6,000 per mile. . . . I think these roads can be built for somewhat less than the above estimate by the town, if we own the rock and the necessary machinery for working it; and I would advise making over in this way parts of streets as they become worn out and rough. . . . We ought to be able to make two miles of this road every year, and every new street should be estimated for this kind of road-bed."

Our present superintendent has repeatedly expressed this same opinion, but, in order to save first-cost, the advice has been very little followed, and as a consequence we have very few roads fit for travel under such changes of weather as we have had this season, and the repairs on such roads as we have are necessarily greater in proportion, while the supply of gravel in the town, suitable for such repairs, is rapidly being exhausted.

The selectmen have recommended the same amount for highways this year as last, a part of which will have to be spent for setting up the new stone-crusher. This amount will hardly allow of any extensive repairs in the manner recommended above, and we think if it shall be found necessary to repair any of our main streets to any considerable extent, a special appropriation for the purpose of making such repairs with stone by the Telford method should be made. It will undoubtedly be found that a steam roller also will be an economy in case of extensive repairs with stone, and will be almost a necessity when the surface of Beacon street shall need to be renewed. The cost of a steam roller is about $4,000.

The town map has not been published since 1886. The stone from which it is lithographed is owned by the town, and to make the changes up to date would probably not be very expensive. In view of the many new streets which have been laid out in the past five years we recommend its publication with the next annual town report.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

The following report is made by the agent of the board,
George K. Sabine, M. D. :—

There have been reported during the year ending December 31, 1889, three cases of scarlet fever, eleven of diphtheria, and four of typhoid fever, occurring as follows :—

	Scarlet Fever.	Diphtheria.	Typhoid Fever.
January	0	4	0
February	0	0	0
March	2	1	0
April	1	1	0
June	0	1	0
July	0	3	0
August	0	0	2
September	0	1	1
October	0	0	0
November	0	0	1
	<hr/> 3	<hr/> 11	<hr/> 4

The following table shows the number of cases of scarlet fever and diphtheria reported during the last thirteen years, and the number of typhoid fever cases during the last eight :

	Scarlet Fever.	Diphtheria.	Typhoid Fever.
1877	46	29	0
1878	15	19	0
1879	16	12	0
1880	17	25	0
1881	5	26	0
1882	12	7	4
1883	24	7	23
1884	38	19	12
1885	40	3	9
1886	79	9	13
1887	27	1	9
1888	21	7	9
1889	3	11	4

The cases of diphtheria occurred as follows: One on Clinton road, probably imported; one each on Morss avenue, Summit avenue, Reservoir lane, Emerald street, Babcock street near Harvard, Juniper street, Washington street near Brighton line, Washington street in the village, and two on Cypress street opposite town stable.

The cases of typhoid fever occurred in the following localities:—

Upper Boylston street	1
Sewall street	1
Beacon street, near Carlton	1
Edgehill road (imported)	1

It will be observed that the number of cases of scarlet fever reported (only three) is much smaller than has occurred during the previous twelve years, during which time the average has been over twenty-eight, and only on one occasion has the number fallen as low as five.

The number of cases of diphtheria is rather larger than for the previous four years. Still it is somewhat below the average for the previous twelve. Only four cases of typhoid fever were reported, one of these, at least, being imported—a smaller number than has occurred since 1882.

This record is very remarkable, owing to the slight prevalence of the above-mentioned diseases, when compared with that of other places equally large.

As has been suggested in previous reports, some method should be devised by which children who already have whooping-cough, and those who have not, but have been exposed to it, shall be prevented from attending school. Many children who contract the disease in the schools transmit it to the younger members of the family at home, and each year the number of deaths occurring in young children is very considerable.

The whole number of deaths within the town was one hundred and seventy-six, against one hundred and twenty-three in 1888, one hundred and fifty-four in 1887, and one hundred and forty-nine in 1886. Deducting the still births, twelve in number, it leaves one hundred and sixty-four deaths during the year, or a mortality of 15.49 per thousand, —the estimated population for 1889 being 10,582.

The average number of deaths for the last ten years, not including still births, has been 129.4. Taking the number of inhabitants as given in the census of 1885, which is 9,196, and is probably a fair average for the five years preceding and following that date, it would give an average mortality of 14.07 per thousand. This is somewhat lower than that for last year.

There were five deaths from diphtheria, one from scarlet fever, one from typhoid fever, and two from whooping-cough.

At the beginning of the year Alonzo Bowman was appointed inspector of milk, and G. K. Sabine, M.D., agent for the board, and to give the legal certificate in case of the death of any person without an attending physician.

The licenses of J. D. Gutterson and O'Day Brothers as funeral undertakers were renewed.

Early in April the board advertised for proposals for collecting house-offal, and on April 29 awarded the contract to David B. Morrill. The terms of the contract were that the offal should be collected daily for five months of the year, from large boarding-houses, stores and markets, and three times a week from the remainder of the town; and during seven months, collections should be made from all places three times a week, for the sum of $1,800 for the year; or, if required to collect daily from all dwelling houses, $100 per month should be added for such further service during the time that daily service is required. Later, it was decided to have the house-offal collected daily from all the residences of the town during the month of September.

Between January 1st and the commencement of the contract with said Morrill, the sum of $719.16 was paid Eben W. Reed for doing the work.

A license was granted Patrick McCarty to collect grease and bones for one year from June 1st, subject to the usual rules under which such licenses are granted, and it was agreed that no other licenses for this purpose should be granted during this period, provided that all the rules should be complied with. Heretofore it has been customary to grant a number of licenses, which has been a much less satisfactory way of having the work done than is employed at present.

On May 13th, Wm. K. Melcher was appointed inspector for the board. The inspector has made one hundred and sixteen examinations of premises, as to their sanitary condition. Fourteen notices have been served for the abatement of nuisances, and there have been three prosecutions for non-compliance with the orders of the board.

The following orders were passed April 23d :—

Ordered, That no public funeral shall be held over the remains of any person having died of small pox, scarlet fever, or diphtheria, without the written permit of the board of health, and under such regulations as may prevent the spread of either of said diseases. Ordered further, that the remains of persons dying of either of said diseases shall at once be placed in a tight or sealed coffin, and shall not thereafter be exposed to view, or disturbed except for burial.

Ordered, That no child be allowed to attend school from any house where there is or has been a case of scarlet fever or diphtheria, until the expiration of at least four weeks from the commencement of the last case.

Ordered, That no child, from any house where there is or has been a case of scarlet fever, shall be allowed to mingle with those of any other house, until the expiration of at least four weeks from the commencement of the last case.

Ordered, That no dead body of any person shall be carried to any cemetery, or from one place to another within the town, in any public vehicle other than a hearse, or undertaker's wagon provided for that purpose.

Ordered, That from May 1st to Nov. 1st, no vault or cesspool shall be emptied by any other than the odorless process, nor by carts not of the Odorless Excavating Company, except permission be first obtained from the chief of police.

Ordered, That the manure from livery and horse-car stables shall not be removed from the stables between the hours of sunrise and sunset.

Voted, That the secretary be directed to notify the trustees of the public library of the existence of any case of contagious disease as soon as it is reported.

Attention is called to the following statute :—

[ACTS OF 1884—CHAPTER 98.]

AN ACT CONCERNING CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows :

SECTION 1. When a householder knows that a person within his family is sick of small-pox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the selectmen or board of health of the town in which he dwells, and upon the death, recovery or removal of such person, the room occupied and the articles used by him shall be disinfected by such householder in a manner approved by the board of health. Any person neglecting or refusing to comply with either of the above provisions, shall forfeit a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars.

SECT. 2. When a physician knows that a person whom he is called to visit is infected with small-pox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the selectmen or board of health of the town; and if he refuses or neglects to give such notice, he shall forfeit for each offence not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars.

SECT. 3. The boards of health in the several cities and towns shall cause a record to be kept of all reports received in pursuance of the preceding sections, and such record shall contain the names of all persons who are sick, the localities in which they live, the diseases with which they are affected, together with the date and the names of the persons reporting any such cases. The boards of health shall give the school committee immediate information of all cases of contagious diseases reported to them according to the provisions of this act.

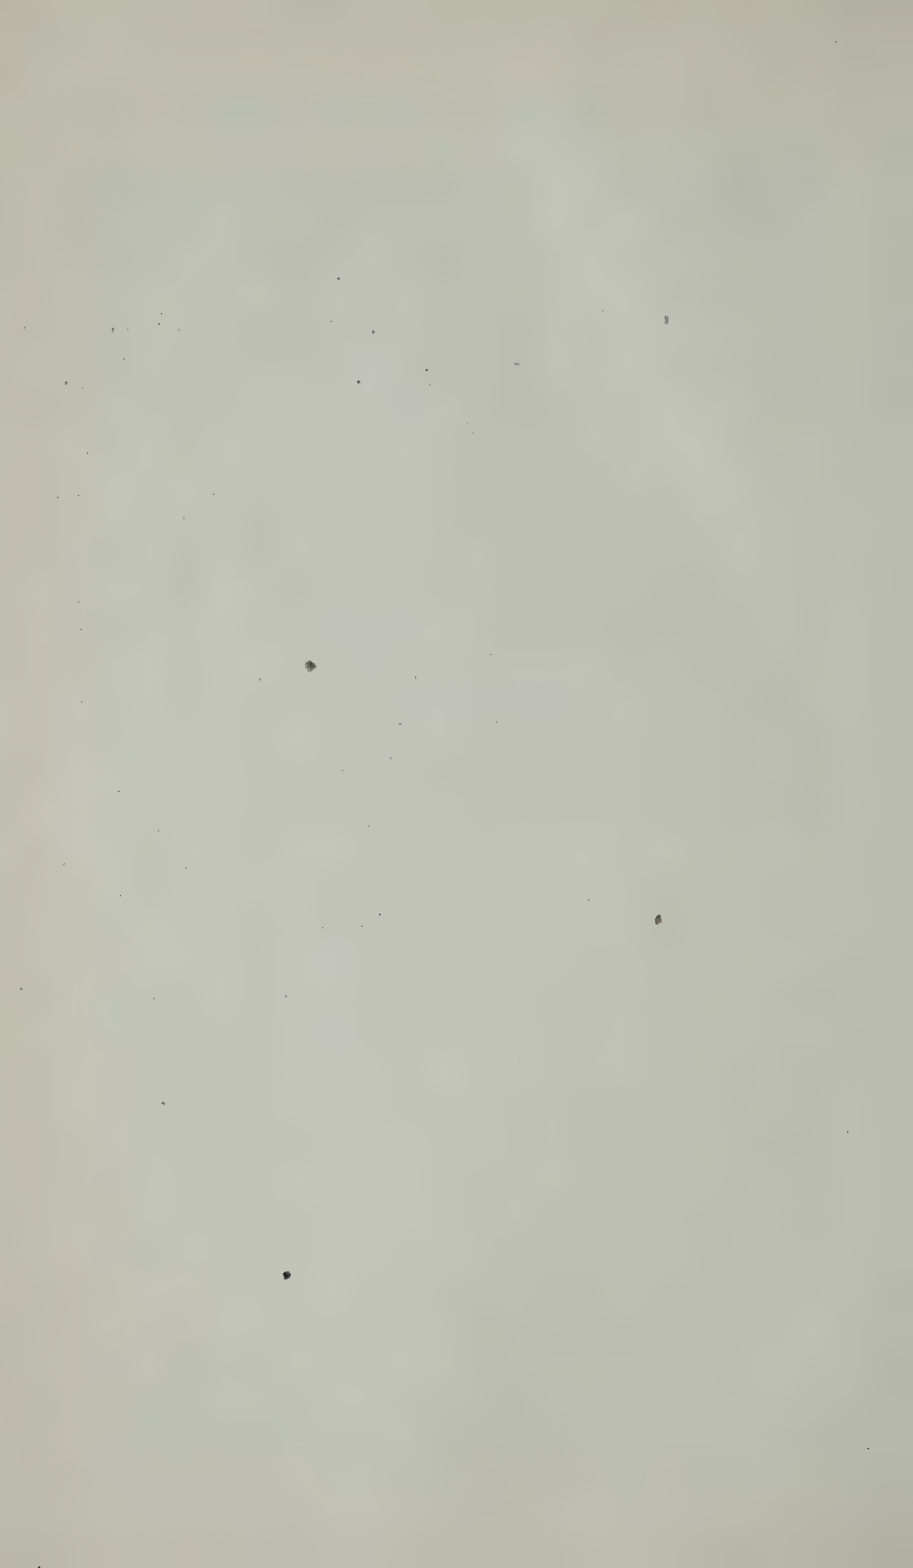

SECT. 4. The secretary of the commonwealth shall furnish the boards of health with blank books for the record of cases of contagious diseases as above provided.

SECT. 5. Sections seventy-eight and seventy-nine of chapter eighty of the public statutes are hereby repealed.

One license only has been issued for the sale of oleo-margarine, or imitation butter, and that to Mr. P. Quinn of Cambridgeport. Two prosecutions have been made and convictions had for the illegal sale of imitation butter.

One hundred and fifty cans (pints) of milk have been purchased of licensed dealers, and thoroughly tested — besides many samples submitted for examination by purchasers and consumers of milk. The quality of milk furnished by dealers has been of a high standard. The reports of the department of milk inspection of the state board of health give Brookline a high rating for the purity of the milk sold.

The attention of the state board of health was called, in June last, by Dr. G. K. Sabine, to the matter of proper sanitary regulations as regards cleanliness of the surroundings, and care in milking, and treatment of cows, and circulars were issued by that board to milk producers, which it is thought has had a tendency to improve the quality and purity of the milk sold in the town.

It is to small dealers (stores) that my attention is oftener directed, as to the purity and quality of the milk sold. I have had to call the attention of several of the above-mentioned dealers to the fact that the milk sold by them was slightly below the standard.

I am indebted to Doctors Sabine and Blanchard for valuable advice and assistance in this department.

Respectfully submitted,

ALONZO BOWMAN,

Inspector of Milk.

THE SICK POOR — Mrs. Cabot, Mr. James.

REPORT OF THE OVERSEERS OF THE POOR.

In reviewing the past year, we find but little change in the general condition of our poor. The numbers dependent on town aid remain almost precisely the same as during the previous year. Our expenditure is about one thousand dollars more, which is accounted for at once by a glance at the increased number of insane, always the largest and the most hopeless item on our account. Nearly one-half of our appropriation is spent for these unfortunate people; and even within a few weeks two new cases have been added to their number.

Our almshouse continues in a satisfactory condition, admirably kept by Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, and providing, in the best way, for those within its walls, while it acts usefully as a preventive to many who would become dependent on the town, were out-door relief accessible to all.

Our out-door relief is restricted, carefully, to widows and children, deserted wives, and a few old men and single women. Care is taken to reduce it as soon as the children become old enough to assist in the support of their families. We feel sure that, in this way, excellent results have already been reached, and we hope in time to see several families become independent who are now legitimate recipients of relief.

We have only two orphan children dependent upon the town at present. One of these is boarded with an uncle in Brookline; the other is cared for by friends in the town of Wellfleet. One family of four children, who have received full support for many years, have, one by one, become able to provide for themselves, and are now independent citizens. The last member of this family received the last aid from the town in the early part of this year. The subjoined tables show in detail the distribution of the various forms of relief; the insane in the hospitals, the widows, with children, in their own homes. A few single women and widows without children receive a small amount of aid to supplement their own efforts for support.

Several families are helped in other towns, where they have relatives or friends who assist them.

The sick poor have been aided either at home or in the hospitals, according to the circumstances of the case.

We believe that pauperism is not increasing in our town, in spite of the increase in population, and that, if the present system of strict inquiry and careful expenditure is adhered to, we may hope to see it diminish.

THE WATER BOARD.

WATER BOARD.

ORGANIZATION, 1889-90.

GEORGE H. JOHNSON Term expires 1890.
FRANCIS HUNNEWELL Term expires 1891.
WILLIAM K. MELCHER Term expires 1892.

FRANCIS HUNNEWELL, Clerk and Registrar.
FAYETTE F. FORBES, Superintendent of Works.
Z. R. FORBES, Superintendent's Assistant.

WILLIAM B. WEBBER, Engineer at High Service Station.

REPORT OF THE WATER BOARD.

The water board submit herewith their fourteenth annual report for the fiscal year closing Jan. 31, 1890.

At the annual town meeting, held March 27, 1889, William K. Melcher was re-elected a member of the board for three years. The board organized by the choice of William K. Melcher, chairman, and Francis Hunnewell, registrar and clerk. The principal employees on the works remain the same as the previous year.

Street Mains — Extensions.

No extensive street extensions were made the past year, as distinguished the two previous years, when the work on Beacon street and the extensions through the Holyhood district were completed. But as the subjoined report of the superintendent will show, the extensions have been for the year more general, and principally through newly accepted streets, and in joining dead ends to perfect the circulation. With these, it appears that we have increased our street extensions by 4,533 feet, making the total number of miles of street-mains laid to date, $44\frac{2}{3}$. The number of service-pipes laid the past year was 123, making the total laid, 1,754.

Future Extensions and Water Supply.

Acting under the vote of the town, in town meeting, July 8, 1889, whereby the selectmen and water board were made a special committee for the extension of the works at Cow bay, the pipe is on the ground and the work of extending a twenty-four-inch pipe across Charles river and on to our lately acquired territory will be hurried on the coming season, under the direction of the water board, with Supt. Forbes as engineer.

Tubular wells are to be driven at intervals along the entire length of the extension, and connected with the twenty-four-inch main; the water thus obtained to be carried by gravity or forced into our present galleries and pump-well. These tubular wells will be driven by our own employees, a complete set of tools having been purchased for the purpose, thereby very materially reducing the cost of this branch of the work.

If the preliminary borings and investigations extending over several years are any guide, the result of this extension must be a substantial increase to our water supply.

It has been found necessary, in order to protect our present work, that more land should be acquired on the opposite side of Charles river. Consequently, the territory known as Powell's island has been secured, embracing about sixty acres. The larger portion of this has been purchased outright and a title by deed obtained, and the balance has been seized for water purposes under our act.

With these recent land acquisitions, located, as they are known to be, in the very centre of the water basin of the Charles river valley, it may be regarded that our water supply is assured for many years to come, with the proper guards against reckless waste.

Meter Service.

On the 14th of November, 1888, the town took the first step towards a general meter system, and endorsed by its action this method of assessing water rates as the most just and equitable to the consumer, and in the end most economical to the town. At this date we had in use 156 meters. We have today 576 meters set, beside those in the public buildings; and while in very many cases among the smaller consumers the water-rates are materially reduced, this is more than offset by the saving from leakage and waste, and the consequent saving in pumping expenses, as shown by the superintendent's tables. We find the moment a meter is set in a residence, from that moment the occupant becomes the vigilant inspector of his plumbing and water fixtures, and with these in order his consumption and waste is reduced to a minimum. Herein lies the value of this system to water producers, and the consequent protection to the consumers.

The meter is the only present reliable protector of our water supply. All other inspection has been found to be faulty and unreliable, and it is more than probable that within ten years no other system will be recognized for assessing water-rates.

Quality of Our Water Supply.

The water from the high-service system has been of uniform excellent quality since the tank was covered in August, 1888, and therefore requires no comment.

The water from the Fisher Hill reservoir, the little that has reached the consumers, has occasioned more or less complaint, according to location. On the whole the water during the past year has been less objectionable than for several years previous, up to about Nov. 1st. At this date, as has been the custom for the past four years, the pumping-time at the low-service station was reduced from 16 to 12 hours daily.

It had been discovered by the microscopic examinations made daily by the superintendent, that a new species of vegetable growth was appearing in the water not before found there, and that it was rapidly changing the quality of the water to intensely disagreeable.

The complaints which poured into the water board office from all parts of the town on the low service were more general and pointed than at any other one time since the works were established. Although the amount of water which got into the distributing-mains was comparatively very small, still its character was so pungent and intensely offensive to taste and smell, that all the water was rendered entirely unfit for domestic use. Consequently the pumps were again started up to the 16-hour time, and finding that this did not remove the difficulty, on the 8th of January, 1890, 24 hours daily pumping was ordered, and this has been continued down to the time of preparing this report.

At this season of the year it is possible to keep up this amount of daily pumping, but it would not be possible during the summer months, with our system of work, not even with the increased supply we expect to obtain by the new extension. Neither our pumping capacity nor force-main will warrant any such demand in the season of low water and large consumption for street and domestic purposes.

There seems, therefore, but the one radical cure for this difficulty, namely, a covered reservoir, and the water board would therefore urgently recommend that immediate steps be taken to this end.

The water in the reservoir may not continue so offensive, and most likely will not. Indeed, the growth which has occasioned the latest and greatest trouble seems to be already diminishing. But it is now a well understood fact that water stored under circumstances like Brookline's cannot be relied upon for domestic purposes, and therefore no temporizing policy will satisfy the consumers.

The tone and character of the complaints which reach the office of the water board — after ever so trifling an influx of reservoir water has, by chance, got into circulation — is an all-sufficient warrant for bringing the subject of a covered reservoir again before the town, and leaving the responsibility of the poor water to the action of the citizens.

Buildings.

The buildings and other property of this department are generally in excellent condition, but it will be necessary this year to relay the floor of the engine room at the low-service station, Cow bay, and to enlarge the workshop on Walnut street.

The low-service station was rebuilt without a sub-cellar, and it has been found almost impossible to keep a wood floor in the engine room in good order, or, indeed, in place. It is therefore proposed to lay either a tile or iron floor, if no better protection from the dampness below can be devised.

It is imperative that we should have more room for our workshop, which is under the same roof with the stable. We have completely outgrown these quarters, and must either enlarge them or find another location.

The water board has therefore thought it necessary to call for an appropriation for both of these objects.

Miscellaneous.

The valve-stems of all the hydrants have been repacked, and the usual inspection maintained.

The telegraph line has been practically rebuilt, and is now in excellent working order. On account of numerous wires and the large number of trees on Boylston street, covered wire was used on this part of the route.

It will be necessary to paint the high-service tank both inside and out, as soon as the weather will permit. It was intended to do this work the past season, but after a careful examination, it was thought it could be safely postponed one year. The foundation has been re-pointed. Frequent microscopic examinations of the water in this tank show no green algæ, and the water has been without taste or smell.

Owing to the wet season, the supply from the galleries has been ample, and of the usual excellent quality. The materials for the extension here are largely purchased, and everything is in readiness to commence work as soon as the level of the water in the river will permit, which probably will not be till the latter part of June.

The floor of the low-service engine house is quite badly rotted, and must be rebuilt at once. Some changes in construction, which can be easily made, should be done, to guard against a like occurrence in the future.

The time is not far distant when, from an economical standpoint alone,—and leaving out of consideration the necessity of a larger pumping capacity,—a new high-duty engine should be purchased.

Some additions should also be made to the workshop. The work of this department, which is increasing each year, has no longer sufficient accommodations in the present building as it now is.

The high-service station, with all its surroundings, is in good repair, and little outlay, except for the regular maintenance, will be required here.

The grounds of the reservoir lot are not in attractive shape, but if a covered reservoir is to be built soon, an outlay to improve these grounds would not be advisable.

As long as the water in the reservoir is exposed to sunlight, a total absence of all smell and taste cannot be assured. But, by a careful study of the algæ life which causes this trouble, the number of days in which an unpleasant taste is present can be greatly reduced. Yet there are liable to be periods when the water from the reservoir will be more or less disagreeable to the consumer.

I subjoin the following tables,—the record of consumption, etc.,—all of which is respectfully submitted.

F. F. FORBES,
Superintendent.

LOW-SERVICE ENGINEER'S REPORT.

PUMPING STATION, BROOKLINE WATER WORKS,
WEST ROXBURY, Feb. 4th, 1890.

To the Brookline Water Board:—

GENTLEMEN, — I have the honor to present the report of the engineer for the year ending Jan. 31, 1890.

The quantity of water pumped is about $22\frac{1}{2}$ million gallons less than last year. The pumps have been in operation 328 hours longer, in consequence of supplying the town directly from the galleries for a greater part of the year than formerly. For nearly all of the month of January the pumps have been working night and day at a speed just sufficient to supply the consumption. Necessarily the pump had to be run very slowly during the night, consequently the duty for that month has fallen off considerably. The average duty for the year is much better than last year, because of the thorough overhauling which I gave the engines last spring. In my weekly reports to the board I have noted in detail the repairs which have been made.

Both engines are in good condition, as are also the boilers, feed-pump, and everything connected with the pumping-station, except the floor of the engine-room, which needs relaying. The following table shows the amount of water pumped each month, coal consumed, etc.

Respectfully submitted,

RICHARD J. FLINN,

Engineer.

HIGH-SERVICE ENGINEER'S REPORT.

HIGH-SERVICE PUMPING STATION,
BROOKLINE, Feb. 1, 1890.

To the Brookline Water Board:—

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honor to present herewith the report of the engineer of the high-service pumping station for the year ending Jan. 31, 1890.

The boiler is in good condition. The brick-work under the boiler will need some repairs the coming season.

The engines have not required any repairs the past year, and at this date I cannot see that any will be needed for some time.

The woodwork outside of the fire and engine-room, and the dwelling house, may need painting before another year; otherwise the buildings are in good repair.

The land purchased by the water board the latter part of last year directly in front of this station has been graded and seeded, making a much needed improvement in this part of the town.

The amount of water pumped at this station shows an increase of about eleven per cent over last year. The following table will show the record at this station.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. B. WEBBER,

Engineer.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

The school committee of the town of Brookline respectfully submit their annual report for the financial year closing on Feb. 1, 1890.

The membership of the board at the present time, with the dates when their terms of service expire, is presented on the preceding page.

Shortly after the opening of the year Hon. Albert Mason resigned. His term of service would have expired with the present year, and in May last, at a convention of the school committee and the selectmen, Mrs. Crane was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy. In December last, the death of Rev. Dr. Brackett, whose term would also have expired with the close of the present financial year, caused another vacancy, which was filled in the following month in a similar convention by the choice of Mr. Latham. By the death of Dr. Brackett the town, no less than the committee, have lost the services of one deeply interested in the prosperity of our public schools, and who had devoted much time to their supervision. He is greatly missed from our meetings, and his valuable labors and judicious counsel, during the past seven years, will long be remembered by the teachers in our schools and by his associates on the committee.

The board organized shortly after the town meeting by the choice of Mr. Wm. H. Lincoln as chairman, and Mr. W. T. R. Marvin as secretary, and the appointment of the following standing committees : —

HIGH SCHOOL—Wm. T. R. Marvin, John D. Runkle, Chas. J. Lincoln.

Advisory Board.

In view of the movement to place ladies on the school committee, something more than a year ago the members of the advisory board tendered their resignations to the committee, but at our request they kindly consented to serve till the close of the school year. As the committee is now constituted it has not been thought necessary to elect a new advisory board, and it has therefore ceased to exist.

Teachers.

At the beginning of the school year Mr. W. H. Desper, who had given great satisfaction as sub-master in the High school, found it necessary, on account of his health, to resign his position, hoping to be able to resume it again when another year shall begin, which the board sincerely hope he may be able to do. The vacancy was temporarily filled by the appointment of Mr. Rolfe.

In the Pierce Grammar school Mr. E. P. Sherburne, who had been at the head of that school for the last six years, has recently resigned, to accept a place in the Boston schools. Mr. Sherburne has been very successful in the position he has held, and we are glad that the town does not lose his services altogether, for he has retained the charge of the Evening school, which he has also held for some time. The committee have appointed Mr. Charles N. Bentley, who comes to us with excellent recommendations from a neighboring city, to fill the vacancy.

In the Lawrence school Miss Fanny M. Houghton has been appointed in Miss Swanton's place, and Miss Sarah E. Proctor in the place of Miss Newton. In the Winthrop school we have appointed Miss Etta B. Nowell in place of Miss A. L. Richardson.

In the Pierce Grammar school Miss C. M. Kingman, who had the charge of the sixth grammar class, resigned in February, and Miss Frances W. Dawson was elected to succeed her. In May, Miss Annie L. Howe, of the Boylston school, resigned, in view of her approaching marriage, and in October, Miss Fannie L. Daggett, of the Pierce Primary, resigned for the same reason. Miss Lucy L. C. Bigelow was chosen to the vacancy in the Boylston school, and Miss Nellie W. French to succeed Miss Daggett in the Pierce Primary. Miss Josephine Gay has been appointed an assistant in the Boylston Kindergarten.

At the opening of the year Miss Collingwood resumed her position in the Heath school, and Miss Farren, who had very acceptably taken her place while absent, was given Miss Swanton's classes in the Lawrence school. She soon afterwards resigned on account of her health, and Miss Houghton was appointed to that place, as already mentioned. Miss Delia A. Kelly, of the Heath school, resigned at the close of the year, and Miss Esther E. E. Glynn has been appointed to succeed her.

The board, in June last, fixed upon a system of graded salaries for primary and grammar school teachers, based upon length of service and experience, substantially the same as that in force for several years, but some inequalities have now been rectified. The minimum salary was placed at $550. An annual increase of $25 was voted to be given, until the amount paid reaches $700. To those teachers who serve ten full years in our schools a further advance of $25 is given, making the maximum $725. While we consider the salaries, as now arranged, sufficient to command experienced and competent teachers, the maximum is somewhat less than that fixed by the city of Boston, whose committee not unfrequently draw away from us those whom we should be glad to retain.

School Buildings.

During the past year an annex to the Wm. H. Lincoln school has been constructed, and two of the rooms are now occupied, one by the school in carpentry, and one by the classes in drawing. Upon the completion of the Wm. H. Lincoln school-building it was arranged to begin a course of instruction in industrial education. Mr. Griffin, who had so successfully taught the boys in carpentry in the Vacation school, was appointed as a regular teacher, and a room was fitted in the basement of the building. A spare school-room was also fitted with special desks for drawing, and two spacious ante-rooms adjoining the large hall were prepared and occupied, one for cooking, and the other for sewing classes. The work thus begun in these different branches of education has proved a great success, and the results have exceeded our most sanguine expectations. It is the testimony of all the teachers that the time thus devoted has not interfered with the regular course of study, but has assisted materially in the development of the faculties and perceptions of the pupils. The board felt that the results warranted an extension of the work, and under more favorable conditions than could be obtained without additional room. The subject was presented to the town, and the appropriation asked for was granted, and the building erected. In a few months another room is to be fitted for wood-turning, and steam-power will be provided. It is expected in the course of another year to extend the system so as to include working in metals, and thus utilize all the rooms in the building.

We are pleased to mention the purchase by the town of the lot of land adjoining the new building, thus securing ample light and more space for a playground, and also providing for sufficient land for the erection of a manual training school at some future time, if the town should desire to enlarge the work still further.

The appropriations by the town to improve the sanitary conditions of the Lawrence and Boylston schools have enabled the committee to provide the best appliances for closets, etc., in brick buildings outside of the school-houses, but connected with them, and thus fully comply with the state requirements. The only building not in proper sanitary condition was the Longwood school. We notified the board of selectmen, and requested prompt attention, which was given.

The attendance at the Heath school has been increasing for several years, and all available room is now occupied. This building contains four rooms, and all the classes of primary and grammar grades are in attendance, making twelve classes in all, and but four teachers. It is probable an enlargement of this building will soon be necessary, but the expense will not be large.

It is apparent that in a short time the town will be called upon to make provision for the increase of grammar-school pupils. The Lawrence school can be enlarged by the addition of two rooms, and the old Pierce Grammar school-building should be remodelled and enlarged. The rapid growth of the town will soon oblige us to provide more accommodations than can now be furnished, but we think the changes named will suffice until it shall become necessary to establish another school nearer Beacon street, where the population is most rapidly increasing. The only school-rooms not now occupied are one in the Cabot school, one in the Pierce Primary, and one in the Longwood Primary school. The rooms in the Cabot and Pierce buildings will doubtless be required during the present year.

The subject of providing a drill-shed for the pupils of the High school was brought before the town, and after considerable discussion the town made an appropriation to cover the cost of construction of a building for this purpose; a contract was made, and the building is now in use, and accomplishes all that was desired or expected.

Courses of Study.

In the High school no essential change has been made in the course of study; the plans outlined in previous reports are going into operation as rapidly as consistent with the work of the school. The pupils in the upper class in the Pierce Grammar who take Latin have recited to Miss Fogg, in the High-school building, thus bringing considerable additional work on that teacher, but she has been able to perform the duties to our entire satisfaction. When the next school year begins, we hope to be able to return to our former plan and place these scholars in the charge of Mr. Bentley, as the increasing number of pupils in the High school makes the duties of all the teachers there much more arduous. A larger proportion than formerly are fitting for the Institute of Technology in this school, showing that we were none too soon in the modifications of our course reported last year.

In the grammar and primary schools, the entire course, from the beginning, has received a careful revision, and the new course has been printed for the use of the teachers. In this we have availed ourselves of the suggestions of the teachers and the superintendent of these schools. The principal change has been made in what is required to be taught in political geography. Unimportant map questions have been omitted; pupils are only required to study the more important subjects, to learn the location of the principal rivers, mountains and cities. Valuable time can thus be saved which can be employed more profitably in other directions. A considerable change has also been made in the course in arithmetic; subjects more adapted to the High-school course are omitted, as well as others of no practical importance. The teachers are also cautioned not to require a solution of problems or questions too intricate for pupils of ordinary minds to understand, or involving calculations of unusual or extraordinary amount.

We believe the introduction of this course will result in great benefit, and will enable the teachers to give more instruction in other branches of education. We feel that more time should be given to reading, to the study of literature, and to exercises in composition; thus securing a more complete knowledge of the language, and the power of expressing thought in a lucid and proper style.

In connection with this subject we may refer to the changes in the methods of examination. In the High school we have ceased to bring the different examinations into a few days coming closely together, much to the relief of the teachers and to the almost entire removal of nervous apprehension on the part of pupils; now, little notice of a coming examination is given; often a test of a class is taken when the scholars are entirely unconscious of what is going on. So far as we can judge from the results thus far attained, we are satisfied that this is a step in the right direction. In the grammar schools the plan suggested by the superintendent of those schools in his last annual report to the board has been carried out. The sub-committee on examinations are not entirely satisfied that this is altogether the best plan, although it is a relief, in removing the excitement and attendant consequences in the hot days of the closing weeks of school; they contemplate some further changes in the direction of the plan adopted in the High school, should the results at the close of the present year in that school justify it. In the High school more time is given to practice in military drill; and at the request of the girls in that school, and with the consent of their parents first obtained, they have been permitted to take part in these drills; and the very creditable appearance of that section in the prize drill in June last disarmed criticism, and seems to meet the approval of those most interested. A further reference to this will be found in the report of the sub-committee on drill, and of the military instructor.

In the study of music we are making some advance; the board have been repeatedly urged to give another musical exhibition similar to that of two years ago, and a special committee are now making the necessary arrangements.

High School.

Our High school is in most respects in excellent condition ; the teachers are not merely thoroughly loyal to the school, but are greatly interested in making it worthy of the town. We have missed very much the valuable services of Mr. Desper, who was sub-master last year, and we are not without hope that he may be able in the autumn to resume his work. The committee are satisfied, from the results of the examinations last year, that Brookline scholars can get all needed preparation in this school to enter creditably on their college or Institute course ; the standing in college of several of our recent graduates, as reported to us, is very gratifying to the board. Further particulars in regard to this school will be found in Mr. Farnsworth's report, which is appended.

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL AND SUPERINTENDENT.

To the School Committee of the Town of Brookline :

As principal and superintendent of the High school, I submit the following report for the year closing January 31, 1890 :—

Whole number of pupils during school year ending July, 1888 . .	81
Boys	41
Girls	40
Whole number of pupils during school year ending July, 1889 . .	98
Boys	48
Girls	50
Whole number of pupils during current year to February 1, 1890	115
Boys	44
Girls	71

The average attendance during the current school year to January 24, 1890, remains, as for a long time, at 95 per cent.

Number of pupils enrolled end of first week in September, 1888 . . .	90
“ “ “ “ “ “ “ “ 1889 . . .	96
“ “ “ “ week ending January 25, 1889 . . .	89
“ “ “ “ “ “ “ “ 24, 1890 . . .	103

There graduated in June last a class of thirteen,—five girls, eight boys. Of these, four entered Harvard College and one Williams College. At or near the close of last year eight pupils—seven boys and one girl—took examinations for admission to college; six final and two preliminary.

Five took examinations at the Institute of Technology,—one final and four preliminary. Of these thirteen, all but one were successful; eight passing without conditions, and some with honorable mention.

Of the 115 pupils who have been connected with the school since September last, 107 have studied English; 66, French; 49, Latin; 35, German; 11, Greek. Of the present fourth class, 17 elect Latin; 15, French; 5, German. This class entered 38: from Pierce Grammar 26, Heath 6, Lincoln 1, other schools 5. The number in the classes at present is—First, 8; second, 20; third, 32; fourth, 37; specials, 6; total, 103.

Eighteen pupils, eleven girls and seven boys, are fitting for college; eleven pupils for the Institute of Technology. It thus appears that 28 per cent of the school are fitting for college or the Institute. Two of the college and five of the Institute pupils take their final examinations at the close of present school year.

In this report but four classes are included, as the school year from September to the following July only is taken into consideration. This will account for an apparent falling off from 128 to 115 pupils, when in reality there has been an increase of seventeen in the whole number enrolled over the last complete school year, to which may be added a further increase of sixteen to bring the report down to date, a total gain of thirty-three in a year and a half.

I wish to put on record here, on my own part and in behalf of the members of the High-school battalion, our heartfelt thanks to the town for its generosity in the matter of a drill-shed. Only those who were obliged to submit to the very great inconvenience of drilling in the post-equipped lower hall, can fully realize the pleasure we take in our new and commodious quarters. The battalion now comprises four companies—two each of boys and girls—with eighty-two names on the roll.

The new course of study introduced in September, 1888, is working successfully, offering, as it does, opportunities which compare favorably with those of the very best schools of the same grade. * * * * I wish to express my unqualified approval, from the High-school standpoint, of making Latin an elective in the first class in the grammar school. We thus have five years in that language, and can compete successfully, I feel sure, with the Latin schools in Boston, to an extent that would be impossible with only four years. And the matter of successful competition with these schools is of the utmost importance to the building up of our own. The work of this "Sub-Latin class" should, however, as it seems to me, be done in the grammar school, and there should be four recitations per week. Under these conditions, more pupils would, I think, join the class, more would accordingly be likely to enter the High school, and better results all around would be attained.

Vocal music was introduced into the school in September, 1888. I think it is safe to say that the scholars would unanimously regret its withdrawal. For obvious reasons, it is a branch of instruction rather difficult to manage, and difficulties have been experienced during the past year; but the present outlook is hopeful, and, as time goes on, we expect to make music one of the most attractive features of the course.

At the suggestion and on the authority of the High-school committee, at the beginning of the current school year an invitation was extended to persons not regular members of the school to come in and join classes for which they should prove fitted, with a view to supplementing their education and enlarging the usefulness of the school. Twelve young ladies have availed themselves of this opportunity, English, French, and German being the branches which almost without exception have been chosen. Six of these "specials" are still connected with the school.

The assistant teachers in the school are hard working and faithful, exceptionally so, so far as my experience and observation extend. Their work and that of the scholars during the year has been good in both quality and quantity.

I feel hopeful of the future of the Brookline High school. But its fullest and permanent success is conditioned, in my judgment, in no small degree, upon the proper solution of the question of accommodations. We need a new high-school building, and at once. Measures should be taken without delay, looking towards the erection, as soon as possible, of a building which shall be fully adequate to the purposes to which it will be put, and which shall in every way be worthy of the town of Brookline. It is unnecessary for me to enter into details touching the present structure, either from the æsthetic or the practical point of view. It has for some thirty-four years served the purpose, and served it well, if you please, for which it was erected. But, as a high-school building, it is too small, and not well adapted to the needs of high-school instruction at the present day. A new, more commodious, better arranged, more modern building should be provided at the earliest practicable moment.

I may, perhaps, be permitted to mention, briefly, some of the considerations which have led me to the above opinion. As the statistics show, there has been an increase of 34 pupils in total enrollment in the past two years (the present figures being 115), and of 28 pupils in "highest number enrolled in any one week," the present figures being 107. During the present year 52 pupils have entered the school. If the ratios of the past two years are maintained, we shall have next year a total enrollment approximating 135, and a "largest number present in any one week" of 125. One indication that these ratios will be maintained is the fact that the first class of the Pierce school is considerably larger than was the case one year ago. These figures (135, 125) are estimates for a state of affairs only half a school year ahead. Of still further increase [in the future, especially in view of the rapid growth of Brookline, I will say nothing.

To accommodate these probable 125 pupils, there are 102 seats in the main school-room. Of course we shall be obliged to crowd a larger attendance into one or more of the recitation rooms. The present building is sadly inadequate to the demands even now made upon it in all matters pertaining to instruction in the sciences. Physiology, botany, zoology, physics and chemistry have for their joint accommodation one small overcrowded laboratory 18 x 16. Apparatus, specimens, etc., of all kinds required in the proper study of these sciences must all find an abiding place in this one small room. The amount of work thereby entailed upon an instructor, at best worked to the full extent which ought to be required of any teacher, is not slight, and the interference with the quality and amount of what should and might be done with proper accommodations, is very material and injurious. The condition of affairs not only in the laboratory, but also in the other rooms used, is not at all improved by the presence, necessary no doubt, of the Evening school, for which some better arrangements could certainly be devised in connection with a building of ample dimensions.

There are absolutely no accommodations for drawing, which is now an important feature in the school, a branch pursued by more than seventy pupils. The drawing-classes meet the instructor, now in this room, now in that, carrying their baggage with them, according to the vagaries of the program, the regular teachers of course being compelled to vacate their own rooms and settle where best they may, oftenest in the main room, where two recitations at the same time are thus in progress.

I think there should be a hall in a high-school building for general and public exercises, rehearsals of declamations, singing, etc.

Brookline is increasing rapidly in population, and one of the first inquiries made is touching the schools of the town. In view of the proximity of Boston, and its many excellent schools both public and private, I hardly think our present building can be a very strong incentive to patronizing home institutions. As I have frequently said before, we are, and must be, in competition with Boston schools. To hold our own in this competition, we must, in every respect, building, equipment, kind and amount of work done, compare favorably with such schools as the Latin and English High.

If immediate action should be taken, two or three years would elapse before the school could take possession of a new building, by which time we certainly shall be crowded enough to satisfy any one of its necessity; and with your permission I would suggest the appointment of a committee by the town to consider the question in all its bearings, including probable expense, etc., to report at an early day.

Respectfully submitted,

FREDERIC T. FARNSWORTH,

BROOKLINE, Feb. 1, 1890.

Principal.

REPORT OF THE MILITARY INSTRUCTOR.

I have the honor to submit my fourth annual report for the year 1889-90. The present strength of the battalion is as follows: Boys—two companies, six officers, thirty-three rank and file; girls—two companies, six officers, thirty-seven rank and file; an aggregate of eighty-two.

The principal change in the battalion from last year has been the addition of one company of girls. This new feature,—making the girls' companies really a part of the battalion,—is, in my opinion, a great practical benefit to both girls and boys. I notice an improvement in the deportment of the boys, and a marked change in the carriage of the girls, both in the drill-shed and in the street. The drill-shed is a very decided change for the better, from the hall formerly used for drill purposes, since the companies are now enabled to carry on their work at the same time with little or no inconvenience.

The prize drill, instituted last year, has had a good effect on the battalion; its influence has been very apparent the present year, as all the companies are exerting themselves to make the prize their own. I desire to impress upon you my appreciation of the good judgment and persistent efforts of the company commanders to bring their companies up to the best state of efficiency. The conduct of all the officers in this direction meets my wishes entirely.

The arms are now kept in proper racks in the drill-shed, under lock and key, and are in good order; though some small repairs, the result of natural use, may become necessary during vacation.

I have no recommendation to make, except that in my judgment the battalion should have a national color of its own, for use on all occasions of ceremony. This, I am sure, will tend to inculcate a patriotic spirit, as well among the girls as among the boys.

Respectfully submitted,

CHAS. E. HAPGOOD,
Instructor of Military Drill.

BROOKLINE, February 12, 1890.

Grammar Schools.

The work has been pursued during the past year without any important change, and with the usual results. The introduction of manual training in the William H. Lincoln school, to which reference has been made, has attracted considerable attention in educational circles, and the work has been pursued in the other branches of study there, to conform to the general requirements of all the schools. A short time since arrangements were made so that the girls attending the first and second classes of the Pierce Grammar school might receive instruction in cooking at the Lincoln school. For what has been accomplished in the special work of this department, we refer to the report of the sub-committee on that subject; and, as to the various matters in which the schools of the town are now giving instruction, all needed information will be found in the reports given on Industrial work, the Kindergartens, and the Vacation schools. We append the greater portion of the report of the superintendent of the grammar and primary schools, and those of the special teachers in music and drawing.

ABSTRACT FROM THE REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.

To the School Committee of Brookline:—

I herewith respectfully submit my report for the year ending Jan. 31, 1890.

In this, my eleventh annual report for your consideration, I omit all statistics and other matters requiring extended details, as they appear in tabular form in the report of the board, and confine myself to a simple statement of the condition of the schools, and such suggestions and recommendations as seem to me of vital importance.

The schools as a whole have done good work the past year. Some are in better working condition today than at any previous time within the last ten years. My constant aim has been to make all the schools as profitable for the pupils as the different circumstances attending them would allow. That my efforts have not been attended with equally marked results in all the schools will be apparent upon a close and extended inspection of them.

The question often arises in my mind, What can be done to bring this or that school to the same, or nearly the same, standard of scholarship and intellectual activity which characterizes others of like grade?

Certain conditions are necessary to the greatest success of which any school is capable, and the following are among the most important:— (1) Regularity of attendance, without which the school will suffer as the irregularity increases or diminishes; (2) such discipline as will secure from the pupils a willing compliance with wholesome regulations necessary to quiet, orderly, steady, and thoughtful work; (3) a teacher who fully comprehends and appreciates his many duties, and who has had a thorough preparation for his work, which will include some settled views as to system and methods in teaching the various branches pursued, and last, but not least, an ability to secure and to hold the undivided attention of his class, not only during recitation but in all other school exercises. That you have many teachers possessing the above qualifications gives assurance of the continued high standing already attained by many schools.

EXAMINATIONS AND PROMOTIONS.

A year ago, I recommended certain changes in our methods of tests and promotions in the grammar classes, by which the usual June examinations were to be omitted; but providing that any pupil who expressed dissatisfaction with his classification, and who desired a written examination, might receive one.

We have the assurance of the teachers that the plan proposed was wise, and should be continued, with possibly slight modifications. The advantages of the present plan over our former practice are: (1) It relieves the teachers from the arduous and exhausting labor of examining hundreds of pages written by the pupils in their various studies, and recording results, during the hottest portion of the school year. (2) It prevents worry and that severe strain which examinations made with special reference to promotions often produce upon children of delicate organism and a nervous temperament. (3) It removes the opportunity for the lazy and unfaithful to cram, in order, if possible, to make a fair showing at the final examination, and thereby secure a promotion, when their record for the year's work has been very unsatisfactory. These are obvious results. The usual percentage of pupils was promoted last summer, and the classification is as satisfactory, to say the least, as in past years.

To aid us in the classification, the teachers are required to fill out a blank, stating (1) the whole number belonging to the class; (2) number recommended for promotion, with names of pupils and result of each pupil's work for the year; (3) number and names of those whose promotion is questioned,—the teacher being required to state the particular deficiency of each, with the causes thereof, so far as he is able to do so, and to make such recommendations concerning the same as he may desire; (4) number not recommended, with names.

It will be seen that, in addition to the evidence of qualification obtained by the ordinary examinations during the year, we secure the judgment of the teacher, and thereby the true interest of each and every pupil is considered.

EXAMINATION OF PRIMARY SCHOOLS.

For several years past the sub-committee on primary schools has made personal examinations of those schools in the month of June. This plan has had its advantages. It has afforded an opportunity to examine personally the work of individual schools, and to ascertain the condition of those schools as a whole. But as the schools increase in number and size from year to year, the labor and time necessary to a proper and careful examination of all the classes have correspondingly increased, so that at present it is a severe tax upon the strength and, perhaps, the patience of that committee, requiring, as it does, many days in order to reach and examine every school. I regret to say that I fear our past methods of examining the primary schools, for reasons mentioned, are fast becoming impracticable, and that some other plan for obtaining the necessary information concerning them, not yet quite clear to my own mind, must be substituted therefor.

I have long realized and appreciated the beneficial effect upon the primary schools, which this personal examination has had, and, were it practicable, would like to see it continued; not, however, for the purpose of ascertaining definitely the exact number of questions each pupil can answer correctly, but, that we may gain an insight into the methods used and the character of the work done. It would seem that, by beginning the examinations at an earlier date,—say in April or May,—and extending them over a wider period, and perhaps modifying their character to some extent, we might substantially continue a plan which has proved in the past not only satisfactory, but highly beneficial.

DIPLOMAS.

At the close of the school year in June last, the chairman of the board awarded diplomas to fifty-three graduates of the grammar schools. Of these, forty-three were recommended, unconditionally, by the principals, and ten, conditionally, for the High school.

In awarding diplomas, the committee recognized fidelity to all school duties as entitling the pupil to a certificate of graduation in the sense that he had done his best. This is but simple justice to a conscientious, faithful pupil, notwithstanding he may lack a small percentage in his studies, necessary otherwise to entitle him to a certificate. This plan, if continued, will sometimes save a very worthy pupil from the mortification of being passed by, and serve as an incentive to him to remain in school to the end of the term.

Of the number recommended for promotion, thirty entered the High school: twenty-three from the Pierce; one from the Lincoln; six from the Heath.

READING.

The one branch of study pursued in all the schools, from the lowest to the highest grade, which needs the most careful attention and thought of the teachers, is that of reading. There is no one subject of equal importance, unless possibly it be that of language and composition work, and this is so closely connected with the former that when the reading is poor the language work is very likely to be unsatisfactory also. The real object of reading is to gain information, as on leaving school the two principal sources of obtaining information are by reading and observation, and hence the paramount importance of the subject. Of course, the first two or three years of a child's school life are spent mainly in obtaining a vocabulary of words, so that he can recognize them at sight, as without this acquisition his ability to read will be limited and very uncertain.

In the revision of the course of study more time is allowed for instruction and practice in reading, and we naturally look for improvement as a result.

KINDERGARTENS.

We have two kindergartens, the same number as last year, with ninety-four pupils; an increase for the year of thirteen. A class of nineteen pupils from the Boylston Kindergarten, and twenty-two from the Winthrop, entered the lowest primary classes in their respective buildings in September last. The testimony of the primary teachers as to the value of the kindergarten as a preparation for primary work, is emphatically in favor of such instruction.

In the summer vacation, the only remaining vacant room in the Lincoln school was furnished, and has since been occupied.

We still have grammar classes of the sixth grade in the Winthrop, Parsons and Boylston — a total of one hundred and twelve pupils.

I cannot close this report without bearing testimony to the loyalty, fidelity and efficiency of your teachers; to the marked earnestness and correct deportment of the great majority of the pupils in the schools; and to the aid and counsel extended by the board of school committee to the superintendent in his manifold duties during the past year.

REPORT OF THE INSTRUCTOR OF MUSIC.

To the School Committee of Brookline :

I take pleasure in being able once more to report progress in the study of music in the public schools of Brookline. The work has been pushed with energy on all sides, and, in taking a survey of the whole number of schools, I am struck with the fact that today there is no school building in town where the work is not on better footing than ever before since the schools came under my instruction. This is due, mainly, to two causes: First, increased efficiency on the part of the regular teachers. On this point it may not be out of place for me to state that the "teacher makes the school" in this study as in any other; that it is not so much a question of musical ability as teaching ability. The ground gone over in any single year being comparatively limited, and being the same each year, if the regular teacher is an efficient one the work must improve as each teacher becomes more and more familiar with the matter to be taught in her grade. Second, a new departure was made at the beginning of the schools in September, in that each class of the same grade was assigned precisely the same work. To do this had been my desire for a long time, by gradually raising the backward classes up to the general level of their grade. It became evident at length that an even start must be made sometime, though some schools might not be as well prepared for it as others. A good portion of the summer vacation was spent in laying out the work and preparing the schedules for the various grades, so that at the opening of the schools in September each teacher knew just what and how much her class was expected to accomplish during the year.

As music is now taught in your schools, it is one more step in the development of the child, and, as far as the condition of things will permit, is as much a mental discipline as the study of arithmetic.

It is proposed to hold another musical exhibition before the close of this school year, when both yourselves and the public may judge of the value of the work by what is then shown, rather than by any more elaborate description of it which I might here give.

Respectfully submitted,

SAMUEL W. COLE,

Teacher of Music.

REPORT OF THE DRAWING TEACHER.

To the School Committee of Brookline :

GENTLEMEN,—The subject of industrial drawing is conducted in the schools in the same general systematic course as last year.

The models proved of such value in the Lincoln school, that all the schools are now supplied with them; consequently, each child can study for himself his own object, and thus obtain a far more correct and comprehensive concept of the form than from one model used for the entire school. These models consist of type-forms of common objects, and from them drawings are made showing the facts and appearance.

The scissors recently furnished have facilitated the paper cutting, which thus enables us to do more actual construction work than has before been possible. Experience has shown that it is best to extend the primary-form study over two and one-half years instead of two years; therefore, not introducing book-work until the last half of the third year. Prang's shorter course drawing-books, which were used to a limited degree last year, were introduced into all the schools last September. Drawing-sets, consisting of boards, T squares, and triangles, are now used in the first class of the Pierce Grammar school, for all construction work.

It has been truly said, "drawing is as important in the schools as are tools in a shop;" and I also feel that the most important tool in the shop should be drawing. "The importance of drawing in its application to manual training cannot be overestimated. It is the first step. Without drawing, the use of the tools becomes a mere mechanical imitation, and has little value as an educational factor." Since mechanical drawing has become a part of the regular school curriculum in the three highest grades of the Lincoln school, the boys are enabled to connect very closely the drawing with the shop-work.

The last of October, at the request of some of the teachers, I consented to form a drawing class, that the work might be better understood by the teachers and thus be made easier for them. The lessons are given once a week, and I wish to express my pleasure in finding the teachers so earnest in their work and anxious to improve it, as to attend these meetings week after week. The faithfulness and enthusiasm of the regular teacher has more to do with the results of the drawing than is generally realized, and without this, good work is impossible. I feel confident if this interest continues, the drawing in our schools must improve, in which case much credit will be due to the hearty and kindly co-operation of the teachers.

I believe that the drawing in Brookline schools is progressing, and trust it will so continue, and if we can prove by our work that "drawing develops closeness of observation, accuracy of perception, vividness of imagination, quickness of eye, facility of hand, and care and judgment in expression," the town of Brookline will feel that drawing in the public schools is a subject to be carefully watched, thoughtfully considered and a great factor in the education of the child.

Respectfully submitted,

Teacher of Drawing.

Industrial Education.

In the report for 1889 will be found quite a full statement of the courses of manual instruction, which had at that time been introduced into the William H. Lincoln Grammar school. The work there outlined was continued without change of plan, subjects, or hours, to the close of the year, when an exhibition was held, which was largely attended by Brookline citizens and friends of the school, as well as by many from the adjoining towns, who had been attracted by reports of what the school was doing, or by their interest in the subject. This exhibition of the work of the school was in all respects successful, and seemed to leave no doubts in the minds of the visitors of the educational value of this work, or of the importance of its extension and full development along the lines so successfully followed during the first year. All the courses in free-hand and mechanical drawing, in carpentry, in cooking, and in sewing, have been continued and improved during this year.

The boys of the three upper classes had practically finished the course in carpentry at the end of the last spring term, and at the opening of the school in September last, began a course in wood-carving, with a corresponding course in mechanical drawing, which they will continue till the room for wood-turning and pattern-making in the annex to the William H. Lincoln building can be fitted for use.

Soon after taking possession of the William H. Lincoln building it became apparent that no great development of these industrial courses could there take place, for want of proper space. In this contingency the conclusion was quickly reached that a new building adapted to the extension of this industrial work, and connected with the William H. Lincoln building must be provided. This has been done, and the courses in carpentry, in wood-carving, and in mechanical drawing are already well accommodated on the upper floor of the new annex. There still remains on this floor a room in which it is proposed to place sixteen wood-turning lathes, sixteen benches adapted to pattern-making, a grindstone, one circular saw, and one scroll-saw. It is hoped that this room will be ready for occupancy in the early spring. On the lower floor, as fast as the needs of the school require, it is proposed to provide a foundry, a forging shop, and a machine tool shop. The annex will then contain the facilities for instruction in all the fundamental arts in wood and metal constructions. When all the rooms in the annex are fully equipped it will furnish the best of facilities for teaching a much larger number of pupils than can be accommodated in the William H. Lincoln school, and it is hoped that a manual training school of an advanced grade may be established on the lot adjoining the annex, lately purchased by the town, in order that the educational facilities of the new annex may be fully utilized.

The Vacation School.

The sub-committee on Vacation school makes the following report:—

The Vacation school was opened on July 7th and closed on August 16th,—a term of six weeks, with five days' attendance in each week. It was carried on by a superintendent, and three teachers for sewing, cooking and general instruction. Two rooms in the William H. Lincoln school and one in the Boylston were designated by the school committee and were found entirely satisfactory for the purpose. Eighty-eight names were enrolled on the list of pupils. Of these, twenty-two came but once; the average attendance of the other sixty-six was thirty-five per diem.

In the different departments the attendance varied much. The cooking school opened with thirty-one pupils. The average attendance was seventeen. The work here was satisfactory, as a good deal of cooking was done by the girls at home. One girl cooked sixty-six dishes at home, another forty-nine, another thirty-nine, etc.

In the sewing-room, a good deal was accomplished. Twenty-six girls brought and finished various kinds of mending, which we think particularly valuable work. Three dresses were finished; three hundred and nine buttonholes made. There was a falling off in attendance as soon as the dresses were finished, revealing very plainly the motive of the previous attendance. These dresses were all punctually paid for by the girls who made them.

In the class for general instruction, reading, singing, language lessons, writing, clay-modelling, drawing and sewing were given, and were made very interesting and attractive by the teacher. The children seemed happy and alert, and the attendance was fair.

The work of the superintendent and teachers was satisfactory. The superintendent made a large number of visits, and did everything in her power to keep up the attendance. The teachers were regular in their duties, and the classes were made interesting as well as instructive. Nevertheless, the irregularity of the attendance was so great as to prevent any sufficient result from the means employed. The reasons for this irregularity are easily understood, but not so easily overcome. The older girls, who attend the sewing and cooking classes, are useful at home, and their mothers regard the summer vacation as the time when it is their duty to help them in home affairs, and take no pains to arrange the work so that it can be done before or after school. It is a question whether these girls are not properly kept at home.

The younger children are not useful at home, and are suffered to be in the streets more than they should, but in summer they enjoy the freedom, and it is probably more difficult for their mothers to send them to school then than in winter. For these girls, under twelve years, it is desirable to provide some occupation for the leisure and freedom which neither they nor their parents know how to use wisely, and if the school committee should think best to open the Vacation school another year, we should recommend that it be restricted to them.

Evening School.

The sub-committee on Evening schools reports as follows :—

The school was this year, as it has been for some years past, in the charge of Mr. E. P. Sherburne, who was assisted in the elementary work by Miss Maggie O'Hearn. The whole number of pupils registered in this department was eighty-nine, with an average attendance of thirty-seven. The work has been, as in former years, in arithmetic, book-keeping, reading and spelling, and with the same uniformly good results.

The committee have this term continued the experiment, which was begun a year ago, of attempting work of a grade higher than that of the grammar school. Instruction in French was given to a class of 18 by Miss Fogg; and in chemistry, chiefly in the laboratory, by Mr. S. B. Merrick, with fourteen pupils. In response to requests, a class in advanced penmanship was opened, which speedily became so popular that it became necessary to separate it into two divisions, each numbering twenty-five. They were placed in charge of Mr. P. P. Kelley. Instruction, by Mr. Merrick, in mechanical drawing was furnished to a class of twenty-four—as many as our accommodations would admit. The committee cannot speak in too high terms of the earnestness of the students in the two latter classes, or of the value of the instruction. If no other evening-school work were done, these alone would warrant an appropriation of money by the town, for the training is all in the exact line of the ordinary occupations of the students. The average attendance and the holding out of these classes are all that could be wished. Your committee report, what was said in the last report, that the results of the more advanced work fully justify the experiment, and point clearly to its continuance.

THE PARK COMMISSIONERS.

THE PARK COMMISSIONERS.

ORGANIZATION, 1889-90.

REPORT OF THE PARK COMMISSIONERS.

The park commissioners have the honor to present the following report :—

When, in 1882, the commissioners made their first report to the town they asked for an appropriation of $40,000 with which to purchase the land needed, according to a preliminary plan by the Messrs. Olmsted. The principal portion of this land was acquired during the next four or five years, but, owing to the great increase during the past three years in the valuation of the few lots remaining, it was found that the first appropriation was not sufficient for their purchase, and in February, 1889, a further appropriation of $10,000 was granted by the town, a total of $50,000, with which to buy the land within the limits of the original plan.

During the past year the Messrs. Olmsted have been at work upon a revision of the plan of 1882, and we present with this report a new and enlarged plan, which meets with the approval of both the Boston and Brookline park commissioners. The proposed new boundary line between the city and town runs through the centre of a new stream or waterway, from Chestnut street to St. Mary's street, and is shown in blue, the present line being colored red.

The following letter from the Messrs. Olmsted will explain in detail the changes in the original plan, with their reasons therefor :—

BROOKLINE, MASS., Jan. 28, 1890.

FRANCIS W. LAWRENCE, Esq.,

Chairman of the Brookline Park Commission.

DEAR SIR,—What was named “The Preliminary Plan for the Sanitary Improvement of Muddy River” was first submitted by us eight years ago. The growth of Brookline in population and wealth since then, the rapid advance toward the town of the Back Bay residence district of Boston, the increase and improvement in means of communication between the city and the town, the introduction of electric street railways, the changes made and now proposed to be made in steam-railway arrangements,— these and other developments have suggested an improvement of that plan in various particulars. Accordingly, during the last year, we have studied a thorough revision of it, and have also prepared elaborate working drawings of the revised plan, in order that accurate estimates of the cost may be made, and, if it be the pleasure of the town, the prosecution of the work the sooner begun.

In compliance with your request we shall, in this report, describe the variations from the original plan to be made under this revision, and give some reasons to be laid before the people for thinking them desirable.

We have noticed that the undertaking originally proposed, as we have said, under the title of a "Sanitary Improvement of Muddy River," is often now designated a "Park," and that it is sometimes discussed as if it were to be nothing more than a local park of Brookline of some twenty acres in extent; that is to say, of the extent simply of the territory to be contributed to it by this town. A habit of thinking of it in this way tends to maintain an absurdly low estimate of its probable value to the town. So much of the proposed pleasure-ground simply as will lie directly open to the town, under view from roads and from houses wholly within the town, and of which the townspeople will have every advantage that they could if it were situated wholly within the town, will be of three times the extent of the area which the town is to contribute to it, and the cost of this part to Boston will be more than three times as much as it will be to Brookline. But even this statement presents no suggestion of the extent of the undertaking, or of what Brookline is to gain by it. Both on this account and because the reasons for some of the proposed revisions of the plan of the Brookline part cannot be understood without a better knowledge of the whole scheme than yet seems to be common, we shall, before entering upon a description of them, bring briefly under notice other parts of it.

A comprehensive review of the scheme would begin with Boston Common — a large, simple grove, the beauty of which, from regard to the convenience of a dense population on all sides, is necessarily marred by a great number of conspicuous walks (for short cuts), crossing it in all directions. Next comes the Public Garden — too small for a park, yet, as a local pleasure-ground, serving well for the display of gay flowers, rare trees and interesting shrubs; its interest lying in numerous striking details. Both of these grounds are wholly in the city, and are likely soon to be surrounded by the better class of retail stores, tall apartment houses, club-houses and hotels. They can have no rural quality.

Beyond these stretches out the broad, dignified, urban parkway, Commonwealth Avenue, with its formal, tree-shaded central mall. This extends to the cross street, miscalled West Chester Park, where the parkway turns slightly, and the formal arrangement yields to a gracefully curving drive and walk, embellished by long, irregularly planted, slightly undulating grass-plots, forming a prelude to the more rural ground next to come under review — the Back Bay Fens.

This pleasure-ground has a space of considerable breadth and extent, and in its general aspect is designed to appear a fortunate preservation of a typical bit of New England seashore landscape, including, as it will, a salt creek bordered by salt meadows and low, wooded, gravelly ridges. There will be in it no shaven lawns or pastured meadows; the planted ground above the salt marsh being occupied by trees, underwood and low, creeping, flowering plants in a condition suggestive of natural wildness.

The Fens are overlooked on both sides by tree-shaded drives and walks, which also give access to the adjacent house-lots. The principal drive, in recognition of the distinctive landscape character of the adjoining ground, is called the Fenway. Besides having a wider walk and wheelway than Audubon Road (bounding the Fens on the opposite side), the Fenway includes a soft bridle-path which is to be carried on past Brookline five miles, to the Playstead in Franklin Park. In addition to three side-walks, upon the bordering roads, there is also, in the Back Bay Fens, a broad walk secluded from city sights as far as possible, by trees and shrubbery. This walk is to be continued, with one short interruption, to the south end of Jamaica Pond.

The fenny scenery ends at Fenbridge. From that point to where Tremont Street enters Brookline, the pleasure-ground is necessarily narrower. The type of its scenery will be that of a small, placid stream, with quietly sloping, grassy and reedy banks, planted with such trees and shrubs as are natural under such circumstances in New England. In recognition of the stream and its long-established name, this part of the Parkway has, on the Boston side, been named the Riverway. The local views within it will be enjoyed on the Brookline side chiefly from the broad walk shown in the drawing.

From Tremont Street, southwardly to Jamaica Pond, the waters widen out into pools and ponds, connected by a rapid brook, and, besides the usual slopes, there are here meadows and higher banks, giving the scenery a more varied, secluded, and rural aspect. In this section of the Parkway, the road on the Boston side has been named Jamaica-way, thus, indirectly, by change of name, recognizing the change of landscape character. The public way on the Brookline side is named Brookline Road, the use of the word "road" being appropriate to its rural character.

From Jamaica Pond the Parkway will be continued by curving courses to the Arnold Arboretum and thence to Franklin Park. After passing through Franklin Park, it will be extended in a narrower form to the great iron pier and the connected pleasure-ground, sea-beach, bathing establishment, yacht-harbor and outlook to the ocean, now in preparation by Boston at Dorchester Point.

We trust that it may be better realized from the above account that Brookline is not undertaking to prepare in the Muddy River District an isolated local park of limited extent and value, but, at comparatively small cost, is taking to itself a partnership advantage in a long chain of truly metropolitan pleasure-grounds of extraordinary variety, extent, and interest.

Turning now to that part of the scheme in which a certain portion of Brookline territory is incorporated we shall describe some details of more direct interest to the inhabitants of the town, and explain the main points in which the revised plan of this district differs from the original.

Beacon Street, having been widened to 160 feet between Audubon Circle and Chestnut Hill Avenue, the Boston Park Commissioners have already bought land not included in the original scheme, but needed for a connection between this great thoroughfare and the Muddy River Parkway, near where both come into Brookline territory. The plan they have adopted for connecting the public ways across the railroad will be seen on the drawing.

The drawing also shows the pleasure-ground near Chapel Station so extended as to include all the narrow strip of land in Brookline, south of the railroad, which had originally been left for private occupation. This latter change has been proposed by the designers, because they have felt that they had been originally too much influenced by the consideration that if the cost of the land to be taken was not kept within the narrowest possible limits the scheme would be too heavily weighted to find favor. In the present aspect of affairs it has been evident to them that a less timid view might reasonably be taken.

The enormous increase in land values and the corresponding enlargement of the basis of taxation that has followed the Beacon Street work have demonstrated the wisdom of a more liberal policy than, a few years ago, could prudently have been proposed. We know, also, that a conviction is growing, even with cautious citizens, that the builders of costly dwellings will be eventually driven from a large part of the Back Bay District by the gradual invasion of a lodging-house population and by retail trade, and that the more attractive Brookline can be made for them the greater will be Brookline's profit.

The purchase of the additional land proposed at the point in question will have several important advantages. It will obviate the necessity for the street before planned to follow near the line of the railroad, which would have been of no value as a pleasure-drive, because of its proximity to passing trains; it will permit the doing away with the steep and dangerous grade crossing of the railroad at Chapel Station; it will prevent the erection of the many-storied tenement houses, which experience indicates would probably be built upon the land to be taken (such as those next the railroad at Maitland Street, near by, for instance), and which would disagreeably obtrude upon the proposed pleasure-ground; it will desirably increase by so much the breadth of the pleasure-ground, and thereby add to its landscape beauty at a point of special importance to Brookline, and it will save the cost of construction and maintenance of the roadway and sewer before planned. The Park Commissioners of Boston have already bought the additional land needed for carrying out their part of the proposed improvement of the plan in this quarter, and the railroad has offered to contribute a considerable sum to the park fund if the grade crossing is done away with.

Another change has been proposed in this section by the Directors of the Boston and Albany Railroad, who have prepared a plan for a new station between Chapel and Longwood stations with a new street to afford proper access to it from both directions. This new station is intended to take the place of the two mentioned. Incidentally, the tracks would be moved so as to improve the curve in the railroad. This suggestion, if carried out, would compel changes in the plan for the improvement of Muddy River, and it has been incorporated in the drawing herewith presented, in order that it may have the intelligent consideration of the town. Its advocates claim that it offers numerous advantages, some of which may be stated as follows:—

The two existing stations are unreasonably near each other, being but 1,460 feet apart. School-boys, for amusement, often get out of the forward end of a train as it stops at one station and run to the other station in time to catch the same train. The change would result in saving the time of one extra stoppage to all the thousands of people who will daily ride in the trains beyond this point to and from Boston. This saving would, in the long run, be of great value, and the gain of it would justify a large expenditure. When it is further understood that the change could be made at an outlay for construction which would be much more than compensated by the saving in running expenses, and that it would therefore cost the public nothing, it is thought that the proposition will appear a sensible one. The project involves the doing away with the inconvenient and dangerous access by stairs to both the present stations, and the transfer of trunks and express matter will be thus facilitated. It is intended, if it should be favorably received by the public and acted upon by the authorities, that a handsome, commodious stone station-building shall immediately take the place of the present cramped and mean wooden ones. The advocates of the project argue further that its adoption will hasten the time when the now absent conveniences of a telegraph office, a local express office, a branch post-office, a cab or accommodation-carriage stand, a news-stand, and many other useful arrangements will be provided the people of Longwood. The consolidation of these two stations is much more justifiable now than it ever has been before, because of the great reduction in the number of persons using them, due to the greater convenience of the street railways lately introduced.

The advantages promised by the suggestion to the interests which are especially in charge of the Park Commissioners are: First, that a considerable part of the additional land needed to prevent tall tenements from being erected between the railroad and the pleasure-ground would be purchased by the railroad company, and thus a saving to the town effected both in purchase money and cost of improvement. Second, that the change, involving, as it does, a new street (which the railroad company would grade without expense to the town), will enable the town, whenever it becomes advisable, to build a right-angled bridge to carry Longwood Avenue over the railroad and the Muddy River Valley, in place of the present temporary, wooden, diagonal one. It is axiomatic that such a bridge is much less costly than a diagonal bridge; it is plain, also, that it would be much more agreeable in appearance to those passing under it in the pleasure-ground.

The proximity of the railroad to the walk in that part of the pleasure-ground lying between the railroad and Muddy River, from Audubon Road to the point where the pleasure-ground leaves the railroad (near Aspinwall Avenue), is to be made much less objectionable than, for lack of room, was possible in the original plan, by raising along the railroad a continuous mound, higher than a man's head, so that the railroad will be hidden from people on the pleasure-ground by solid earth, instead of by planting only. The walk is to be fifteen feet wide, and, thus separated from the railroad, will be, with its plantations, lawns and river scenery, a much pleasanter resort than was originally planned. It will be connected with the neighboring streets in Longwood by three bridges over the railroad, and more can be added when necessary. The pleasure-ground on the Boston side is to be connected with that on the Brookline side by two foot-bridges, in addition to the Longwood Avenue and Bellevue Street bridges.

The area to be improved by the Boston Park Commissioners will thus be made as much a part of the town's pleasure-ground as if it lay within the town. Brookline, as a whole, and Longwood, in particular, will in this manner be provided with the equivalent of a local park of rare attractiveness.

In the plan for the widening of Beacon Street, lately carried out, there are two carriage-ways, separated by a strip of ground reserved exclusively for a bridle-path and an electric railway. One of these carriage-ways is much broader than the other, and is designed for general pleasure driving; the other and narrower is intended to serve the purpose of a private approach to the dwellings on the border of the street, which would otherwise be at an inconvenient distance from any public way. The arrangement allows one of these drives to be at a different level from the other, by which means much expense for grading is saved, and the necessary constructions do less violence to the natural topography. The strip of ground provided for the electric railway is kept in turf, and, as provision for carriages to cross from the broad to the narrow drive is only necessary at considerable intervals, a much higher rate of speed upon the railway is practicable than would otherwise be safe.

The changes made in the plan on the Brookline side of the pleasure-ground between Chestnut and Tremont Streets are designed to secure similar advantages. In all this region there is a rapid slope of the natural surface toward the shore of the lake, which is proposed to take the place of the present cat-tail swamp, and the facility of adjusting the required constructions to the varying conditions of this slope offered by the arrangement is of value with reference alike to economy and convenience and to grace of aspect. Special provision has been made, in the plan, for an electric railway from a point on Brookline Avenue, near Aspinwall Avenue, to Chestnut Street, similar to that above described as having been carried out in Beacon Street. The electric railway, upon reaching Chestnut Street, can branch off in either or all of three different directions, namely, (1) along Chestnut Street, which can easily be widened for the purpose, or (2) west of Jamaica Pond, or (3) east of Jamaica Pond, as may later be found expedient.

South of Tremont Street, the pleasure-ground broadens out to a park-like extent. The middle of the swamp is to be made into a pond and the edges filled out to form the drives, rides, walks and slopes of the plan. Points and islands, with their plantations, turfy slopes and gravelly beaches, will diversify the shores. South of the pond on the Boston side there will be a fine meadow and a graceful little hill commanding views of all this part of the valley, which will be directly accessible by a bridge from the Brookline side. Next south of the hill lies Willow Pond, the surface of which, though, as shown on the plan, about the same size as at present, will be at a lower level than it now is and crowded further east by the pleasure-drive.

The pretty little brook, which enters the Parkway at Chestnut Street, and, flowing through Willow Pond, empties into Leverett Pond, will also have to be shifted a little, in places, to make room for the pleasure drive; but it is hoped that it will, when the work is finished and some growth gained, appear as natural and picturesque as it does at present.

As streets and land-drainage are improved above the junction of Chestnut Street, there will, in time, come to be floods which would wash the banks of the brook and destroy the waterside plants. It is intended to guard against this danger by taking the storm-flow of the brook into a stone, underground channel.

The broad, secluded walk on the Brookline side which is to follow up the left bank of the water-way from the corner of Audubon Road and Brookline Avenue, when it reaches the head of Willow Pond, is, for lack of room, carried across the brook and connected with the corresponding walk on the Boston side, returning again a little below Chestnut Street.

The land on the Boston side from Willow Pond to Perkins Street, and lying between the bridle-path and the main walk above referred to, having an area of about eight and one half acres, has been set apart by the Boston Park Commissioners for the Fresh-Water Zoological Garden of the Boston Society of Natural History. When in working order this will be a source of much interest and pleasure to the citizens of Brookline, while the large public use sure to be made of it will give occasion for better means of transportation between the adjoining parts of the town and different parts of the city than could otherwise be hoped for. The locality is at present very attractive, including, as it does, Ward's Pond with its verdure-clad, precipitous banks, a steep wooded hill, several groves, and two meadows, in which are to be formed the various pools needed to exhibit our American water-loving birds, animals and plants with their natural environments.

Owing to the narrowness of the Parkway north of Tremont Street, the pleasure drive of Brookline Road is turned into the wider drive on the Boston side at that point. For this reason, the bridge before intended to serve this purpose north of Tremont Street is replaced by a bridge to extend Aspinwall Avenue across the Parkway.

Another proposed variation from the original plan, entirely on the Boston side, consists in throwing Jamaica-way more to the eastward, soon after leaving Tremont Street, so that it will run upon the high land. This change has been suggested primarily in order not to unduly diminish the width of Leverett Pond, but it has other important advantages. It will save filling, and will gain needed gravel for embankments and other purposes; it will add to the variety and picturesqueness of the landscape about Leverett Pond, for it will secure a bold bank, at one point over forty feet high above the pond, which will form a pleasant contrast to the lower slopes on the Brookline side. It will secure, also, unbroken by roads, a beautiful meadow, partly bordered by fine large trees, which slopes up from Leverett Pond south of the high bank.

The level of the water surface north of Aspinwall Avenue to Audubon Road is proposed to be changed from grade 8 to grade 11, and the level of the water south of Aspinwall Road to and including Leverett Pond from grade 12 to grade 11. The object is to diminish the fluctuations of the water surface by distributing the floods likely to occur after the Town Brook and the brook near Chestnut Street have been improved, over a broader surface, and to conduct them to a safe outlet by a wider channel. As the banks of the river, in many places, could not, for lack of room, be thrown further apart, additional capacity is obtained by thus raising the water level upon them. It would be better to keep the water level higher than the tide ever rises; but, for economy of filling, and to save some fine trees, which would otherwise be killed, the normal water level has been fixed, as above stated, at grade 11, which is one foot above mean high water.

The latest plans for enlarging the Town Brook Channel contemplate making a discharge into Leverett Pond, instead of into Muddy River below Bellevue Street, as at present. This change will call for larger and more costly culverts or bridges at Tremont Street, Aspinwall Avenue, Brookline Avenue and Bellevue Street, than were contemplated when the original plan was made, and will accordingly contribute to swell the estimates.

The drawing shows the proposed revision of the town boundary to make it accord with the new lines of the water-course. A bill has been presented to the General Court to effect the necessary alteration of the boundary line above St. Mary's Street. The change of boundary will oblige the town to buy some little land in addition to that already secured.

For residents of Brookline, the revised plan provides opportunities for a turn into the Parkway, with carriages or saddle horses, at Audubon Road, at Longwood Avenue, at Bellevue Street, at Brookline Avenue, at Aspinwall Avenue, at Tremont and Washington Streets, at Morss Avenue (extended), at a point near Allerton Street, at Cumberland Avenue, at Highland Road, at Jamaica Road, at a point between the last two, and at Chestnut Street.

Since the above report was written, both branches of the City Council of Boston have passed an order placing six hundred thousand dollars ($600,000) at the disposal of the Boston Park Commissioners for the purchase of the land not already secured which is needed to carry out the city's part of the parkway scheme, and the Commissioners have passed upon a plan of operations to be pursued the coming summer, which includes the prosecution of that part of the scheme that lies between the already nearly completed work on the Fens and the Brookline boundary.

Yours respectfully,

F. L. OLNSTED & Co.

If these suggestions of the Messrs. Olmsted are carried out it will be readily seen that the first step must be the change in the town line. This can only be accomplished by an act of the Legislature, and at the town meeting of Dec. 18, 1889, the selectmen and park commissioners were appointed a committee to petition the General Court for such an act. This petition was drawn up and filed early in February, and a hearing given by the committee on cities, to whom the petition was referred. This hearing was adjourned subject to the call of the chairman, in order that the counsel for the town might prepare an act which should be satisfactory to all parties interested, and which should contain a detailed description of the proposed boundary line from surveys by Alexis H. French, C. E.

When the report of the engineer, which included the areas of the land to be exchanged between the city and the town, was finished, it was found that the cost which would be incurred by the town was very much larger than was expected, and in view of the fact that when the town authorized the petition for the change, the matter of cost was not taken into account, the joint committee have thought it best that the following facts should be reported to the town for their consideration, before any farther steps are taken toward the change in the town line.

By the proposed plan, an exchange of land between the city and the town will have to be made, by which the town will receive from the city 327,740 square feet of land, and will give to the city 273,077 square feet — a difference in favor of the town of 54,663 square feet. If both city and town had acquired all this land, the exchange might be negotiated at a comparatively small cost, but of the 327,740 feet which we get from Boston, 164,989 feet, including quite a large portion of the Downer-street district, have not been acquired by the city, and this land we shall have to purchase.

The assessed valuation of this property is about $20,000, but it is impossible for us to say, at the present time, what we should have to pay for it. We should have to take it under the park act, and from the best evidence which we can obtain as to its value, we should say that an appropriation of $30,000 would be required for this purpose.

Certain changes in the border lines of the parkway have also been made in the Brookline avenue district, in order to get additional room for the driveways and waterways, which will necessitate the purchase of portions of several lots in that vicinity at a total cost of about $1,100.

We agree with the opinion expressed by the Messrs. Olmsted, that it is very desirable that the land opposite Chapel station should be included in the park scheme. This land, with buildings, is assessed for $27,300, and can probably be bought for $30,000.

The Taylor marsh, so called, containing 33,855 square feet, which we bought at a tax sale in 1887, and have heretofore reported as the property of the town, was redeemed by the persons holding the mortgage upon it, two or three days only before the expiration of the period of redemption, and we shall now be obliged to pay for that property at least the assessed valuation, which is $5,000.

To recapitulate:—To carry out the new plan, the town will have to appropriate —

For land now in Boston to be bought by Brookline	$30,000 00
For Brookline avenue land	1,100 00
	<hr/>	$31,100 00
For Chapel Station land		30,000 00
For the Taylor lot		5,000 00
		$66,100 00

We have had careful estimates prepared by Mr. French, of the cost of the construction of the park, which are herewith submitted for the consideration of the town.

MR. F. W. LAWRENCE,

Chairman of the Brookline Park Commission:

DEAR SIR,—I present herewith my estimates of the cost of construction of the parkway from Chestnut street to St. Mary's street, these points being the limits of the parkway in Brookline. The width covered by these estimates is that included between the Brookline border of the parkway (including the improvement of Pond avenue) and the proposed division line between Brookline and Boston.

The details of the work covered by the estimates are shown in a general way on the plan of Messrs. F. L. Olmsted & Co., accompanying this report. The estimates do not include, however, the cost of the proposed changes in Longwood avenue (including a new bridge), where it crosses the parkway, as before estimates can be made a plan will first have to be devised that will meet the approval of the town, the city of Boston, the Boston & Albany Railroad Co., and the Norfolk county commissioners, which has not been done. Moreover, it is a matter that would properly be considered as part of the highway system rather than of the park system.

The estimates do not cover the cost of the two foot-bridges over the Boston & Albany railroad near Carlton street, as one is connected with a proposed street that may not be built. In the other case, if the foot-bridge is built, the item of contingencies will cover it.

The estimates do not provide for the proposed brook channel for the diversion of water from the stream along the Boston & Albany railroad to the proposed Leverett pond, as this is a matter in which the town will have a larger interest than that of merely providing water for the proposed pond, from the fact that the present channels below Washington street will ultimately become too small to take all the water that will flow from the water-shed during floods, so that the principal part of the cost of this work would not be chargeable to the park system.

For convenience, the estimates of cost are divided into three sections, viz.: Section from Chestnut street to Tremont street; section from Tremont street to Brookline avenue; and section from Brookline avenue to St. Mary's street.

Respectfully submitted,

ALEXIS H. FRENCH, Civil Engineer.

December 9, 1889.

We believe that it is important that the work of construction should be carried on with sufficient rapidity, when once begun, to insure its completion within two years; first, in order that the work may be done in the most economical manner possible; and second, that we may be able to include the whole cost of construction in the assessment of betterments, which must be laid within two years from the formal laying out. It is indispensable that Boston should co-operate with us in certain parts of this work, especially in building the culverts and in the excavation of the new waterways, but the rough work can be commenced independently of the city.

For construction we recommend an appropriation of $100,000. We also ask for the usual appropriation of $1,000 for contingencies, or “Muddy river improvement.” The condition of the “Public park loan,” and our expenditures of the past year, will be found in the report of the town treasurer.

At the town meeting of Feb. 20, 1889, the following vote was passed :—

“ Voted, That the park commissioners be instructed to report at the next annual meeting, or at a meeting to be held previous thereto, the following facts, viz. : The names of all persons from whom land has been bought or taken, or from whom they propose to buy or take land, for the Muddy river or Riverdale Park, according to the plan reported by the commissioners in their report to the town, Feb. 1, 1882; the area in square feet of the several parcels of said land; the price or consideration given or to be given therefor, whether subject or not subject to betterment to other lands of such owners; also, to report the same fact, as nearly as may be, in relation to any other lands which said commissioners propose to or are recommended to buy or take for the purpose of adding to said park, either in widening or extending the same.”

The information called for by this vote is given, as far as it is practicable to do so, in the accompanying tables.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANCIS W. LAWRENCE,

CHARLES S. SARGENT,

HENRY M. WHITNEY,

Park Commissioners.

THIRTY-THIRD ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The thirty-third annual report of the trustees, together with the report of the treasurer of the board and the report of the librarian, are herewith submitted.

The report of the treasurer shows that, in the main, the investments of the Gardner fund and those of the Hall fund are in an entirely satisfactory condition. The only exception is a decline in value of several bonds connected with the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fé system. Should the reorganization fulfil the expectations of its managers, the income, in a new form, will still accrue to the library funds. It is gratifying to the trustees to be able to state that, in any event, the principal sum of the two funds has been so carefully handled that it represents today an amount in excess of the original gifts. A list of works purchased during the year from the income of the two funds is furnished by the librarian.

The report of the librarian shows the following facts: That the number of volumes added during the year by gifts and purchase is 1,204. The total number of volumes now in the library is 34,960. The average daily circulation has been, for home use, 166; for library and home use, 188. The total circulation has been 56,912 volumes.

The multiplication of public libraries has brought forth many new ideas in regard to the arrangement and classification of books. Several new systems have been devised, each having its friends and supporters. No one of these systems would seem to have given unqualified satisfaction to librarians, although many excellent improvements on old usages have unquestionably been made.

The adoption of some improved system for this library has, during the past year, occupied the serious consideration of the trustees. Although fully impressed with the importance of being abreast with library science of today, the change of arrangement in a large library involves so much labor and expense that the trustees have deemed it wise not to move hastily. They have thought it best to carefully study the systems employed in other public libraries, and to gather the experiences of various librarians, hoping to be able eventually to decide upon some method which shall, as nearly as possible, combine the best points of all.

In the meantime, the old plan upon which the library has been worked for so many years, has been adapted, as well as may be, to the increased number of alcoves. It is hoped that the service may be continued in a satisfactory manner during such time as changes in the library system may be in progress.

In their thirty-first annual report, the trustees, in referring to the resignation of their treasurer, Mr. Charles D. Head, took occasion to express their high appreciation of his long and faithful service. The last library year has been saddened by his death. Although he had reached a ripe age, he was always so young in heart and sympathies that his end seems untimely to his fellow-trustees. A conspicuous figure has disappeared from the board, who will long be missed. At a special meeting of the trustees, the following resolutions were adopted and ordered spread upon the library records:—

“The trustees of the Brookline Public Library desire to express their sense of the loss sustained by the library and the town in the death of Charles Dudley Head.

“From the establishment of the library he was its earnest supporter, for nearly twenty-four years a member of the board of trustees, and for more than twenty years their treasurer. In the latter office he rendered services of great value to the town. He was a faithful and efficient member of the board and one whose opinions and judgment they highly esteemed.

“The trustees thus briefly record their estimate of Mr. Head's long and valuable work and their sense of the loss to the town by its cessation.”

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN.

BROOKLINE, Feb. 1, 1890.

To the Trustees of the Brookline Public Library: —

GENTLEMEN,—The librarian's report for the library year 1889-90 is herewith most respectfully submitted, making my eighteenth in that capacity, and giving the important points of the year's work and my deductions therefrom.

Neither the condition nor the usefulness of the library has been greatly impaired by the changes of the year, although the books have been used under the triple disadvantage of changed location, continuance of old shelf-numbers, and greater distance from the desk.

Condition of the Library.

With the yearly accessions the library now numbers 34,960 volumes, with no greater detefioration than the usual wear and tear brings to pass.

There is no question but that greater care on the part of the public would insure better preserved and more cleanly books, but it is difficult to impress this fact upon the community with sufficient emphasis to secure proper attention to the subject, either at home or in the library.

The catalogues which are placed outside for the convenience of the public have been so seriously maltreated that the subject calls for special complaint and immediate measures for prevention.

These volumes, especially the manuscript finding-lists and interleaved catalogues, which have been prepared at much expense of time and labor, have been subjected not only to careless usage, but to deliberate abuse, the favorite pastime of certain young persons seeming to be the destruction and defacement of these catalogues and bulletins. Great pains have always been taken to keep these catalogues presentable, but the present lawlessness nullifies the effect of all labor in that direction.

Of the condition of the library building and furnishings nothing need be reported, since everything has recently undergone such thorough repairs and freshening up, that things speak for themselves. Judging from opinions freely and often expressed, the recent improvements in the building give great satisfaction to the public, and certainly add to the attractiveness of the place.

Accessions.

The average growth in books has been maintained, with the usual relative proportion of gifts and purchases. The number of additions is not large, but it represents the cream of the new books of the year, in purchase, and many old books, both useful and valuable, in the way of gifts.

The book statistics are as follows : — 727 volumes bought, 328 volumes given, and 149 volumes of bound magazines ; making 1,204 volumes, all told. As usual, a large share of the more valuable and useful books will be found specially credited to the Gardner and Hall funds (Appendixes B and C), and they also appear in the general list of additions for the year.

Generous contributions have come from various sources, near and far, many of them evincing the public spirit and home interest of our townspeople, both ladies and gentlemen. Among the former may be named, Mrs. E. S. Philbrick, Mrs. J. R. Coolidge, Mrs. J. W. Candler, Miss S. B. R. Clark, Mrs. J. M. Codman, Miss E. Chase, and Mrs. A. C. Wheelwright; — among the latter we find the names of Hon. John W. Candler, Col. Geo. N. Carpenter, Hon. Robert C. Winthrop, Messrs. F. W. Hobbs, M. C. Hobbs, F. Hunnewell, and Messrs. Baker, Candage, FitzGerald and Soule of the board of trustees.

Outside the town, we are indebted to Rev. Frederic H. Hedge, D.D., Rev. C. D. Bradlee, Messrs. H. O. Hildreth, Arthur Mason Knapp, and many others; also, to the various departments of the United States government and of the commonwealth; and to numerous home and foreign libraries, the latter including the Tokio library in Japan.

Statistics of gifts, other than books, are as follows: — 620 pamphlets, 316 miscellaneous magazines, 15 maps and plans, and 5 manuscripts.

Circulation.

In no year of the library's history has there been as large a circulation as in that just closed, and in our estimate of this increase it must be borne in mind that it has been reached not only in a short year of 303 days (against the average 307 days), but in account with only 3,548 registered borrowers, of whom it is safe to say that not over two-thirds use their cards regularly, so that practically our annual circulation is in the hands of less than 2,400 people.

With a population of about 10,000 this, at first sight, seems a somewhat low percentage of book-borrowers, but when we consider how many fine private libraries are to be found in Brookline homes, and what a considerable number of residents are both proprietors and constant users of the Boston Athenæum library, and furthermore, that a comparatively small proportion of inhabitants are solely dependent upon our library for either recreation or intellectual culture, these facts and figures fall at once into harmony.

The demand for our books has been steadily increasing throughout the year, and when we remember that it has been met under adverse circumstances, I think we may be pardoned for a sense of gratification that so good a record has been shown.

As previously stated, the library year consisted of 303 days, during which time 49,497 books were charged at the desk and 911 on the trustees' account, making a total of 50,408 volumes for home use. As a part of our reference library is now in the reading room for free consultation, we have no means of knowing accurately the full use of books in the building, but as far as registered, we have given out 6,504 volumes, which, added to the home account, gives a grand total of 56,912.

The averages from these figures are 166 volumes per day for home use, and 188 on the total circulation. The busiest day of the year is recorded on Feb. 23, 1889, when 319 books were given out; and the week ending Feb. 1, 1890, although encroaching one day upon the new library year, shows the best record for over ten years,—viz., 1336 volumes.

The following tabular statement of the classified circulation, as recorded at the desk, affords an insight into the quality and quantity of the reading matter used in the town, and possibly some food for reflection.

Of features not quite as pleasant, I have to report two books as not having been returned to the library, one of which is irrevocably lost ; the other will be made good to the library if not found and returned within a reasonable time. Neither book was of special money value.

Marked and mutilated books have been less numerous than heretofore, and, for the most part, the fines have been paid promptly, amounting to $7 for the year.

A larger number of notices and a corresponding increase in fines is also registered, $159.41 having been collected on 3,819 notices.

Library Work — Regular and Special.

The work connected with the year's circulation of nearly 57,000 volumes may be summed up as follows: Each book passes over the desk twice, and therefore is equivalent to the handling of 114,000 volumes. Every book of the 57,000 has been carefully examined on its return, and all needful repairs made before being replaced upon the shelves.

Each day's home-slips have been regularly arranged and counted, a daily record of circulation by classes has been made, and a monthly report of the same prepared for the regular meetings of the trustees. Hall-slips have also been carefully counted and filed. Notices have been sent to every dilatory borrower, and a cash account of fines kept.

The card register has been increased by 540 new names, all properly distributed in their alphabetical order. All lost cards have been carefully recorded, and new ones are constantly being made out to supply the places of those filled up or worn out.

Separate book accounts are also kept with the teachers of our public schools as part of the desk work, while the trustees' account is registered in the librarian's room.

Outside of what is properly called desk work, two interleaved supplements have been kept posted, one each by Miss Woods and Miss Starkweather. Three new school finding-lists have been copied and posted to date, two of them being the work of Miss Woods, and the third partially copied by Miss Marston. During the year 8,106 books have been covered and labelled, mostly done by Miss Starkweather, and 382 books have been sent to the bookbinder, all preparatory work including schedules (in duplicate) being done by Miss Woods.

Miss Marston has examined the largest part of the 57,000 volumes, has mended all torn leaves and fastened loose ones, has had charge of the reading-room periodicals, cutting, stamping, and placing in covers all the magazines and reviews, besides serving at the desk at stated hours, as do the other assistants.

Added to these regularly assigned duties, each one has contributed no small share in hunting up and supplying material on the special questions and topics which are daily being brought to the library for solution or information.

Such a record requires diligent and conscientious work for its successful accomplishment, and it gives me pleasure to report that neither quality has been lacking in the year's work, so far as this department is concerned.

At the writing of the last report, repairs and alterations were still in progress, and several months elapsed before the work was completed and the building left free to be set in order. During the spring and early summer this task was thoroughly performed, from attic to cellar.

The next important move was to relieve the crowded shelves in the old book-hall by removing a portion of the books into the new addition, and spreading out the remainder on the old shelves.

Without any pretence at re-classification, re-arrangement, or re-numbering, this work was quietly accomplished between July 15 and August 22, over 23,000 volumes having been moved to their temporary quarters, where they will remain until the final decision is reached in relation to the most desirable system of arrangement.

At the time of moving the books, each alcove, as soon as located anew, was carefully examined by shelf-list. Comparatively few books were missing, and these have since been mainly accounted for.

All this work I superintended personally, and did much of it with my own hands, for the sake of having the work completed during the summer vacation and before the busy season came upon us, believing such a course would best serve the interests of the library and the public.

The customary work on the accession catalogue, shelf-lists, card catalogue, interleaved catalogues, monthly bulletins, manuscript fiction-lists, and preparation of periodicals for binding has all been accomplished between daily calls upon my time and attention in the direction of personal assistance to all who seek or need it. I have cheerfully rendered all such service, only too glad of the opportunity to prove the extent and excellence of our library and to place its books more effectively at the disposal of the public.

Much of this service has met with pleasant recognition, especially from the ladies of the Tuesday, and Friday clubs, and I can but feel that whatever shortcomings my other work may have shown, ample compensation is found in the success of this special feature.

This report is far more in detail than usual, but is given in the belief that it may be of interest to such as do not fully know the extent of our library work, as well as to those who have followed it from year to year.

MARY A. BEAN,
Librarian.

REPORT OF TRUSTEES OF WALNUT HILLS CEMETERY.

The trustees of Walnut Hills Cemetery respectfully submit the following report for the year ending January 31, 1890.

The grounds have been well kept and cared for, and are in good order.

Pierce avenue has been extended and made for a further distance of one hundred and seventy-five feet, and Walnut Hills and Mount Walley avenues have been repaired and re-surfaced with gravel.

Fifteen lots have been graded and finished, and four lots trenched and graded. Nine lots and twelve single-grave lots have been sold.

The following is a statement of the work for the year:—

Number of interments	36
“ “ “ in single graves	26
“ “ “ in private lots	10
Placed in the receiving tomb	4
Whole number of lots trenched and graded	234
“ “ “ sold	164
“ “ grave lots trenched and graded	152
“ “ “ “ sold	112
Total interments	425

The financial account of this work is as follows:—

We still find that the income from the Perpetual Care Fund is inadequate for the work necessary to be done in the care of the grass on the lots, in consequence of the reduction in the rate of interest since the fund was established.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON PLANTING TREES.

The work done during the past year has been similar to that which was done the previous season, viz. : the planting of trees, their pruning and protection by tree-guards. The supplementary work of planting 121 trees, mentioned in last year's report, has been carried out.

The planting of 110 new trees has been contracted for, to be placed as follows :— On Center street, 25 ; Summit avenue, 11 ; High street, 9 ; Englewood avenue, 5 ; Jamaica road, 45 ; the remaining 15 to be used for extras as needed. Planting-holes have been duly prepared for them.

From the regular appropriation of $2,000 has been expended $993.34, leaving in the treasury an unexpended balance of $1,006.66. For full financial statement see report of town treasurer.

Only a portion of the roadside trees on Beacon street have passed into the hands of the committee, the original contract being still unfulfilled. The question of tree-guards and tree protection generally is the most difficult problem to deal with successfully, and your committee are of the opinion that tree-guards may be largely dispensed with after the trees are once well established, relying upon careful oversight to prevent injury by horses or otherwise. In certain cases a screen of wire-netting has been used advantageously, where the trees were much exposed, and where they could wear the wire without chafing.

The power to cut down roadside trees that are injuring others, or are in bad condition, might well be left to the committee, subject, if the town sees fit, to the approval of the selectmen ; and your committee recommend that legislation be sought to effect this purpose. This power to cut down such trees as good judgment allows will best serve the town's interest, can be used most beneficially, a careful consideration being given to the rights and preferences of immediate abutters, who are presumably most interested in removals of this nature. That some such authority should be directly delegated to the town's officers seems clear, as several striking cases of necessity have already turned up; yet there seems to be no ready way to act in the premises.

Your committee recommend the usual appropriation for the ensuing year.

WILLIAM STEARNS,
EDWARD W. E. TOMPSON,
JAMES H. BOWDITCH,

Committee on Planting Trees.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FREE WARM BATHS.

The committee, to whom was referred the subject of free warm baths, have attended to their duty and beg leave to submit the following report : —

They find on investigation of the subject that it is much more comprehensive than at first they were led to believe ; that while in every city and many large towns in the country warm baths are supplied to the public at a price for their use, they fail to find (though such may exist) warm baths supported wholly by the city or town, though such baths are often found in England and on the Continent, and considerable attention and money has been expended on them in the older countries.

In England these institutions are scattered over the entire country, supported in whole or in part by the government. In the years 1884 and 1887, acts of Parliament were passed, allowing the different boroughs or town governments to build and maintain warm baths, by themselves or in connection with public wash-houses, and authorizing taxation for the support of the same. Such establishments have been built in various cities and towns, costing in some cases as much as £20,000 ($100,000).

In France, in 1885, the government of Paris voted for that purpose the sum of 600,000 francs ($120,000).

The committee find that in Philadelphia there are large swimming-tanks, about ninety feet long and thirty-five feet wide, where young and old are instructed in the art of swimming. They are conducted by private enterprise, and are highly remunerative to their projectors. Here, for the cost of about twelve cents for each lesson, the public can learn to swim and at the same time enjoy an invigorating bath.

Now that the city of Boston has established at the West End, on the southerly bank of the Charles river, a public gymnasium, and has in the hands of a committee the subject of warm baths, it behooves the public spirit of Brookline (which always keeps pace with the times) to give this subject a careful consideration.

A public warm bath and swimming-tank can be erected on land belonging to the town on Tappan street, on the northerly side of the playground, at an expense regulated only by the cost of the building, which would be from $5,000 to $10,000; and we believe it would, at a nominal charge, be made almost, if not wholly, self-sustaining.

The committee would recommend that some such plant be erected, and that the present cold-water bath-house of the town be abolished on the completion of this proposed bath-house.

While furnishing a healthful exercise, the knowledge of swimming would be a valuable acquisition to the old and the young, and might be the means of saving and protecting valuable life.

The committee would recommend that the sum of ten thousand dollars be appropriated for the erection and completion of said bath-house and swimming-tank, with such number of baths as may be determined upon, and that a nominal charge be made for the use of same.

ROBERT BISHOP,

For the Committee.

April 24, 1889.	In anticipation of Taxes	200,000 00
July 8, 1889.	Extension of Water Works	18,000 00
Total		$298,000 00

There was borrowed $220,000, as hereinafter detailed.

Beacon Street Widening $70,000 00

At the special meeting, Nov. 8, 1888, it was — Voted, That the town treasurer be and he hereby is authorized to borrow, when so directed by the selectmen, the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, paying therefor a rate of interest not exceeding four per cent per annum, for such a time not exceeding ten years, as may seem to the said treasurer and selectmen to be for the best interests of the town, giving therefor the note or notes of the town, signed by the treasurer and countersigned by a majority at least of the selectmen; the said sum to be applied toward the payment of land and grade damages and construction of Beacon street as altered and widened by the selectmen March 21, 1887. Such indebtedness shall be made payable in such annual proportional payments as will extinguish the same within ten years from the date of the delivery of said notes.

The action taken under this vote during the fiscal year in which it was passed, which ended Jan. 31, 1889, appeared on page 315 of the last annual report, as follows:—

Under the vote of November 8, the Boston Manufacturers Mutual Fire Insurance Company, Dec. 5, 1888, agreed to loan the entire amount authorized, on notes of \$10,000 each, dated Jan. 1, 1889, bearing 4 per cent per annum interest, the money to be taken as needed by the treasurer (in amounts of not less than \$10,000 at any one time), prior to July 1, 1889, interest to commence to accrue only from the date of each receipt,—the rate of premium above par to be paid by the insurance company, and adjusted upon the receipt of the last instalment, to be such as will make the net rate of interest per annum, payable by the town, $3\frac{3}{4}$ per cent.

The notes issued to date under this arrangement are three, viz.:—

$10,000 due Jan. 1, 1890.	Interest 4 per cent per annum, semi-annually.
10,000 " " 1, 1891.	" 4 " " "
10,000 " " 1, 1892.	" 4 " " "

The money for these was received Jan. 22, 1889. Feb. 19, 1889, $20,000 more was taken, and the balance, $50,000, was received April 13, 1889.

In consideration of the town waiving its right under the terms of the agreement to wait until July 1, 1889, before taking the $50,000 above mentioned, a concession of interest for the unexpired time, of 1% per annum, was made by the insurance company—a saving to the town of $108.33. The premium realized on this loan was $1,145.00.

The notes were issued as follows:—

$10,000 due January 1, 1893,	Interest, 4% per annum, semi-annually.
10,000 " " 1, 1894,	" " " " "
10,000 " " 1, 1895,	" " " " "
10,000 " " 1, 1896,	" " " " "
10,000 " " 1, 1897,	" " " " "
10,000 " " 1, 1898,	" " " " "
10,000 " " 1, 1899,	" " " " "

This, with the previous loans effected, makes the total amount borrowed to date, for the Beacon street widening, $400,000.

Riverdale Park $10,000 00

At the special meeting, February 20, 1889, it was—

Voted, That the treasurer be, and he is hereby authorized to borrow, under the direction of the Selectmen, the sum of ten thousand dollars, at a rate of interest not exceeding four per cent, the bonds or certificates of indebtedness to be denominated upon their face, "The Public Park Loan," maturing in three years from March 18th, 1889, and to be issued from time to time as the park commissioners may require them; and the park commissioners are authorized to expend the said sum for the taking in fee, by purchase or otherwise, lands within the limits of the town of Brookline, for the purpose of a public park or parks, included within the lines of the original plan of Messrs. F. L. & J. C. Olmsted for the Riverdale or Muddy River Park.

Nothing has been borrowed under this vote; $629.73 only has been expended, and this was paid from the general balance in the treasury.

In anticipation of Taxes $200,000 00

At the adjourned annual meeting, April 24, 1889, it was—

Voted, That the town treasurer be authorized to borrow, in anticipation of taxes for the present year, such sums of money as may be needed from time to time, not exceeding altogether two hundred thousand dollars, paying therefor the current market rate of interest, giving the note or notes of the town therefor, signed by the treasurer and countersigned by at least a majority of the selectmen, and to be paid from the taxes to be raised this year.

May 29, 1889, there was borrowed of the Potter Lovell Co., Boston, at 24% per annum discount, principal payable Oct. 15, 1889, $150,000. The cost of the loan was $1,275.

Extension of Water Works $18,000 00

At the special meeting July 8, it was—Voted, That the town treasurer be authorized to borrow, when so directed by the selectmen, to pay for the extension of the water works, under the provisions of chapter 343 of the Acts of 1872 and chapter 131 of the Acts of 1888, the sum of eighteen thousand dollars, paying therefor a rate of interest not exceeding four per cent per annum, payable semi annually, and giving therefor the notes or scrip of the town to be denominated on their face "Brookline Water Scrip," signed by the treasurer and countersigned by a majority at least of the selectmen. Such indebtedness shall be payable in such annual proportional payments as will extinguish the same in thirty years.

Nothing has been borrowed under this vote; the expenditures aggregate $6,236.87, and have been paid from the general balance in the treasury.

REPORT OF THE ASSESSORS.

The assessors of Brookline respectfully submit their annual report for the year 1889.

They missed the presence and ripe judgment of Mr. William Lincoln, who, for so many years, rendered valuable service to the town as chairman of the board. They also regret to report that Mr. J. Anson Guild, by reason of prolonged illness, has not met with the board during the year, to bring his experience and ability to its councils for which his many years service in the employ of the town had so well fitted him.

The duties of the office have been performed, and the responsibilities have been assumed by the other two members, aided for a few months by Mr. Albert Cushman, whose services as clerk were of great value to the board and are here very justly acknowledged.

In view of the ever-increasing duties of the assessors, we recommend that a clerk be employed by the board in future, and that an appropriation be made at the annual meeting of the town for his salary.

After due notice to the inhabitants, as in former years, by printed notices posted in public places, and by notice printed in the Brookline Chronicle, the assessors visited all residences in the town; made inquiries for polls, male and female, left legal notices to tax-payers, and took note of changes and values of real estate.

They found many new houses, some in process of erection, and others projected; that transfers and sales of real estate had been active, and at prices considerably in advance of the previous year. Particularly was this the case along the line and in the vicinity of Beacon street; but on the other hand, personal property had shrunk about ten per cent.

The amount raised by assessment is largely in excess of any previous year, consequently the rate had to be increased to $12 per thousand.

Should the appropriations for the coming year be reasonably economical, the rate may be somewhat reduced, but with increased appropriations higher rates may be expected, which, if realized, would tend to check the growth of the town in the direction most desired.

Herewith is presented the condensed statement of taxation for the year 1889, together with a table of aggregates of debt, expenditures, valuation and rate from Feb. 1, 1847, to the present time.
